FORNEY ON BUCHANAN.

Raftsman's Journal. and show up the President in his true colors. The following quotation from the speech literally impales Mr. Buchanan, and must convince his most partial friends that his whole course in reference to Kansas has been marked by treachery and deceit. The demagogue may be traced in every word attributed to the President, in this extract :

"I did not for a moment believe that the Administration had concluded to abandon the principles which had put them in power; that they were resolved to make their policy a test; so when I went to Washington and called upon my old friend, I said to him, 'Mr. Buchanan, for the first time in our lives we are at variance ; I find myself standing by one principle, having followed your lead, and you have deserted it." "Well,' said he, scan't you change too? [Laughter.] If I can afford to change, why can't you afford to change ? [Renewed laughter.] If you and Donglas and Walker will unite in support of my policy, there will The following are the People's candidates not be a whimper of this thing ; it will pass by like a summer breeze.' I told him it was well for Congress in Philadelphia :- 1st District, with an Administration surrounded with office John W. Ryan; 2d, Edward Joy Morris; 3d, helders, and living all the time in the atmos-John P. Verree ; and 4th District, Wm. Millphere of flattery, that was followed by thousands of gentlemen who expected place; that In the Chester district, Hon. John Hickman they could come to him and say, 'You are right, Mr. Buchanan; we are down on our belis the candidate of the anti-Lecompton Demolies; please to walk over us-please trample crats for Congress; Mr. Landy, of Delaware, upon us and we will be happy and content, and is the Lecompton candidate, and Mr. Broom. one you will believe your policy is right."

"But I tell you,' said I, there is a still small voice in the people that instinctively rejects frauds, and this is not only a fraud but a dishonor. I do not claim to be more honest ceived the nomination of the People's party than any other man. I have done as all polifor Congress. Thad. Banks, Esq., is the choice ticians have-some things which may not square exactly with the rules of religion and right, and which, if I have, I regret them, but this thing will not do. [Loud cheers.] I have reached the stature and years of manhood and I cannot go back to Pennsylvania to eat my own words and become the slave of power. [Renewed cheers.] I cannot. But then Mr. Buchanan, you must tolerate this difference of opinion. Gen. Jackson tolerated differences of opinion in his friends. Col. Polk tolerated differences of opinion, and you differed with him in his views on the tariff, and yet you remained in his cabinet. Mr. Pierce tolerated differences of opinion. But here you are .-Men who put you where you are-who ask nothing at your hands_who have refused your favors-have trampled all the patronage that has been offered them under foot; here they are, asking to be tolerated in the indulgence Congress by the Democrats of the 12th Conof an honest opinion. The reply to that was, Sir, I intend to make my Kansas policy a test.' 'Well, sir,' said I, 'I regret it; but if you make it a test with your officers, we will make it a test at the ballot.box."" [Lond cheers.]

large and enthusiastic anti-Lecompton meet. supervision the contract for water pipes was ing at Tarrytown, New York, and assisted his sent to Scotland to fill, has been engineering friend, Hon. John B. Haskin, by making a the government into another scrape. The speech, which is said to have caused a flutter correspondent of the New York Times gives of excitement at Washington. Mr. Forney's the details as follows :

disclosure possess a historical significance, "A very curious and suspicious proceeding has just reached one stage of its development at Rockville, the county town of Montgomery county, Maryland. By a pure oversight, of course, of the Superintendent of the Washington Aqueduct, on which five millions of dollars, more or less, have been expended, has gone on spending the money of the Government without having condemned, according to law, a strip of land two or three hundred feet wide, belonging to the Little Falls Manufacturing Company and to other proprietors. At the rate at which Capt. Meigs has paid for other land on the line of the works, the expense of extinguishing title to the strip in controversy would have been one thousand dollars. But the Government did not choose to proceed in the regular and usual mode. The work is so far advanced that no other route can be taken, and the interests of the public are completely within the power of the speculating confederates of the land owners .-What common prudence would have forescen has taken place. The Government must stop the work or pay two hundred times more than the property is worth. A trial has been had under a concurrent law of Maryland and of the United States, at Rockville, and a verdict business and when returning home in their a month." A general average was struck, resulting in $150,000. A vast array of counsel was engaged for the speculators, whose united fees will be over $25,000. Two noted operators in private claims watched the proceedings with deep interest, and came down to the city in high glee, in the assured confidence of mint-drops.

