S. B. ROW, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

CLEARFIELD, PA., MARCH 24, 1858.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT .- The report of the financial operations of our postal system for the year ending with last June, brought out by the enquiries at the Post Office Department of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, at Washington, is a very interesting table of statistics. The following is a brief, though comprehensive, abstract of it :- "The entire receipts of the year from all the States and Territories amounted to $8,070,367 81, of which $5,378,198 87 were from the free States and Territories, and only $1,692,168 94 from the slave States. The gross expenditures amounted to $9,884,042 22, including transportation, salaries, and the immediate expenses of the various offices. Of this amount $4,131,762 12 accrued in the slave States, and $5,785,180 10 in the free States and Territories. The total deficit for the year amounted to $2,814,574 41. The excess of expenses over receipts in the slave States was $2,486,598, and in the free States $374,981. The States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, and Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia and Washington Territory are the only ones in which the receipts exceed the gross expenses, which they respectively do in the following amounts: Massachusetts $178,550 23, Rhode Island $23,097 26, Connecticut $27,776 19, New York $433,533 78, Pennsylvania $27, 650 61, District of Columbia $6,076 96, and Washington Territory $947 68. The largest receipts in any State were in New York, amounting to $1,508,444 42. Pennsylvania comes next, her receipts amounting to $629.-154 54. Of course the expenses in these two States were also the largest."

The Cincinnati Gazette says :- A feature worthy of mention is the favorable appearance vield ever obtained in this country. The weather during the month of February, and such disasters as may occur immediately preceding harvest.

How is it ?- It is stated in some of the papers that Judge Gillis says openly that he seen a letter from Hon. W. A. Porter, the Democratic candidate for Supreme Judge, avowing himself in favor of the Kansas policy of Mr. Buchanan. Is this so? Can any of the Lecompton Democratic prints enlighten the peo-

LAND SALES .- The Council Bluffs Bugle, of the 3d inst. says, the Land office in that city was opened for private entry on the 23d ult., and at the closing of the office on Saturday evening over 81,000 acres had been entered, being an average of near 17,000 acres per day. The entries are mostly made with land war- re-opening of the slave trade goes bravely on, rants, and mostly on speculation.

ADVERTISEMENTS .- By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Treasurer of Clearfield county publishes a long list of Unseated Lands, to be sold on the 2nd Monday of June next. This list takes up a large portion of our paper this week. In our variety of reading matter.

A LARGE STICK .- Several days since we saw an unusual large stick of square timber in a raft, on the river. It was 60 feet long, 28 by 30 inches square, and contained 350 cubic feet. It will produce over 3,000 feet of 1 inch boards, allowing one fourth for waste gone down the river, the senior devil assumes the responsibility of saying that no paper will be issued from this office next week.

"When the eat's away, The mice can play.

NORTHERN MISSOURI .- The St. Louis Democrat quotes a private letter from the northern section of Missouri, saving that a large immigration from the free States is arriving there to settle and that public sentiment is growing favorable to free labor.

RAPTING .- During the last five or six days, quite a number of rafts have passed this place, on their way to market. A great deal of timber will not get started on this freshet, the water being already too low for safe running.

DAMAGED .- Quite a large number of rafts were damaged in passing through Irwin's schute, the ice having taken away a portion of sum paid was $10,000 cash. the guard wall last week.

A clergyman in Southfield, Mass., had a model donation visit not long since. His people put on his table an evergreen tree, and hung its branches with gold eagles. THIRTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

MARCH 18 .- The Senate resolved to hold an evening session, and sat till nearly 11 o'clock. Mr. Green offered a resolution of inquiry with reference to the massacre of emigrants in Utah. Mr. Toombs made a speech on the Kansas question, in which he disposed of the Union somewhat cavalierly, and culogized Northern doughfaces, as surpassing in heroism the Greeks at Marathon and Thermopylæ. Mr. Crittenden rejoined, and was followed by Mr. Bell, who thoroughly reviewed the history of the Kansas perfidy, and traced it to the spirit of disunionism rampant in the South. Mr. Foster of Connecticut has the floor to-day. In the House, the discussion of Mr. Quitman's Army bill was continued, Messrs. Savage, Washburne, Humphrey Marshall, Faulkner, Smith, Blair, Quitman and Morris participating.

