"YOU, ROLL OVER,"

OR, BAN JONES, SR. "Well, boys," said Ben Briggs, one cold winter evening, as he with three or four other persons, including myself, were sitting around the snug little, old fashioned stove, in Dr. Baldwin's store, "shall I tell you of the joke that Sam Jones, Jr., played off on his father, when they resided in Central New York.

We all of one accord pressed him to tell

"Well, (well was a favorite word with Ben) you know the old man. (we did'nt know him) was one of the laziest mortals that ever trod shoe leather, and he was always about, "half seas over," as they call it when a fellow is a little tight. But the way he snored when asleep was a caution to peace-makers. Soon after dark he would go to bed, lie on his back and snore loud enough to wake the seven sleepers. In the course of two or three hours his better half would also retire, and her first move when once in bed would be to stop the old gentelman's noise, which she easily did by simply uttering three magical words, viz: "You roll over." (Mrs. Jones always addressed her husband by name as You.) He would then roll over unconsciously, and sleep the remainder of the night quietly. "Well young Sam and myself were young lads then, and full of the old Nick; in fact, young Sam was a chip of the old block. Well, as I was saying, the old gentleman took it into his head one day to go a hunting and he invited his son and myself to accompany him, which invitation we gladly accepted. Having provided everything for the hunt, not forgetting a jug of the needful, which the old man insisted was his share of the baggage, and to which we gladly assented, we soon started off, and after a wearisome tramp, we arrived about noon at a little clearing, where stood a log house the residence of Mrs. Polly Craw, a carpet-weaver-(she was familiary called Craw.) Entering the house we soon made known our wants, and she seen set about getting some dinuer. While this was in preparation, old Sam. being much fatigued with his framp, lay down on the floor, and straightway fell asleep and commenced snoring lustily. Mother Craw found it necessary to go down in the cellar after some pork for dinner, and the only way into the cellar was trough a trap door in the kitchen floor, and very near where the old gentleman was lying asleep. At this time I knew nothing of the method Mrs. Jones took to stop her husband's snoring, but I soon learned. His son Sam soon whispered to me to say "you, roll over," and of course I said "you, roll over;" the words were scarcely out of my mouth when over rolled the unconscious sleeper, through the trap-door into the cellar, plump on the head of poor old Mother Craw, who was at that unfortnuate moment ascending the cellar stairs with the pork for our dinner. The falling weight which was over two hundred, caused the unthreatened to break something-in truth she yleided to the falling body without the least resistance. The moment I saw in what direction the old gentleman was going I sprang to catastrophe which inevitably followed. At this exciting moment young Sam went out, and was not seen again for two days. With the help of her husband, who now came in, we soon liberated Mother Craw from the body of the insensible Jones. Fortunately old Sam had left something in the jug, which soon enabled us to resusciate the two unfortunates."

Sam, they had but to say, "you roll over." IRREGULAR VERBS .- A little Frenchman who had been taking irregular lessons, on a voyage, from a fellow passenger, complained much of the difficulties of our grammer. "For instance," says he, ze verb to go. Did one ever see such verb?" And with the utmost gravity he read from a sheet of paper :

"1 go." "Thou departest."

"He cleared out." "We cut stick."

"Te or you made tracks." "They absquatulate."

"Mon Dieu! Mon Dieu!-what irregular verbs you have in your language."

A DISPUTER QUESTION .- An old toper, after indulging quite freely in his accustomed beverage, amused himself in teasing a mettlesome horse. The animal not fancying his familiar-Ities, suddenly reared, and the disciple of Bacchus found himself sprawling in an adjacent mud puddle. Gathering himself up as composedly as his situation would allow, he shouted to his son who was standing by :- "John did you see me kick that 'ere hoss?" "Why no dad; the hoss kicked you!" "Reckon not John. One or tother of us got badly hoisted.

Taint me, John, for I'm here!

Quire TRUE .- An exchange says, that the "more violent declaimers against" mixing pol-Itics with religion, "are men with curses upon their lips, tobacco juice upon their shirt bosoms, and their whole manhood so steeped in drugged alcohol, that poor whiskey could be squeezed out of their hair." They may, however, be credited with a certain sort of consistency in keeping themselves entirely clear of all imputation of mixing religion with their politics. Still they might allow a man who has religion, to be guided by its principles, without being attacked by ribaldry and slander.

The New York Day Book says that one of the Central America passengers arrived, with very closely trimmed hair, which he stated he had elipsed off himself, before the vessel went

TO THOSE WHO WANT FARMS.