> A VERY SINGULAR INCIDENT .- The Lancaster Times of Thursday the 9th says: "Yesterday evening, at a quarter before seven o'clock, a young man was riding down Lime street on a grey horse, and just as he got opposite to a large maple tree, in front of Mr. Baldwin's door, the tree fell, with a sudden crash, on the horse and rider, enveloping the twain with its branches and foliage. In an instant afterwards the horse jumped out and over the limbs of the fallen tree, and made down Lime street at the top of his speed, until the rider reined him up. This did not end this singular incident, inasmuch as the young man rode back very leisurely and looked at the miraculous escape he had made a moment before. The horse did not look quite so composed upon the retrospect, but showed a strong disposition to leave the scene of his unexpected adventure. The tree is two feet across the stump, and the main outspreading branches were so formed as to spread enough to admit the horse and rider between. The atmosphere was perfectly calm at the time, and the whole affair seemed more like romance than any ordinary incident.

PREPARED FOR THE "RAFTSMAN'S JOURNAL." CAMBRIA COUNTY .- The Sheriff of Cambria county offers a reward of fifty dollars, for the arrest of James Willett, the lad who committed an outrage upon the daughter of Mr. Pickworth, near Johnstown, and who recently escaped from the jail at Ebensburg. Willet is in English boy, about eighteen years of age, fat faced, and heavy set. His hair is long and bushy, and his general appearance is rough.

.... The Cambria county Agricultural Fair will be held at Ebensburg, on the 5th, 6th, and 7th of October. . . . A number of affrays have recently occurred in Johnstown. On Sunday evening a riot occurred at a drinking house, in which the assailing party struck the proprietor several times on the head with a hatchet. On the same evening, a man was shockingly beaten near the Iron Bridge, by some person unknown. The wounds inflicted are said to be quite serious. Several other affrays had occurred, in one of which the gentler sex figured conspicuously, but from this no serious results are anticipated. At a dancing party on Saturday night, a difficulty between a man named Errenstreeth and another named Beamish occurred. The former followed the latter from the house ands tabbed him, causing instant death.

HUNTINGDONCOUNTY .- TheHuntingdon Journal says a dreadful accident occurred to David Myerley and his two daughters who resided near Cassville, in this county, on Monday the 6th inst. They had been at Huntingdon on train of cars at the crossing about two miles below Huntingdon. The crossing is so situated that neither party could see any distance. the wagon was just cleverly across the road when the train came in sight, and the borses backed the wagon on the track just as the train horses, and the wagon was precipitated into ty-eight or thirty hours, and died. He was about sixty-two years of age. The elder daughter is a widow, and although severely injured. will probably recover. The younger daughter is able to be about.

BUTLER COUNTY .- As the wife and son of aptain Jacob Walters were returning from camp meeting, on the 6th, in a one horse buggy, the horse ran down the hill, when within about one and a half mile from Butler, and taking a short turn in a lane, the buggy upset, and threw both to the ground. They were seriously injured. There was a frolic at the use of Mr. Wolf, in Summit township, on the 6th. It broke up about twelve o'clock .--Two young men by the name of Greenert and Swabel were going home, Greenert shotSwabel, who was a fittle ahead of him, in the small of the back, with a pistol, the ball entered the kidneys-supposed to be fatal. Greenert has not been taken yet.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY .- A woman named Budd, was drowned at the Chain Dam, a short time since, being thrown by the tow-line on her husband's boat, where she was, into the river. The husband, half frantic with grief, jumped in immediately and caught hold of her, bringing her up twice, but her weight being too much for him, he was compelled, the second time, to let go his hold of her, when she

of the horses, was the beauty of the Polish Women of the better classes. During two years in Europe, I have not seen so great a number of handsome faces as I saw in an hour yesterday. It would be difficult to furnish a larger portion from the acknowledge loveliness of Philadelphia, Baltimore, or Louisville. I heard of an American marrying a Polish lady at Dresden, the other day, and I must commend his taste. These maids of Warsaw are not only radient blondes, whose eyes and hair remind you of corn flowers among ripe grain, but also dark-eyed beauties, with faces of a fall Southern oval, lips round and delicate as those of an Amorate, and a pure golden transparency of complexion .--The connoisseur of woman's beauty can nowhere better compare those rival styles, nor have so great a difficulty in deciding between them