MARCH 19 .- The Senate adopted Mr. Gwin's resolution of inquiry as to the massacre of emigrants in Utah. A joint resolution of the Legislature of New-Mexico respecting the proposed Territory of Arizona was received and referred. Mr. Foster of Connecticut, spoke against Lecompton, and Mr. Clay of Alabama, against pure Democracy and in favor of disunion, in case the Republican party should take the reins of Government. His views were criticised by Mr. Houston. A speech by Mr. Durkee occupied the residue of the session, which was prolonged till 5 o'clock. The House of Representatives decided, by the strong vote of 143 to 43, against any increase of our Standing Army, and in favor of allowing the President to accept the service of five regiments of Volunteers, to be employed in settling our Mormon and Indian troubles. The Army bill, in this shape, passed the House by a vote of 124 to 73. Whether the Senatewhich recently voted down such a bill by about two to one-will agree to this one, we cannot guess and do not care. We have more troops already than we either need or can aflargely indebted to the good sense and independence of Gen. Quitman, Chairman of the Coal Works, whose name we did not learn, in safe. Messrs. Montgomery of Pennsylvania and Reagan of Texas spoke upon the Kansas question.

> THE SLAVE TRADE .- In view of events now occurring in the South, which look to a reopening of the odious slave trade, the Philadelphia Press remarks :-

"It will not surprise us if, at the end of another year, the re-opening of the slave trade, ple on this point? The voters have a right to under the joint auspices of Messrs. Toombs, Green and Slidell, is made the new test of Democracy. Let those who doubt or deny the prediction fall back to this time last year, and tell us how they would have felt if at that time it had been stated, as a Democratic principle, that the will of the majority of the people should not prevail in the Territories. The and so does the minority rule in Kansas."

> MODERN DEMOCRACY .- The Washington Union, with infinite regard for the will of the people, gives vent to its liberal feelings in the following characteristic language:

"We don't care whether the people like or dislike the Constitution. We are unwilling to take any more testimony. The case has been closnext issue we will endeavor to give our usual ed after full notice. The verdict has been rendered, the judgment entered up, and the execution is now in the hands of the officers."

> -This is "democracy" with a vengeance. Such common fellows as the people, it seems, are no longer of any account.

LET IT COME. - The Louisville Journal, in predicting the defeat of Lecompton in the

"The defeat may bring matters to a crisis in three or four of the Southern States, but a crisis that can be brought on thus, must in any contingency come very soon, and it may just as well come now as ever. Let it come, and may God be the helper of our country."

Yes; let it come. There are ropes enough tor all the traitors it can produce; and if the No Paper NEXT WEEK .- The editor having President chooses to go with them he will all the sooner come to the end of his rope.

> THE CANDLE-Box DEMOCRACY .- It has been suggested that the supporters of Mr. Buchanan, being committed to the Lecompton Constitution, be hereafter known as the Candlebox Democracy. Certainly they do not stand upon the Cincinnatti Platform, but upon the Candle-box found in Calhoun's woodpile, and which contains the famous Delaware crossings returns; or rather to the system of morals of which the Candle-box aforesaid is a specimen.

> A Town Purchased by one Man .- The village of Lowsville, Monongahela county, Virginia, was purchased a few days since by Jonathan McKeek. The purchases included a several dwellings, together with a well improved farm of about seventy-five acres. The Twenty three public schools, under the Common schools system, are now in highly successful operation among the Indians of the Cattaragus and Allegheny reservation in New PENNSYLVANIA ITEMS.

PREPARED FOR THE "RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL." BLAIR COUNTY .- On Monday week, a young lady named Mary Omerman, aged about seventeen years, living with Mr. David Denny, near Tyrone City, while engaged in boiling soap in the vard, was so severely burned by her clothes taking fire, that she died the same night. On Friday a week, a man named Black, living at Ironsville, Snyder township, met with a singular accident, which proved fatal. He was engaged at the wood chopping of Tyrone Forges, and while employed in splitting a log, fell upon his axe, completely severing his leg at the knee joint. He died from loss of blood in less than fifteen minutes. . . . The roof of Wm. Thomas's Hat Store, in Hollidaysburg, was discovered to be on fire, a week ago, but was extinguished before much damage was done. The house of D. K. Ramsey, was on fire last week, but was put out, having sustained some small damages. The Hollidaysburg Branch train, when about a mile from Altoona, last week, come in collision with a tree which the storm had blown across the track, by which the locomotive and tender were thrown off the track. Fortunately nobody was hurt and but little damage was done. A man named Walter, aged about 55 years, was frozen to death in Greenfield township on Tuesday night a week, whilst attempting to go from Claysburg to his home, about three miles distant. When his body was found on the Friday following, a flask partly filled which, it is supposed, he had partaken, and was overcome. WESTMORELAND COUNTY .- On Friday last, the Tannery of Mr. Michael O'Neil, in Mt. Pleasant township, this county, was partly destroyed by fire. The fire originated from the stove pipe. A large amount of leather was damaged to such an extent as to be entirely useless. The loss is about $2,000, and covered by insurance. . . . Mr. William Brown, of Monongahela City, met with an accident near that place on Saturday, which resulted in costing him his life. He was working at a log, which was frozen to the ground on the side of a steep hill. The log started, and before Mr. Brown could get out of the thighs and injuring him internally. Mr. Brown died on Monday. He was formerly a citizen of Greensburg, being a son of the late James Brown. . . . On Wednesday evening the 10th ford. Everything in the shop was burnt, as well as a few articles in the house. The fire originated from a stove pipe Quite a number of petty robberies have been committed lately-among them the shoemaker shop of Samuel West, in Lewistown, was robbed of several pair of boots and shoes; the smoke house of Samuel Comfort of a number of hams, &c., and in other cases, clothing and whatever could be laid hands on-

