

CLEARFIELD, PA., MAY 5, 1858.

CONGRESS .- On Friday, April 30, Mr. English's proposition in relation to Kansas, was passed. In the Senate the vote stood, Yeas 31, Nays 22. In the House, Yeas 112, Nays 103. In the evening the Lecomptonites fired salutes in front both of the Capitol and the White House in honor of their victory and to please the boys, who alone are jubilant. The thoughtful portion of the Administration party regard this as a Bunker Hill victory. They have surrendered almost every point for which they contended at the outset, without having the grace to do so in a frank and manly manner. The Republicans are buoyant and exultant, in spite of their seeming defeat. They regard the overthrow of the Lecompton Democracy as already decreed, and desire no better weapon for future political conflicts than the record of the English swindle.

EMANCIPATION IN RUSSIA .- The emancipation excitement is still kept up in Russia. This "despotic" country is setting an example which should not be lost on the world. The St. Petersburgh Gazette publishes an imperial decree signed by the Emperor Alexander, establishing in the districts of Kiew, Podotia and Volhynia, a preparatory committee for carrying out the emancipation of the serfs in those provinces. One of the members of the local nobility is appointed President. Each committee is to consist of two members of each district, selected from the landed proprietors who have serfs, and of two experienced landed proprietors designated by the head of the local administration. The "autocrat" seems to have more respect for the "mud sills" of society than some of our statesmen.

MONEY A DRUG .- The Phila. Ledger, of Monday, remarks : "Money is now so great a drug in the market, that, sooner than permit it to lie unproductive, capitalists are turning it into railroad bonds and other good stock securities. As for investing in good business paper. the thing cannot be done-there is hardly half as much made as the banks would be glad to discount; indeed, we are credibly informed, that the banks of both this city and New York are seeking good bills at five per cent. and in some instances as low as four. While this stagnation of business continues, and the amount of unemployed capital increases, good stocks are likely to improve, and some, that are not as good as we would wish, are rising with them."

Well: Lecompton Junior has passed :-What then ? Nothing, but a very brief dismissal of the Kansas question from the floor of the two Houses. This bill settles nothing, establishes nothing, but leaves all at as loose ends as ever.

The original Lecompton bill had at least this merit-it assumed to be a finality. Kansas might upset or transform the Constitution thereby imposed on her, but Congress was precluded from again meddling with the subject. True; the question would have come back again, in the shape of contested elections to the House or Senate, or both ; but the bill contemplated nothing of the sort. It professed to remit all that remained of the controversy to the People of Kansas. And what Mr. Green's bill fully professed to do, the Crittenden-Montgomery bill actually did. That bill said to the People of Kansas, "Ratify the "Lecompton Constitution if you like it, and you are in the Union ; if you don't like it, "frame another and fairly ratify it, and you " will then be in the Union, without further " action by Congress." Here was an end of contention, a balm for agitation, a practical end of controversy. The People of Kansas might quarrel further, should they see fit; but Congress resolved and pledged itself to do nothing but secure them fair play. But this English bill does not even aspire to be final. It says, "Accept the Land-Grant as we have "fixed it, and we shall consider you in the " Union under the Lecompton instrument ; reject it, and you may not form another Con-" stitution until a census shall have shown that " you possess a population equal to the Feder-" al ratio for a Member of the House." In the one case, Kansas comes in at once as a Slave State, receiving a large bonus from the Land Sales about to take place ; in the other. she waits for a much larger population, an official census, a formal proclamation of the fact, a Convention and new Constitution, and an acceptance of the latter by Congress. The at least two years longer. For what ? Five thousand sophists, each gifted with miraculous and well-oiled tongues, could not efface the fact that here are heavy bribes offered, and menaces held out, to a harrassed, struggling, impoverished community, designed to impel them to accept a Slave Constitution on the plea that they can change it at pleasure. Here are solid, palpable, immediate advantages proffered to tempt them to this course, with corresponding penalties to be incurred by standing out. If they reject Lecompton by rejecting the modified Land-Grant, they get no Lands at present, no provision for Railroads, no five per cent. on the Proceeds thrust back into Territorial vassalage for an indefinite period, with Denver for their Gov-

PREPARED FOR THE "RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL." ? INDIANA COUNTY .- On the 19th ult., two lads, sons of W. D. Stuchal, of White township went out gunning. The elder brother was walking in front, resting the barrel on the left arm, pointing backwards, which was accidentally discharged, and the contents lodged in the side of the younger brother. He died on the following Wednesday. . . . On the 17th, ult., D. Ausley, Sr., of South Mahoning township, while engaged in making fence, was suddenly attacked by apoplexy, which caused his death in about one hour. . . . On the 24th, ult., a storekeeper in Newville, shipped ten barrels of eggs, and the same day, the Company store, in Indianna shipped 12 barrels. .... William George an old citizen of Young township, committed suicide by hanging himself on the porch of his own house. It is said he has been melancholy for some time. FAYETTE COUNTY .-- On the 20th ult., a little boy of Samuel Snoden of Brownsville, was much hurt by a cow. A female domestic went to milk the cow, accompanied by the child. A dog ran by, passing between the boy and cow. The cow became enraged on seeing the dog, ran at him, but he sprang to one side, and the cow caught the boy on her horns, instead of the dog, and tossed him several times into the air. He was much injured but is getting better. . . . A white perch, weighing nearly 15 pounds, was caught near Brownsville, last week. . . . . A union prayer meeting has been established in the court house, at Uniontown.