Wandering along the streets with throats full of dust, we were attracted to the sign of a Bavarian beer shop. The proprietor soon learned that we were strangers. He was very desirous of importing a negro girl from America for a bar-maid. "I should have all the nobility of the city here," said he. "She would be a great curiosity. There is what toman Pastrana, with the hair all over her face -she made a great fortune, they say. There are not many of the kind, and if I could get one quite black, with a woolly-head, I should make more money in a day, than I now do in clined.

THE SANDS OF EGYPT SOLD FOR MUMMY RAOS IN BOSTON .- A singular fraud was discovered by a paper manufacturing company in becoming very much frightened, pranced and backed the wagon on the track just as the train linded to purchased of a New York firm about came up, the engine struck the wagon with sixty bales of linen rags, said to have been such force as to throw Mr. Myerley and eldest taken from Egyptian mummies. The New daughter to the ground and the younger daugh-ter was thrown upon the cow-catcher, the force and say that they sold them to the Boston of the train by some means disengaged the Company as they received them from Egypt. The rags were observed to be exceedingly the cinal. Mr. Myerley lingered about twen- gritty, and an examination was made of each of the sixty bales, which, together, weighed forty thousand pounds. The examination, which was accomplished chiefly by threshing. resulted in procuring 18,000 lbs. of clear sand from the sixty bales! It was evidently mixed in as the rags were packed. Large quantities of sand have threshed out of wool which has been imported into this country from Alexandria within the past year.

ANOTHER YANKEE INVESTION .- A strange car passed through New Haven, Ct., on Thursday, built in Lowell, Mass., for some western concern, and it is to establish a new era in trade. It was eighty-five feet in length by eighty feet wide, arranged with counters and shelves, like a common dry goods store, and is so constructed that its width can be regulated by machinery, so as to be made twice the ordinary width of a rail car. There are no windows in the side but the end and top are furnished with lights. The height of the car is such, that it interfered seriously with some of the bridges over the old canal bed, and in one instance resulted in some damage. It is supposed to be the intention of the proprietor to make a traveling dry goods store of it, and "switch of?" where he pleases.

The object of this paragraph is too apparent to require comment. There is another matfew words. On the day named, the editor of of Col. Tom. This petty proscripwere not some arrangements for a meeting, tion cannot certainly benefit the Administraand we informed him there were none. His allusions, in the article we onote from, to " "innocent Abigail' expres- was elected by slavery propagandists for a sions worn by the "knowing ones," " we therefore consider uncourteous, and as casting reflections upon our individual veracity. News from Europe to the 28th ult., have been recieved by the steamship Asia, which arrived at Halifax on the Sth. A telegraph Congress, in which France and other parts of the continent were represented, had been opened at Berne. A new French Naval Station is to be created for the eastern coast of Africa. The reported reconciliation between Austria and Russia has been formally denied. A military expedition is being prepared at Madrid, the immediate destination of which is Havana. Naples is said to have accepted the conditions of England and France. Further riots had taken place in Candia, in which ten Christians had been killed. The Porte had demanded the recall of the Greek Consul at Candia. Later advices fromIndia contain nothing noteworthy. TheBritish troops are engaged in hunting up the Oude rebels and in destroying their mud fortifications.

KANSAS.-Governor Deuver, of Kansas, has published a letter, by way of reply to various petitions presented to him, by residents of that Territory, requiring him to convene an extra session of the Legislature. The Governor declines to call this extra session, showing that at the present time there are no members of the Legislature, whose official terms have not expired. He also expresses the opinion that the next election should be held under the last apportionment, according to the act of February 20th, 1857. He concludes by saying that he has consulted the President and the Attorney General of the United States on this point, and both agree that the next election should be held under this apportionment.