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY .- The barn of Mrs. D. Huber, in Easton, we learn from the Exress, was destroyed by fire on Friday evening, with all its contents, which were owned by Peter Boas. The presumption is that it was set on fire. Mrs. H's loss is about $300. . . . A Mr. Stetler, of Petersburg, was thrown from his wagon near Bath and seriously injured. He was on his way to Easton, and his horse becoming frightened ran away, throwing him out of the wagon. He was taken to Bath wholly unconscious and is now lying very low.

LANCASTER COUNTY .- On Saturday night, the 13th inst., about 11 o'clock, a fire broke ont in the stable of Hiram Wilson, in Columbia, and communicated to the adjoining stable attached to the property occupied by Martin Currie, and to George Wolf's stable, opposite, all of which were burned to the ground. In Mr. Wilson's stable a valuable horse and three pigs were consumed. The fire was doubtless the work of design.

CLINTON COUNTY .- While a gentleman was crossing the river a few days ago, at Lock Haven, with a horse and buggy, the animal every exertion was made to save him. The horse was owned by Mr. Miller. Several other persons in their attempts to cross with horses, broke through the ice, but by some means were rescued.

BERKS COUNTY .- On Monday of last week a roman named Delb, residing a few miles from Reading, fell from a wagon loaded with furniture, and in endeavoring to ease her fall, extended her hands, and broke both arms just above the wrists.

LEHIGH COUNTY .- Charles M'Carty, a young man of Bethlehem, broke an arm by a fall on the ice, at that place, whilst skating.

A PARLIAMENTARIAN .- The members of the Legislature of many of the new States have among their number some originals, it must be conceded. It is related of the President of the Senate of Minnesota that on a recent occasion addressing his fellow Senators, whom he termed "old hosses," he imformed them that if they "expected the cheer to decide more than six pints at wunst, they were barking up the wrong saplin-that he could tell them." Complaints have been made of the loose manner with which some of our State hoss" who keeps the Minnesotians in order.

EXTRAORDINABY CATTLE .- Forty-nine cattle from South Branch. Va., are on their way to New York, weighing as follows :- The largest of $95 55 cents per head.

BABEL IN NEW YORK .- At one of the recent meetings of the New York Historical Society, Dr Bacon read a paper on the languages spoken in New York. Eighty languages, he said, are used in business and social intercourse among the inhabitants of that city.

A LIGHTNING ROD MAN IN A FIX.

At Cincinnati, the other day, Mr. T. Kingston, who puts up lightning rods, climbed to the top of the spire of St. Paul's Cathedral, two hundred and thirty-five feet, where, having left his ladder below, he clung by his arms and legs fastened the foot of the rod and attached its point-quite a heavy piece of metal -securely as he supposed, to the cross surmounting the steeple. He had just completed this difficult and dangerous task, watched by a number of persons in the street below, and while looking at the work and experiencing that satisfaction which results from hazard passed and labor accomplished, of a sudden, something heavy struck him and made his brain reel until he could hardly see. Instead of losing his hold at once, as would seem to have been the natural and inevitable result, he clung with a power beyond himself and a will superior to his own, closer and instinctively and to his confused senses it appeared that the steeple was tumbling; or that some strange

Some forty seconds-an age to him-must have elapsed before he sufficiently collected his scattered thoughts and subverted conciousness to know that the entire upper part of the red had fallen upon his head, causing the blood to trickle over his forehead, and nearly blind him. He was in a dreadful perplexity not exceed $5,000 or $6,000. Judge Shaw is and most dangerous position. He feared, if he moved, he would go cleaving the air to a terrible death upon the stony street belowand at the same time he knew he could not. in the disorded state of his nerves, and his increasing weakness, retain his grasp, more the result of fate than feeling, much longer. If he stirred he might fall; if he remained he way it rolled over him, breaking one of his certainly would; and so, determined to make at least an effort for his life, he put one foot very cautiously, then his arms, and then moved the other foot; and after half a minute of exertion, and the greatest danger, he touched the proposed Army increase, the country is on the Westmoreland side of the river near the topmost round of the ladder, and in a few seconds more was inside of the steeple and

> Then it was Mr. K's great courage and strength forsook him; his nerves and muscles relaxed; he grew sick unto death; his knees gave way; his vision swam, and he sank upon the platform motionless and insensible. SUCKING UP WATER FROM SAND .- LIVINGSville, were consumed by fire on Wednesday | tone, the African traveller, describes an ingenicus method by which the Africans obtain water in the desert:

