For the "Raftsman's Journal." WHAT IS EDUCATION?

This is a question that is often asked, and nearly as often improperly answered. It is very evident, to every candid observer, that there are wrong impressions prevalent in regard to this subject. Any who doubt this assertion, to be convinced of its truthfulness. only need mingle with the masses of the people, for a short time, and converse with them on the subject of education. Every man seems to have his own peculiar ideas about what constitutes an education. And it is perfectly right, in this land of freedom, for every man to enjoy his own opinion; but a person who has the happiness of thinking as he pleases, should be very careful that he thinks right -that he comes to correct conclusions before he establishes himself in his opinions. On subjects of minor importance it is not so necessary that all see, think and act alike, but on a subject so momentous as Education it is highly important that right views be entertained-that persons be agreed as to what constitutes it, and that there be a co-operation between the friends of education, parents, children, and teachers.

I do not wish to be understood in this as a busing any man's opinion. Neither do I desire to rob any educational creed of the good it possesses. I wish, simply, to state my views-to tell what I think is not, and what is education. And after a candid, thorough, patient and thoughtful hearing, I leave the reader to judge whether I am reasonable or not. The origin and meaning of the term are the first things that shall claim our attention, by a definition of which we may be led to a better understanding of the subject.

The term Education is of Latin origin. It comes from the Latin words e and duco, which mean to lead or bring out, with the suffixes t, (thing done,) and ion, (act of.) Hence its literal signification is the act of leading, or bringing out; and, in its application to mankind, means the leading, bringing, or drawing out, and due development of the whole man with all his faculties and powers. And nothing short of the cultivation of the whole man is worthy the name of Education.

Some think that education is completed when the child has learned to name the words in reading, whether he understands them or not; to write a miserable scrawl, and to cipher to the "Rule of Three." Others going a little farther, would add a fine hand-writing, a respectable knowledge of Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, and something of Composition and Letter-writing. Others go still farther and say a child is not educated till he has a knowledge of Grammar, Geography, Philosophy, and Algebra. These are all very good as far as they go, and, indeed, very necessary. But it is very evident that they fall far short of an ed-

Others take a more comprehensive view of the subject and advocate what is called a collegiate education. They think if they send their sons and daughters to some celebrated institution of learning, where they may pass through a course of studies and receive diplomas, they have done nobly-they have educated their children. But here is a sad mistake. The fact of a man's having received the title of A. B. or A. M. does not prove that he is educated. Notwithstanding this, he may be as destitute of physical training as a child of five summers. A man may have risen almost to the climax of human excellence in regard to intellectual improvement, and yet be a poor, puny, weakly creature, not able to endure the fatigues of a single day's labor. I do not wish to be understood as discarding colleges and other institutions of learning, but I do disapprove of the manner in which some of them are conducted.

But, says another, to intellectual improvement I would add that of physical training. But, pray sir, will this better the matter any. It will only make it worse; because having a superior mental and physical training only gives the possessor the double advantage of defrauding his fellow men and of enforcing subjection to his unjust measures. This has already stigmatized education. Persons of superior mental training alone, will take the advantage of others, and then the incensed party will say that education makes men rogues. Education, however, disowns such childrenthey are not hers. They ever have been an injury and a disgrace to the cause, and will be until education is properly understood. Who has not heard lazy fellows say, "I'll go to school and get an education, and then I'm not going to slave myself this way; I'll live without work." Many say so and try to act it out in life. But are they educated? I answer, No. They are in possession of a little learning, and it is proving a dishonor to themselves and a curse to the world. They are robust, witted fellows, and can carry their point at any hazard; if not by words, then by blows. They are trained intellectually and physically, but what has become of their moral nature ? Alas! it has been sadly neglected! Thus they are unprincipled men; but education has not made them so. They never were educated. That destructive sword, man's evil nature, has been unsheathed and sharpened to a polished brightness, and the bearer, unrestrained, turned loose to commit unsufferable outrages upon his fellow men, and at last use it to his own everlasting destruction. Better have less learning and more education.

What, then, asks the reader, is Education? It is a physical, moral, and intellectual training. It is not the leading out of a part of the man to the neglect of the others, but it is an equal development of all the faculties. "Edneation," says Noah Webster, "comprehends all that series of instruction which is intended to enlighten the understanding, correct the temper, and form the manners and habits of youth, and fit them for usefulness in their future stations;" and, to be more explicit, he might have added, both in this life and in that which is to come. As no man can build a house without a foundation on which to rest it, so a man to be educated must have physical strength; and as no house can exist without a frame or body, so the mind must have intellectual training; and as the foundation and body can neither be of much service, nor yet be called a house, without a roof, so a man without moral training is neither prepared to be thoroughly useful, nor is he educated. So we must come to the conclusion, that to be educated, a man must have not only a devel-

A CARD FROM DR. JAMES M. JAR-RETT, OF THE NEW-YORK LUNG IN-FIRMARY .- My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research -aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation-has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs of the in-tegument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseas:s, yet I deem it very neces-sary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported and after due consideration. I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public. I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all dis eases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case. Inhaling Vapors. Medical Inha-ers. &c., &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS -My terms of treatment by letter are as follows. viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus.

Payment as follows: S6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE. IMPORTANT TO TOBACCO CHEWERS Dr. Gustav Linnard's Taste Restorative Troches the Great Substitute for Tobacco - It is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe MENTAL AND PHYSICAL disorders to which the race of man is subject, as cureful analasis and long and painful experience have clear-ly proven that it contains certain parcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased. TOBACCO affects also she entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character. The "Taste Restorative Troches" are designed to counteract those baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of eases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitia-ted or destroyed by great indulgence, complete-ly removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat-which are always onsequent upon abstaining from the use of To bacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stom-

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobagow

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a con-venient and portable form at the low price of 50 cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade. Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.

JAMES E. BOWERS, Druggist, Corner 2d and Race streets, Philadelphia April 14, 1858-1y. HAMMONTON LANDS .- New England Settlement .- Rare Opportunity .- To all Settlement.—Rare Opportunity.—To all wanting Farms—in a healthy place, twenty-five miles from Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, New Jersey. An old estate has recently been opened for sale, and the first division of 10,000 acres divided up into farms of 20 aeres and upwards. The soil is of the best quality for the production of fruits, grains, &c. The price is $15 to $20 per acre, payable in easy quarter yearly instalments, within a term of four years, with interest. The terms are made easy, in order to insure the rapid improvement of the land, by enabling every industrious man to buy a farm. is now being extensively improved by good roads and some of the best citizens from New England and the Middle States are erecting large improvements. It is a scene of the greatest improvement out of Philadelphia. Seventy-five houses have been built in 4 months. Practical farmers and business men from the length and breadth of the Union are settling there. It is an important business place, on account of its being in the midst of a great market. Every article raised on this land finds an immediate sale. The water is excellent, and no such thing as fever is known. The soil is a sandy or clay loam, with a clay bottom and rstentive of manures. It is free of stones and easily worked. It abounds largely in the phosphates, and such is its fertility that from the crops produced both upon this land and the area adjoining under cultivation, it will be found not to be excelled anwhere in the production of crops most adapted to its market. The reader may be well aware that the earliest and the best fruits and vegetables come from New Jersey, which are annually exported to the amount of millions of dollars. The land, besides being accessible in every way for tertilizers, has an abundant supply of the best quality of muck manure.

There are three trains daily to Philadelphia, and to all those who improve the railroad compa ny gives a free ticket. The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see the land under cultivation; they will meet persons, no doubt, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements, and can judge of the character of the population. Persons should come prepared to purchase, as many are locating, and cations are not held on refusal.
