

S. B. ROW, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JAN. 13, 1858.

THANKS .- Our thanks are due Gov. Pollock for an early copy of his message. Also, to Mr. Souther, of the Senate, and Messrs. Wilcox and Struthers, of the House, for favors.

RE-BROKEN .- The little daughter of John F. Weaver, Esq., of this place, who had broken her arm some time ago, on yesterday, 12th inst, fell and broke it again at the same place.

BURNED .- We regret to learn that a house, belonging to Mr. John Ryen, about 4 miles beyoud New Washington, on the road leading to the Cherry Tree, was destroyed by fire, some two weeks since, together with the contents. The house was occupied by Mr. Ryen and Mr. Jas. T. Scott, and was worth $600 to $800. The fire is supposed to have originated by mice carrying matches behind the lining and there igniting them. The loss is a serious one, more particularly in these hard times.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.-We give in this paper the last annual message of Gov. Pollock. It is a well written and creditable document. It presents the financial affairs of the Commonwealth in a clear and comprehensive manner, and contains a number of suggestions for the consideration of the Legislature. Gov. Pollock is deserving of commendation for the faithful and able discharge of his duties while Executive of the State, and he will retire with high credit to himself.

A Good One .- A person who is in the collecting business in this county, says a man can travel very cheap now-a-days, for if he takes a $10 note nobody can change it when he offers to pay his bill. Wishing to come to our town a few days since, and finding he hadn't money enough to pay his toll and "feed," he went to a collector of poor tax, borrowed his duplicate, made a "raise" of a couple dollars on it, and went through swimmingly. That chap, we should think, will certainly get along.

SCODEN DEATH -On last Thursday evening, the 7th inst., Miss Elizabeth Macumber, of Lawrence township, died very suddenly. She had caten supper seemingly as well as usual, but when about retiring for the night, and after filling the stove with wood, she complained of feeling sick and that she would have to vomit. Before medical aid could be procured, and within half an hour of the time she complained, she was a corpse. The cause of her sudden death is not positively known. She has always, we believe, been rather delicate. She was in the 34th year of her age.

Rex-off.-On last Saturday forenoon, a horse, hitched in a buggy, in which Mr. Wm. Ten Eyck, of Curwensville, had come to our town, frightened whilst standing at the Mansion House corner, and ran away. The buggy came first in contact with the corner of a building nearly opposite our office, and one of the front wheels was knocked to pieces. The horse then ran across the street on the sidewalk at Irwin's store, where the axle of the buggy came in contact with a post and brought the runaway quadruped to such a sudden halt that it literally "rolled over." The buggy came out of these various performances considerably damaged.

COOL PERFORMANCES .- As every body knows, our county jail is a great institution, and oceasionally the 'boarders' indulge in some rich performances. On Saturday evening, Jas. Curly and Wm. Miller, who are serving out sentences of imprisonment, having been allowed the privilege of going into the jail-yard, scaled the wall and vamosed. Miller left a note, informing the Sheriff that he had gone home to attend to some affairs, and that he would be back the next evening. Curly coolly moved around "to see what was going on in town," until about nine o'clock, when he returned to the jail, and, all the doors being locked, had to rouse the Sheriff to get in. On Monday evening, Miller also came back.

A Case or Descrirerion .- A friend told us a few days since of a case of destitution, in a neighboring township, such as we were not prepared to hear of in our county. Our informant was called upon to make a coffin for a girl of about 14 or 16 years of age, who had died. When he went to the house, he found no furniture of any description in the same; the mother had no shoes or stockings, nothing but a thin calico dress, and the children were no better clad than she was. There was not a well covered with choice pine timber suitable for bite of food in the house, and starvation was staring them in the face, and it is feared that this was the real affliction which caused the poor girl's death. Our informant immediately went to work among the neighbors, and collected provisions to supply their present urgent wants. The case is a distressing one, and we trust will receive prompt attention.

BARGAINS !- We direct attention to the advertisement of Charles Sloan, Esq., who has opened out his stock of Goods at the store room recently occupied by Richard Mossop. Good bargains can doubtless be procured by buildings thereon erected. calling at his establishment.