"The women tie a bunch of grass to one end of a reed, about two feet long, and insert it in a hole dug as deep as the arm will reach, then ram down the wet sand firmly around it. Applying the mouth to the free end of the reed, they form a vacum in the grass beneath, in which the water collects, and in a short time rises to the month. It will be perceived that this simple, but truly philosophical and effectual method, might have been applied in many cases, in different countries where water was greatly needed, to the saving of life. It seems wonderful that it should have been now first made known to the world, and that it should have been habitually practiced in Africa, probably for centuries. It seems worthy of being particularly noticed, that it may no longer be neglected from ignorance. It may be highly important to travellers on our western deserts and prairies, in some parts of which water is known to exist below the surface."

LONG IMPRISONMENT .- David B. Meech, of Brutus, Cayuga county, Ohio, has a two year old heifer which he lately found alive in his straw stack, where she had been buried for two months and fourteen days. At the time of broke through the ice and perished, although threshing his grain last fall, he made a new straw stack along side of an old one, and soon missed one of his young cattle. Search was made in all directions, but no trace of her could be found, and Mr. M. had given her up as lost, and had almost forgotten the circumstance, when, a few days since, his son in getting straw from the stack discovered that it moved. The straw was immediately taken away, and in a small cavity between the two stack completely surrounded by straw seven feet in thickness was found the lost animal, alive and in good condition. She had eaten the straw in front of her so that, when found, she could take two or three steps backward.

A MISSOURI SPURGEON .- During a late revival in the Baptist Church at Lagrange, a lad 17 years old, who had acquired some notoricty in the town as a theatrical performer, joined the church and prepared himself for the ministry. He has recently been licensed, and has entered on his clerical duties, and so wonderful are his powers, that the whole community is in ecstacies with his efforts. When he preaches the church is crowded; persons legislators treat grave subjects, but we have no from all the country round about flock to hear representatives that can come up to the "old him, and the oldest veterans declare that they never before listened to such thrilling eloquence. The name of the "boy-preacher" is J. B. Fuller.

PARSON BROWNLOW .- The Parson seems to weighs 2800 pounds, and more than half of entertain serious misgivings about the claims them weigh over 2000 pounds, and the whole of the Abolitionists to a place in the Kingdom very valuable mill property, store house and lot weighs 91,580 pounds; being an average of Heaven. Wright of 1867 pounds, and cost $4682—an average to when I die," says the reverend editor, "if I find a regular built Abolitionist there, I shall conclude that he has practised a fraud upon the door-keeper; for in my opinion, a Kansas agitator and freedom shrieker has no more business in our Pather's Kingdom than Commodore Paulding had in Nicaragua when he captured the fillibusters."

POSTSCRIPT.

THURSDAY, 2 O'CLOCK, A. M. Whilst we write our Office is still brilliantly illuminated by a destructive fire which visited our town last night. The fire originated about midnight in a stable known as the Stage stable on the lot adjoining the Mansion House. In a few moments the flames spread to the Mansion House stabling; Hemphill House stables and ice house; W. A. Wallace's and Benj. Spackman's stables; and also the row of buildings known as Shaw's row occupied by

Richards and Radebaugh, Tailors; Richard B. Taylor, Eating Saloon;

T. J. McCullough, Esq., Attorney at Law; Sam. Johnson, Barber; Joseph Goon, Boot and Shoemaker;

Frank Short, Boot and Shoemaker;

thich buildings were burned to the ground. For some time the fire presented a terrific appearnace. It was with the greatest efforts to the spire. He knew not what had occurred, on the part of the citizens that it was prevented spreading to the Mansion House, the row of offices in which ours is located, the cause was about to bring the vast structure to Post Office, Mosson's house and other adjoining premises.

Great credit is due to the Ladies of our town, who worked assidnously in the lines conveving water to the scene of conflagration.

We learn that 4 horses belonging to Foster & Williams were consumed in the flames .-The value of property destroyed will probably the principal loser.

chiefly devoted to the promulgation of information relating to the various Mechanical and Chemical Arts. Manufactures, Agriculture, Patents, Inventions, Engineering, Mill Work, and all interests which the light of Practical Science is calculated to advance. It is issued weekly, in form for binding; it contains annually from 500 to 600 finely executed Engravings, and Notices of American and European Improvements, together with an Official List of American Patent Claims published weekly in advance of all other papers. It is the aim of the editors of the Scientific A. merican to present all subjects discussed in its columns in a practical and popular form. They will also endeavor to maintain a candid fearlessness in combating and exposing false theories and practi-ces in Scientific and Mechanical matters, and thus preserve the character of the Scientific American as a reliable Encyclopædia of Useful and Entertaining Knowledge.

Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.
