Educational Department.

EDITOR OF RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL :- The following, from the Hon. H. C. Hickok. Superintendent of Common Schools, taken from the School Journal, is deemed of such practical importance to Teachers, Directors, and the friends of Education, that I send it to you for insertion in the Educational Department of your

"Teachers & Institutes .- The duty of Teachers to attend Institutes is not less imperative than the obligation of Superintendents to hold them, and is to be taken for granted. 'Live' teachers who love their profession, realize its hopeful and cheering future, and are awake to As'te Judges-Hon. Wm. L. Moore, . Clearfield. hopeful and cheering future, and are awake to the magnitude of its responsibities, will need no prompting from any quarter, in regard to institutes; but will hail any opportunity thus offered, for improvement and genial intercourse with their fellow laborers. Mechanical teachers, whose capacity or ambition is limited to the assignment of lessons from the printed page, to be conned and recited by the Auditors . . Francis Pearce, efforts of a verbal memory, without reference to ideas or principles; and who pursue their calling as an occasional trade, merely for the income it yields, will scrupulously avoid Institutes and Associations; but their numbers are rapidly thinning, and but a very few years will elapse until they will be driven from the field, and their places supplied with the faithful and competent."

"Post mortem Examinations .- It appears that Teachers are still in the habit of teaching without a certificate, and after their term is out, applying for a certificate in order to get their wages. This practice is illegal and forfeits both the teacher's wages and the State appropriation to the district employing them. Superintendents are not at liberty to grant certificates under such circumstances, or for such a purpose. Every such application should be reported to the Department, giving the name of the Teacher, and the name of the President or Secretary of the District."

Mr. Epiron :-- The adoption of a series of books by the School Directors of the several districts throughout the county, with a strong effort on their part to effect their introduction into the schools, is a subject which I think is Mt. Vernon Bahk. too much neglected. At a convention of School Directors held in Clearfield on the 25th of June last, after a careful examination of sample copies, and a free and, I trust, profitable discussion of the subject, a series of books | Bx of Hartford Co. were recommended. This list may or may not be adopted in toto, in every district; but it is certainly very important that each and every Board of School Directors in the county should adopt and establish a system or series of books, to be used in the schools. It must be apparent to every observer, that the advantages to be derived from such a course, over the old, and to a considerable extent still existing practice of each scholar having his or her own set of books, regardless of all order or classification with others, would be very great, not only to the scholars, but to the teacher, whose time might be greatly economized thereby.

The time has come when great changes are to be wrought in the manner of conducting our schools; old and worn-out rules are to be set aside, and new and practical theories to be adopted, and wherever Directors do their duty, with the aid of the County Superindency, this important fact will be demonstrated, that our common school system is built upon an indestructible foundation, and is destined to go on prospering and to prosper, with Progression for its watchword, till cavillers will be silenced by the happy and wide-spread influence of so great and ennobling an institution. J. R.

Pennsville, Dec. 1857.

Many persons like to use what are generally termed "big words." This is wrong. Sim. Solvent Banks, plicity of expression is always desirable. "Viewing this subject from the esoteric State Bank, stand-point of Christian exegetical analysis, and agglutinating the polsynthetical ectoblasts of homogeneous asceticism, we perceive at once the absolute individuality of this entity; while from that other stand-point of incredulous synthesie, which characterise the Xenocratic hierarchy of the Jews we are constantly impressed with the precisely antiperistatic quality thereof."

"Clear as mud," that! Isn't it?

A man can be misled by the shallowest sophistry if he is determined that he will be. A fellow can be drowned in a kettle of water if he will lie down and keep his mouth and nose pressed against the bottom of the utensil.
