THE RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL,

WILD CAT MONEY .- The recent annoyance consequent upon the suspension of specie payments by the banks, brings to mind an incident which occurred something like twenty years | lips, and forcibly inhaling the breath, the shell ago in a western city. The story may have been published, but we do not remember having seen it in print; at all events we will tell it and run the risk.

At the time we speak of, a gentleman having in his possession ten or twelve hundred dollars on a certain banking institution away out west, went up to the counter one fine morning, and addressed the teller in the following language :

"Good morning, sir. Beautiful weather. Ahem? I have something over a thousand dollars worth of your money in my pocket. Do you redeem ?"

The teller says "Good morning," smiles blandly, and answers :

"We redeem, sir, but we do not pay specie." "Do not pay specie, hey? Suspended, I suppose ?"

"Suspended."

"What do you redeem with then ?" was the next question. ".With bills of other banks " replied the clerk most pleasantly.

"And those, I presume, are also non-specie paying banks ?"

"Very probably they are, sir," bowing po litely.

"Well, then, what kind of bills can you give me ?"

"Most any kind, sir. Give you Red Cat." "Can't stand it."

"Well, then, how's Gray Cat "

"Wouldn't give a straw for a barrel of it."

"What do you say to Black Cat ?"

"Tain't worth a cuss! It wouldn't be any accommodation at all. 1 don't want your inferual Wild Cat money-neither Red Cat, Grey Cat, Black Cat, White Cat, or Tom Cat. I wouldn't use it to litter a horse with. Haven't you got some money on Eastern banks ?"

"No, sir,"-softly and very polite-"Eastern banks are principally specie-paying institutions."

"If not Eastern, then, have you bills on any other banks that do pay out specie."

"No, sir," said the teller, most courteously. "Well, then," drawing his package from his pocket with a desperate expression of countenance-"can you give me tolerably executed counterfeit bills on any bank that does pay specie ?"

"No, sin !" very loud, and looked as if he felt himself insulted.

UMBRELLAS .- It is but a hundred years since an Englishman named Jonas Hanway, having Tuesday and Fridays at 112 A. M., and dereturned from his "travels in the east" (the record of which is still preserved in voluminous quarto form, with that title in some old day at 6 A. M., and returns same day at 8 p.m. libraries.) appeared on the steets of London on a rainy day, (it does rain in England sometimes,) with a queer notion imported from China, in the shape of what is now called an ture in the apex, and a corresponding aperture in the base, and by applying the egg to the is entirely discharged of its contents." "Bless my soul," cried the old lady, "what wonderful improvements they do make! Now in my young doys we just made a hole in each end and sucked."

"I have no fear that the devil will ever come for me," said a yonng man of questionable morals. "He will not be silly enough to take the trouble," said a bystander, "for you are going straight to him."

It is calculated that there are no less than twenty-eight miles of tubing on the human body, from which water will escape as insensible perspiration.

umbrella. It was the first ever seen or used in England, probably the first in Europe. It attracted such curious and indignant notice, that the eccentric Jonas was soon surrounded by a furious English mob, and was boldly pelted with mud and other convenient missiles, for his presumptious audacity in thus attempting to screen his head and figure from the rain. which true born Englishmen, from time immemorial, had allowed to beat upon them without resistance, as an "inevitable" visitation from the powers above upon all who chose to leave the shelter of a roof in a storm or a shower. The incident made a noise, and, in spite of ridicule, the "outlandish, new fashioned notion" began to "take mightily" with the extensively bedrizzled people of England, and as the new machine was found to be as effective in protecting the person against the rays of the summer's sun, as against the falling rain, the learned condescended to borrow a name for it from the Latin dimunitive form of "umbra'-a shade-"umbrella"-a little shade. Poor Jonas Hanway's innovation, so unpopular at first, merely shows what disadvantage it is to a man to be a few years in advance of the age.

FOUND HIS CROWD .- A young man, clad in homespun, was standing in Court street a few days since, devouring a doughnut, when he was accosted by a half dozen genteel dressed city idlers, with-"Jest come down ?"

"Yeas, guess I have ; great place this, ain't it yeou ?" said the countryman.

" 'Tis so bub, how's your marm ?" asked the city buck, bent on sport with "greeny." "Waal, she's putty well ; she sent me down here on business." "She did ? What kind of business are you on ?"

"Why, she wanted me to come deown to Bostin, and look reound and find half a dozen of the biggest fules in Bostin, and bring 'em up to the country to edicate 'em, and I rether guess I've got my eye on 'em neow,'' said the stranger, taking in the whole crowd at a glance.

The next moment he had the edgestone to himself, where he quietly finished his doughnut

The editor of one of our exchanges has grown melancholly, and took to writing poetry. Here is a verse from his pen, addressed to a young lady whom he fell in love with, but who Solvent banks, rejected him on account of his poverty :

"Now if I could your hand diskiver, I vow I'd swim the Maumee river, And to win so fresh a bud. I'd wade up to my neck in mud."

When Mrs. Porter was about to marry Dr. Johnson, she told him, with the greatest frankness, that she had once an uncle who was hanged. The doctor, with equal candor and courtesy, replied that was perfectly immaterial Rock River BK. Beloit 21 to him, for though he had no uncle hanged, yet many of his relatives deserved hanging !
