AGRICULTURAL.

EDECATION OF THE AGRICULTURIST .- No man is so high as to be independent of the success of this great interest; no man is so low as not to be affected by its prosperity or decline. Agriculture feeds us; without it we could not have manufactures, and we should not have. commerce. These all stand together, but they stand together like pillars in a cluster, the largest in the middle, and that largest is agriculture. We live in a country of small farms and free-hold tenements ; a country in which men cultivate with their own hands their own few simple acres, drawing not only their subsistence, but also their spirit of independence and manly freedom from the ground they plow. They are at once its owners, its cultivators, and its defenders. The cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Men may be civilized in some degree, without great progress in manufactures, and with littic commerce with his distant neighbors ; but without cultivation of the earth he is, in all countries, a savage .- Webster.

SHELTER FOR STOCK .- Many farmers still neglect their animals in winter, feeding them from the stock-yard in the open air. This practice is not only barbarous, but is very expensive. It takes a third more of hay to carry a cow through the winter by this method, and with the best of hay, she will not come out in good condition. Warm stables are a substitute for fodder, and an animal sheltered in them, is much more easily kept in high flesh. Then, by stabling animals, we can save all the manure, which is quite too large an item for farmers in this age to throw away. Many who have large farms, and do not wish to build a barn long enough to hold all the hay and grain, build several small barns in different meadows. These save the carting, both of hay and of manures. In no case should hav be foddered out to cattle without some kind of shelter. A hovel opening to the south can be made very cheaply, and with light walls and thatched roof, it will keep cattle quite comfortable. They will save the cost of building in a single winter. Now is the time to put them up.

the 7th of July, 1848, the work of draining the Harlaem Lake, in Holland was commenced, and on the 1st of August, 1852, the official gazette amounced that the bed of the lake was dry. At the beginning of the present year, 42,500 acres of good land were under cultivation on the site of the lake, divided into 2,518 farms, and 157 dwellings, 721 barns, and other buildings had been exected. The population is 5,157.

GRAIN AT CHICAGO .- A gentleman from Chieago states that there are in store at that place 25,000,000 bushels of grain, but that not more than 1,000,000 bushels will come forward previous to the closing of the canal, for want of Newspaper enterprise, which the great extension eventful years. No larger journal is afforded at so low a price in any quarter of the world; none in America, no matter at what price issued, pays an equal amount, weekly or monthly, for intellec-tual labor. It employs correspondents regularly in the leading capitals of Europe, and at the most important points on this continent, with a liberal staff of writers and reporters at home, regarding rials. In that spirit, "The Trioune" has been and will be conducted, extending and perfecting its correspondence so fast as the increase of its patronage will justify the expense. Regarding Fillibusterism in all its phases, and every form and device of National covetous ness, with unqualified abhorrence as the bane of Republies and in their triamph the grave of Equal Human Rights, we seek by every means to woo and win the attention of our countrymen from projects of aggrandizement abroad to enterprises of developement and beneficence at home, foremost among which we rank a Railroad through the heart of our territory to connect the waters of the Atlantic with those of the Pacific. Believing that the goods of this life are not yet fairly distributed, and that no one ready to work should ever famish in unwilling idleness, it lends an open car to every suggestion of Social improvement which does not countervail the dictates of eternal Morality nor war upon that natural right of every one to whatsoever he has fairly produced or honestly ac-quired, whose denial must sink mankind into the chnos and night of barbarism and universal squalor. There are already good Turnpike roads running through the property, various other roads have been opened to accommodate the emigration and ettlement which has already taken place. There is no opportunity equal to it now offered to the man who wants to provide himself a home in an easy way, and make a settlement where he can live in prosperity and independence in a elimate PERFECTLY HEALTHY

No case of fever ever having been known to occur in this settlement. It is not like going to the backwoods of the West, among perhaps intollerant people, where there is no society, churches, or chools, where the price of land is high, and where the emigrant, after being used to the healthnest climate in the world, has to endure sickness and pain, and perhaps ruins his health and that of his amily. But here is a thriving settlement having hree towns, containing churches, schools, hotels, stores, saw mills, grist mills, and everything desired. There is a cash market at hand. The lumer trade last year amounted to over two hundred million feet of lumber. In a short time, owing to the coal, it will still become more valuable, as a unber of iron works and manufactories will soon be started ; they are at present starting them extensively at Warren. Even for these who do not wish to go there, the payments are such that they can easily buy a farm to save their rising families from want in the future, or to gain a competence by the rise which will take place in the value lands By an ontiny scarcely missed, a substantial provision can be made

The general character of the Scientific Ameraan is well known, and as heretofore, it will be chiefly devoted to the promulgation of information relating to the various Mechanical and Chem-ical Arts. Manufactures, Agriculture, Patents, In-ventions, Engineering, Mill Work, and all interests which the light of Practical Science is calcu-lated to advance. It is issued weekly, in form for binding; it contains annually from 500 to 600 finely executed Engravings, and Notices of American and European Improvements, together with an Official List of American Patent Claims published weekly in advance of all other papers. It is the aim of the editors of the Scientific A-merican to present all subjects discussed in its columns in a practical and popular form. They will also endeavor to maintain a candid fearlessness in combating and exposing false theories and practices in Scientific and Mechanical mutters, and thus preserve the character of the Scientific American as a reliable Encyclopedia of Useful and Enter-taining Knowledge.