EVERY MAN. THE RIDGWAY FARM COMPANY has made arnia, in the midst of a thriving population of some 10,000. The climate is perfectly healthy, and the terrible plague of the west fever is unknown. It also has an abundance of the best quality of Coal and Iron. The price to buy it out is from $3 to $20 per acre, payable in instalments, to be located at the time of purchasing, or a share of 25 acres entitling to locate the same for $300, payabin $6 per month or 122 acres payable $4 per month.— Discount for every sum of $100 and under, paid in advance, a discount of 5 per cent. will be allowed, and for over $100 a discount of 10 per cent. In considering the advantages of emigrating to this locality the following are presented:

First-The soil is a rich limestone, capable of raising the heaviest crops, owing to which this settlement has attained its present great prosperity. Second-It is the centre of the great North West Coal Basin, and is destined soon to become one of the greatest business places in the State. It will supply the great Lake market, (according to population and travel the greatest in the Union.) has five workable veines of the best Bituminous Coal, amounting in the aggregate to over 22 feet, which makes 22,000 tons of coal under each acre. This will make the land of inestimable value. Third—The eminent state geologist Dr. Chas. T. Jackson of Boston, has made a geological survey of the land, and analysed the coal, the iron ore and the limestone. This report together with maps will be furnished to inquirers. Fourth-Three railroads are laid out through this property. The Sunbury and Eric Railroad gives us a market for our coal to the Lakes—it runs from Eric to Philadelphia. A large part of this road has been finished, and is now in running order. A heavy force is now working from Eric to-wards our land in the western direction, the means for the completion of which has been raised—it will soon be finished. The Allegheny Valley Rail road connects us with New York, Boston and Pittsburg. The Venango Road connects us with the

There are already good Turnpike roads running through the property, various other roads have been opened to accommodate the emigration and settlement which has already taken place.

There is no opportunity equal to it now offered to the man who wants to provide himself a home in an easy way, and make a settlement where he can live in prosperity and independence in a cli-mate PERFECTLY HEALTHY.

No case of fever ever having been known to oc cur in this settlement. It is not like going to the backwoods of the West, among perhaps intollerant people, where there is no society, churches, or chools, where the price of land is high, and where the emigrant, after being used to the healthiest elimate in the world, has to endure sickness and pain, and perhaps ruins his health and that of his family. But here is a thriving settlement having three towns, containing churches, schools, hotels stores, saw mills, grist mills, and everything de-There is a cash market at hand. The lumber trade last year amounted to over two hundred million feet of lumber. In a short time, owing to the coal, it will still become more valuable, as a number of iron works and manufactories will soon be started; they are at present starting them ex-tensively at Warren. Even for those who do not wish to go there, the payments are such that they can easily buy a farm to save their rising families from want in the future, or to gain a competence by the rise which will take place in the value of lands By an ontlay scarcely missed, a substantial provision can be made

Persons should make early application, apply or write to E. Jefferies, Secretary, No. 135 Walnut street, below Fifth, Philadelphia. Letters carefully answered giving full information. Shares or tracts of land can be bought or secured by letter enclosing the first inslalment of five dollars, when the subscriber will be furnished with books, maps, &c. Warrantee Deeds given. Persons can also purchase from our agents.

Route from Philadelphia to Tyrone on the Penn sylvania Central Railroad, and thence by Stage to the land. This is a delightful season to visit St. Mary's—the best hotel accommodation is afforded. Enquire for E. C. Shultz, Esq., the Agent for the property at St. Mary's. June10-'57-3m.

DHILADELPHIA WOOD MOULDING / THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1857-8. The Tribune was first issued as a Daily on the 10th of April, 1841. Its Weekly edition was commenced in September of the same year; its Semi-Weekly in May, 1845. It was the first daily in America to issue a double or eight-page sheet at a low price, and it has kept at least even with the foremost of its rivals in the rapid expansion of Newspaper enterprise, which the great extension of Railroads, and the establishment of the Telegraph system have crowded into these last sixteen eventful years. No larger journal is afforded at so low a price in any quarter of the world; none in America, no matter at what price issued, pays an equal amount, weekly or monthly, for intellectual labor. It employs correspondents regularly in the leading capitals of Europe, and at the most important points on this continent, with a liberal staff of writers and reporters at home, regarding full, early and accurate information as the first object of a Newspaper, and the timely and thorough elucidation thereof as the chief end of its Editorials. In that spirit, "The Tribune" has been and will be conducted, extending and perfecting its correspondence so fast as the increase of its patronage will justify the expense. Should the cur-rent attempt to connect the Old with the NewWorld by the magnetic wire prove successful, we shall very soon, at a heavy cost to ourselves and, we trust, a corresponding advantage to our readers publish each morning a synopsis of the preceeding day's occurrences throughout Europe, Northern Africa and Western Asia, with regular reports of the market by the state of t kets, the monetary aspects and harvest prospects of hither Europe. With a good atlas beside him and his daily paper on his fireside table, the American farmer or artisan within a day's ride of the city may then study each evening the doings of the civilized world throughout the day preceding; and it seems hardly possible that any who can read, but especially one who has children to educate, will longer deny himself the pleasure and profit of a daily journal. The same is true mea-surably of those who live further inland; though, where mails are infrequent, a Semi-Weekly, or cven a Weekly, may seem sufficient.

