STATE NORMAL SCHOOL. WHY NOT HAVE ONE IN CLEARFIELD ?

All persons who wish to examine the law on the above subject, I refer to the July number of the School Journal, 1857.

These Institutions combine State authority with private enterprise, with the intent to aid in the perfection of our noble school system. They will inspire confidence in the friends of free education, and assist in elevating the Teacher's calling to the true standard of a legal profession, by a diploma which gives the holder a right to teach in any part of the State without a re-examination. "It will render uniform all over the State, the standard of acquirement amongst teachers, and thus systematize and elevate the course and degree of in-struction in all the schools." The school will be conducted by six professors of liberal education and ability to give instruction in all the common branches, to which will be added Book-keeping, History, Mathematics, Theory and Practice of Teaching, Mental and Moral Science, Languages, &c., together with such other branches as the condition of the school and the number of students may require.

There is an increased demand for higher edneation, and wherever an institution of this kind has been rightly located, ably and faithfully conducted, it has been profitable and honorable, will pay the interest of their cost in money, and he the gainer of a large divi-dend in social benefit. Clearfield county alone has the material to fill an institution of this kind, and with little exertion it is believed the means can be procured to put it in operation. Education ! How significant, how expressive of something beyond this mundane sphere of ours. Above, how high its progress; "around, how wide;" how deep below extend. It fathoms the depths of the sea ; searches the innermost recesses of the earth to bring forth their hidden treasures, and soars beyond the regions of space to view the celestial world, and by the aid of astronomy and geometry to observe the motions, measure the distances and comprehend the size and magnitude of the heavenly bodies and the laws of nature ; while at the same time we perceive the wisdom, strength and beauty of the great creator of the universe.

"When smooth old Ocean and each storm 's asleep. Then I gnorance may plough the watery deep; But when the demons of the tempest rave, Skill must conduct the vessel thro' the wave."

How many youthful minds, what amount of bright intellect has been tortured and wrecked in the sea of ignorance by untutored pedagogues! What amount is lost to the State and society for want of skillful pilots to conduct the first impressions of the mental and moral taculties aright, to train the youth in the way they should go, and bring them safely to that haven of knowledge, that will make them ornaments of the State, bright and shining lights of the first magnitude in societyfit emplems of Heaven !

Education is progressive. We live in a progressive age, and Clearfield has as good a right to take the lead in the establishment of a State Normal School in her District as any other of the ten counties named in the Act. Let a normal school be established in this place or its vicinity, having all the necessary fixtures and Professors for the different branchfixtures and Professors for the different branch-es, as the law requires, to carry out success-fully its intentions, and the benefits resulting $Rockland B_{K}, R'kl'd = \begin{bmatrix} VIRGINIA, disc. \\ Bank of Kanawha, Ka nowha Salines - \\ \end{bmatrix}$

This alone would increase the value of property very much. But a higher and more noble end is in view than that of dollars Excter BK, Excter, and cents, viz : to store the mind with useful knowledge, to develop the powers of intellect, to train the youth physically, mentally and morally, so as to answer the great design of their creator. This will not be a school for a favored few to monopolize. No! its aspirations are "excelsior"-higher and higher. It is to be the People's college, a school for the masses-a truly democratic institution, doing the greatest good to the greatest numberopen and free to all, rich and poor, high and low; "cheap enough for the peorest; good enough for the best."

I think no argument will be necessary to convince any person that State normal schools will be the most powerful aids to prepare our children for the multifarious, the high and responsible duties of life, and the teachers for | Hopkinton Bank, the position they are to occupy in the discharge of their duties. Our motto is Education, is Advance, if we would gain the victory over ignorance. Perfection in a system of public instruction should be our aim. Pennsylvania has begun the great work of reform | Hatters' Ba. Bethel, in education, and will be a shining light in the galaxy of States that may compose our national union. By Western BK, Lockport 50 the aid of modern improvements and steam power one man may control and perform the work of a hundred in one day. This to a limited extent is literally true in the art of teaching. It was thought in times past if a teacher could look over twelve or fifteen little urchins and make the girls and boys smart with the oil of beech, he had wrought miracles. But that will not do in these fast times, when lightning is learned to talk and electricity conveys our thoughts from continent to continent with the speed of light, and wheeled palaces take us bodily over the iron rails with the velocity of the wind, almost annihilating time and space. Where schools are properly graded and classified and furnished with the necessary fixtures of the school room, it is almost as easy to teach and demonstrate 100 pupils as ten .--Students of law, divinity, medicine, and the other learned professions, have their schools of theory and practice. All mechanics have to spend a certain length of time to learn their art and mystery in the use of tools and materials used in their trades. Why then should not the teacher go through a careful professional training to prepare him for the school room ? He who shapes the immortal minds of our youth should possess a knowledge of the laws that govern the powers of the mind and their development. This is as necessary as it Bank, and West Branch, heretofore taken on deis for the practical mechanic to know how to posit, are now rejected by the Banks.

If the number will divide by one hundred, as 700, 800, etc., the holder is entitled to twenty-five vol-umes as a premium, or a complete set of Dickens' Works.

INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS

To any Lady or Gentleman who will procure thirty yearly subscribers to "Household Words," the publisher will present a beautiful edition of Charles Dickens' works, or, if preferred, a splendid library of twenty-five volumes, to be selected from the catalogue of premium books.

As it may not be convenient to send the whole thirty names at one time, a club book will be o pened, a register kept of the names, to which additions can be made at any time before the close of the volume, and as soon as the number amounts to thirty, the premiums will be carefully boxed, and sent by express or otherwise as ordered. par

The volumes commence with the September and March number, but subscriptions may begin with any number desired. Write the name of Post Office, County, and State, plainly. All orders must be addressed to JOHN JANSEN, Publisher. 40 Oct29 125 Nassau street, New York.

For all clubs of twenty and over, the yearly ubscription is $1.40.

The new volume will be printed upon fine paper with new type. The general character of the Scientific Ameri-

in is well known, and as heretofore, it will be chiefly devoted to the promulgation of informa-tion relating to the various Mechanical and Chemical Arts, Manufactures, Agriculture, Patents, In-ventions, Engineering, Mill Work, and all interests which the light of Practical Science is calcuated to advance. It is issued weekly, in form for binding; it contains annually from 500 to 600 fac-ly executed Engravings, and Notices of American and European Improvements, together with an Official List of American Patent Claims published weekly in advance of all other papers.

It is the aim of the editors of the Scientific Anerican to present all subjects discussed in its columns in a practical and popular form. They will also endeavor to maintain a candid learlessness in combating and exposing false theories and practi-ces in Scientific and Mechanical matters, and thus preserve the character of the Scientific American as a reliable Encyclopædia of Usefal and Entertaining Knowledge.