LEHIGH COUNTY .- On the 21st ult., Lewis Benninghoff, a teamster in the employ of Col. H. Rupp, met with a shocking accident. He and several others were engaged in cutting feed with a horse-power straw-cutter, when in some manner his right hand was caught and drawn into the machinery, cutting off half inch pieces up to within two inches of the elbow, ere the motion of the cutter could be arrested. His wounds were promply dressed, although little hope is entertained of his re covery. . . . Radishes, asparagus, tettuce, and other vegetables, were sold in the Allentown market last week.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY .- The rotary rag boiler at the paper mill of Messrs. S. B. & C. P. Markle, at West Newton, exploded on Wednesday last. This boiler is used for the purpose of bleaching colored rags, and revolves with great velocity. It was at full speed when the accident occurred, and went out through the roof, tearing it off, and considerably shattering the walls. Fortunately, it did no damage whatever to the main building or to any of the muchinery in it. The damage was strictly confined to the exploded boiler and its immediate connections. No one was injured.

CAMBRIA COUNTY .- A German woman died suddenly on the 10th ult., in Conemaugh boro' and was buried the next day while yet warm in the region of the heart. The circumstances, and especially the haste of her burial, indicate something wrong. . . . A German named Henry Wittick was drowned, in the same boro' on the 21st. He was intoxicated, and fell from the Conemangh bridge. . . . . During the night of the 21st the house of Rev. T. L. Reesey, in Conemaugh, was entered by burof the Lands about to be sold ; and they are glars and thieves, and robbed of various valuable articles and provisions.

Education. 1 am surprised that your columns are not dotted here and there, with arguments to arouse and interest the public mind, on this described real estate, to wit: too much neglected subject. In the absence of better, give place to the following, tho' from one in the humble walks of life; but with a soul full of love and zeal for the cause.

I was happy to see in your paper a notice of a Normal School, to commence the fourth of May next, in the Borough of Curwensville. I am strongly impressed with the fact, that we all should be interested, and feel ourselves under obligation to be active to increase the interest of the school, as it is held especially to benefit Teachers. If our County Superintendent is willing to spend eight weeks, giving instructions, Teachers should avail themselves posible. Are not all the Teachers aware of the cate, the more wages they receive ? It should he the aim of every Teacher, to obtain a Certificate of the first class. It is a fact to be lamented, that some Teachers in the more Rural Districts (having been employed for want of competent ones) are not capable of properly explaining the first principles of Arithmatic and Grammar, or even of pronunciation; and the best teachers have ample room for improvement. Let us pause and consider for one moment, the disadvantages these children labor under with such a teacher. Impressions on the mind of a child are lasting, and false impressions are as lasting as correct ones; the power of memory in retaining past impressions, and its susceptibility of improvement, are vastly greater than is generally imagined. It is reported of Seneca, that he could repeat two thousand verses at once, in their order, and then begin at the end and regle syllable. Cyrns is said to have been able to call every individual of his numerous army by his own name. Cyreneas, who was sent by Pyrrhus to the Senate at Rome, on an expedition, the very next day after his arrival both knew and also saluted by their names all the Senate, and the whole order of the gentlemen in Rome. Thus it appears that children are not only possessed of an ardent desire after knowledge, but are endued with the most penetrating and capacious powers of intellect, both for acquiring and treasuring it up in their minds-powers which appear susceptible of indefinite improvement in this world ; and the inference, that may be drawn from this, is, that they will continue to be exerted with uninterrupted activity, throughout an unceasing duration. Ignorance goes hand in hand with vice and folly. With these truths before us shall we allow our children to have their minds clouded with half doubtful and incorrect teachings ? or shall we urge upon teachers the importance, the necesity of qualifying themselves for this very responsible calling ? I think the response will be let us have our teachers Educated. It would afford me pleasure if I could find language to impress upon the mind of every parent, the importance of having teachers well qualified for intelligently discharging the duties of the school room. In this connection, a word to Directors ; you expect your Superintendent to take upon himself the extra labor of teaching a Normal School a number of

EXTENSIVE MONOPOLY .--- Colt, the inventor of patent fire-arms, is one of the fortunate individuals occasionally met with. He has already received from the Government at Washington, for furnishing revolvers, four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the present Administration has contracted for, or ordered from him three thousand additional, at eighteen dollars each. This monopoly is one of greatest in existence at the present time, and has not been equalled since the expiration of the Woodworth planing machine patent .---Strenuous efforts bave been made by several parties, at different times, to break down Colt's influence with the departments, but they have all signally failed.

SAFELY DELIVERED .- The Philadelphia Daily News, of May 1st, says : "For five months Congress has labored, and at last the mouse comes forth, "an indigest deformed lump." If is certain no one will envy him his hard earned fame. Two illustrious events already mark his history with a brilliancy which is unequalled. The one military : that is the shooting of several women and children by his efficient marine corps; the other civil ; the passage of the notorious English bill. These crown him with laurels, the greenest the world has ever seen. "Let the King live forever !" " ernor, Lecompte and Cato for their Judges, and Buchanan for their Grand Seignior. These are long odds; but the People of Kansas are too strong for them. They will spurn the bribe; they will hold fast their integrity; they will remain a Territory under many disadvantages rather than drop into the Union a slaveholding State. Two or three thousand of them may, perhaps, go in for Lecompton, wealth and infamy, swelling the Pro-Slavery vote to Five Thousand ; but this will not reduce the Free-State vote below Ten Thousand. A full poll is the only requisite ; the popular weariness of election after elec-