The Tribune deals with questions of Political Economy, Public Policy, Ethics, Material Progress and whatever may affect the Intellectual, Moral, Social and Physical well being of mankind, dogmatic Theology alone excepted. Its leading idea is the honoring of honest useful Work in whatever sphere or capacity, and the consequent elevation of the Laboring class in knowledge, virtue and general esteem. It is necessarily hostile to Slavery under all its aspects, to Intemperance in whatever form or degree with its accessories, to War save in the defense of Country and Liberty against actual invasion, and to every form of Gambling Desiring to see Production extended and encouraged, while wild Speculation and useless Traffic are curtailed, it favors the policy of sustaining and diversifying Home Industry by a discriminating Tariff—a policy which tends to increase the price of Grain to the farmer while diminishing that of Bread to the artisan, by reducing the distance a-cross which their respective products are exchanged and, of course, reducing the cost of their trans far. Regarding Fillibusterism in all its phases. and every form and device of National covetons ness, with unqualified abhorrence as the bane of Republies and in their triumph the grave of Equal Human Hights, we seek by every means to woo and win the attention of our countrymen from projects of aggrandizement abroad to enterprises of development and beneficence at home, foremost among which we rank a Railroad through the heart of our territory to connect the waters of the Atlantic with those of the Pacific. Believing that the goods of this life are not yet fairly distributed and that no one ready to work should ever famish in unwilling idleness, it lends an open ear to every suggestion of Social improvement which does not countervail the distates of eternal Morality nor war upon that natural right of every one to whatsoever he has fairly produced or honestly acquired, whose denial must sink mankind into the chaos and night of barbarism and universal squat-or. With a profound consciousness that idlers, drunkards, libertines and profligates can never be other (in the main) than needy and wretched, it bears aloft the great truth that Prevention is betpurchase a home can do so. The farms consist of the best limestone soil of the most superior quality for farming, in a rapidly improving place, into which an extensive emigration is now pouring.—

Recognizing in the most degraded specimen of Humanity a divine spark which should be reverently cherished, not ruthlessly trodden out, we have charity for all forms of evil but those which seek personal advantage through the debasement of our fellow-beings. The champion of no class or easte, the devotee of no sect, we would fain be the interpreter to each other of men's better impulses and aspirations, the harbinger of general concord between Labor and Capital, and among those whom circumstances or misapprehensions have thrown into unnatural antagonism. A cotemporary once observed that he never knew a hard, grasping, niggardly employer who did not hate The Tribune, nor a generous, large-souled, kindly one, willing to live and let live, who did not like it. We ask no higher praise, no warmer attestation.

The circulation of The Tribune is at this time as follows: Daily, 32,000 copies; Weekly, 176,800 copies; Semi-Weekly, 16,000 copies; California and European, 6,000 copies; Total, 230,800 copies. That of the Semi-Weekly and Weekly we believe to be exceeded by no other newspaper published in the world; that of the Daily falls behind that of some of our cotemporaries. Had our hostility to Human Stavery and the Liquor Traffic been more guarded and politic, our Daily issues would now be some thousands heavier and our Advertising far more lucrative; but of our patrenage generally we have no reason, no wish, to complain. Of late, a concerted effort has been made to di minish our rural circulation through the influence of the Postmasters, some of whom embark in it cagerly, others under political restraint, while a large number, we are happy, for the sake Human Nature, to state, refuse to be dragooned into it at all. Still, we have been made to feel the heavy hand of Power, and have doubtless lost thousand of subscribers in consequence. Pretexts to which no individual in his private capacity would have stooped have been relied on to justify the stoppage of our papers within reach of their subscribers and rightful owners, and their retention in the Post-Office till their value was destroyed. Postmasters have been schooled by rival journals-several of them living on their self-proclaimed ability to serve as an antidote to The Tribune—as to their political duty to promote at our expense the disemmination of gazettes of adverse politics. We shall outlive this warfare, but we do not affect indifference to it. In the open field of discussion, we fear nothing; but in the tens of thousands of rural neighborhoods where the Posmaster can induce many of his quiet neighbors to take the journal he recommends, we have already lost some trons, and expect to lose more as our subscriptions for this year expire. We appeal, therefore, to the hearty, faithful, fearless advocates of Free Labor and Free Soil throughout the land to take care that this official warfare on our circulation be not prosecuted without counteraction. We employ no travelling agents, for we will not consent to have the public harrassed with the solicitations of stran-gers in our behalf. We strike the name of each subscriber to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly from our books as soon as his term has expired, for we will not hannt our patrons with duns for arrears which they may say they never intended to incur.

for papers which perhaps they never read; we rely for the renewal of our subscriptions solely on the volunteered efforts of those who. liking our paper, believe its influence salutary and worthy to be extended; and thus far our reliance has been justified, as we trust it may continue to be. The Tribune is printed on a large imperial sheet, 321 by 44 inches, folded in quarte form, and mailed to subscribers at the following