Much excitement has prevailed in New York city during the last two weeks in consequence of the burning of the Quarantine buildings or Staten Island, by a mob. The rebels have taken a bold stand, 'and a number of arrests have been made. Gov. King, has proclaimed the county of Richmond in which the Quarantine is located, in a state of insurrection, called out the military to protect the establish. ment, directed the authorities to rebuild the hospitals, and ordered the District Attorney to prosecute the rioters, and sue the county of Richmond for damages. The recent spread of the yellow fever is the incentive which prompted the mob to burn the quarantine buildings.

THE WEALTH OF GEN. CASS .- The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, in noticing Gen. Cass, says :- "His whole life has been luck. When he left Detroit to take the War Department he gave orders to his agent to sell a large tract of land adjoining the town. He was to sell it for $30,000. After some time the agent wrote he had been offered $33,000. Gen. Cass instantly replied: "Don't sell till further orders." He would have quickly taken his own fixed price, but, being offered more, he must look further. The property is now covered by the best part of a flourishing city, and is worth $3,000,000."

LIFE in New York is graphically described in two local items in the Tribune of the '7th inst .- one recording the performances of a Mr. Mulligan, a member of the common coun. cil, in knocking down a girl at a bawdy house. whom he charged with stealing his watchand the other the robbery of a poor working girl, named Henrietta Clendon, from New Haven, who was on her way to California, and fell into the hands of some scoundrels, who sold her a spurious ticket for $110,00.

WHAT CIGARS ARE MADE OF .- An invoince of foreign cigars, "real Havanas," were recently appraised at the New York Custom House at $3 per thousand, but the importer being dissatisfied, a new appraisement was made, which resulted in the admission of the cigars at $1 50 per thousand. The evidence inder oath, by which the change in the appraisement was made, was this-that not a particle of tobacco entered into the composition of said cigars but that they were composed of oak and other leaves soaked in a strong

THE ILLINOIS SENATORSHIP .- From present appearances, we think there will be no election for an U.S. Senator by the Legislature to be chosen in Illinois this fall. The two Houses acts square fairly with the opinions of the act separately in balloting, and the Senate can hardly fail to attain a majority of the friends on Saturday last. He was employed in a of Douglas; thirteen members hold over, most of them anti-Lecompton, and the opposition must elect eight of the twelve to be chosen this fall to secure a majority. If no election takes place, there can be no choice before 1861, as the sessions of the Legislature are biennial .- Louisville Journal.

A boy aged eleven years met death in a most horrible manner, recently. in Illinois, Mr. Burnap had been reaping with a machine. and left the boy seated on the machine, in charge of the team. While thus seated he observed a snake close by, and called out to his companion, (another boy.) at the same time cracking his whip. This started the horses, and he was jerked off and thrown in front of the sickle. Almost instantly the boy was completely cut to pieces. Both legs and one arm were severed from the body, and the heart torn out.

A SPECULATION .- It is stated that the Washington aqueduct has already cost the government five millions of dollars, and is not half completed. Here is one item of the expense :

"There was a little strip of land in Rockville, Maryland. It was worth less than $100. being made up of nothing but a swamp, with bull frogs to cover it. It had to be taken for the aqueduct, and to make things right all around, the sum of $150,000 was paid for it." ----

The Philadelphia News suggests that, inasmuch as the Government has contracted with Scotch parties" for water pipes for the Washington aqueduct at an advance of eighty-five cents a ton over American prices, it should also contract with the same parties for the supply of water, instead of paying one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the use of Potomac water, as it is about to do. The advantage would be that the pipes could be brought over ready filled.

When taken out his skull was fractured and portions of his body burnt to a crisp. He died the same night at 11 o'clock, after the most excruciating agony.

LEBANON COUNTY .- A young lady named Catharine Light, daughter of Mr. John Light of Swatara township, was instantly killed at Jonestown, on Thursday, 2d inst., by jumping from a carriage while the horses were running away, and falling with her head upon a pile of scantling near the road. DEPORTMENT IN A RAILROAD CAR .- A trial took place a month ago at Rouen, in France, that affords a good precedent for judicial action the world over. Two fellows, pretending to be gentlemen, were pleased to talk indecently in a railroad car, even after an angry remonbe with his daughter in an opposite seat.
