THE JOURNAL.

CLEARFIELD, PA., DEC. 8, 1858.

THE RIVER has been high for several days, in consequence of the sudden melting of the snow and the falling of rain. We observed a timber rait passing down the river yesterday morning, and we understand that a few more will be started, if the water keeps up, which is altogether probable from present appearances.

Music .- The attention of our citizens is directed to the card of Miss Constant, in our ad vertising columns. A rare opportunity is now presented to persons who are desirous of receiving instructions in music, and they should not fail to embrace it. Miss C. is also fully competent to give lessons in French, that being her native language.

ALL LIVING YET .- It is a noticeable fact that all the men who have held the position of Sheriff of Clearfield county, since its organization, are yet living, and that with the exception of two, they all reside at this day within the limits of the county.

In 1822, Greenwood Bell was elected.

In 1825, William Bloom was elected. In 1828, Lebbeus Luther was elected.

In 1831, James Ferguson was elected.

In 1834, Robert Ross was elected.

In 1837, A. K. Wright was elected. In 1840, George Leech was elected.

In 1843, Eilis Irwin was elected.

In 1846, John Stites was elected.

In 1849, Alexander Caldwell was elected. In 1852, William Powell was elected.

In 1855, Josiah R. Reed was elected.

In 1858, Frederick G. Miller was elected.

Lebbeus Luther resides now in Elk County, and John Stites in one of the Western States.

LOAFERS .- Habitual loafers are one of the greatest curses that can afflict a community. Their example is pernicious; the loss of their labor and skill is a draw back to prosperity and business; and as they must eat and wear clothes, they are bound to subsist off the industrious part of the people procuring what they need by a system of "Jeremy Diddling," by buying on credit and never paying, by false pretences, or stealing. You will find them often, as well or better dressed than those who are industrious, seeking prominence on public occasions, and more officious in public atfairs than those who pay all the public charges. They are the first to make a commotion about, and take the lead in affairs in which of all others they have the least interest, thereby bringing trouble and cost on those who have interests at stake and who must pay expenses. "The devil finds some mischief still,

For idle hands to do :" and a watchful and jealous eye should be kept on habitual and persistent idlers, who, having ing individual who boiled his hams in sherry the ability to engage in business, prefer to epend their time in loafing around, vitiating others by their example.

MEDICAL OCACES AND IMPOSTERS .- It is lamentable fact that people generally are ever ready to avail themselves, when sick, of the advice of quacks and imposters. Almost every itinerating humbug that comes alongeither of the old country or our own-gets some anxious deluded patient in his clutches and after fleecing him to the utmost farthing, suddenly decamps for other parts, to pursue still further his swindling operations. How long will people suffer themselves to be thus cheated and deceived? How much longer will they consent to have "Dr. So-and-so, recently from England ;" or Professor somebody else, formerly of some State Penitentiary, practice upon their credulity, and finally run off with their pocket-books and contents? off with their pocket-books and contents? and laboring man. They need what is their due Itinerant quack humbuggery in medicine is and to put off their appeals by frivolous excuses perhaps more prevalent than in any other profession or calling. Persons, when sick or diseased, are ready and anxious to try almost anything they may bear of, that will be likely in the smallest degree to afford them relief. Hence these multiplied impositions. If people would consult a physician of known respectability and standing, one of their own fellow-citizens, who has made medicine and the human system the study of his life, they would be more likely to have their health restored and their money saved; while they would at the same time, greatly contribute towards driving all pretending characters from their assumed calling, to some honest trade or business for a livelihood. It should be observed as a general rule, applicable in all cases and without exception, that a physician of note or skill is never compelled to travel from place to place, hanging his shingle on the mearest tree or fence, in order to obtain practice. His reputation and fame may travel, but he is permanently located somewhere, supported by the confidence and patronage avhich his ability and knowledge are sure to HIGH TIMES IN NEBRASKA .- The Nebraska Legislature appears to be composed of a set of regular fisticushing backwoods-men. On the 3d ult. the members of the Assembly having each received $40, bought a lot of champaigne, and got on a regular "bender." After the liquor had all been disposed of, they returned to the hall to resume business, many of them so "dead drunk" that they could not sit out hunting on the prairie, and passing into apright on their seats. Soon a difficulty arose between the Speaker and a gentleman, which commenced by a vigorous application of a cane to the back of the Speaker, and was con- his gun twice in succession, the first load-a tinued for some time, during which all the members who were able, joined in the fight. It is said that only one man remained sober, after the Indian habit, to take care of the rest. [We wonder whether that wasn't our friend E. S. D .- ED. JOERNAL.

STRANGE .- A short time since, a farmer who resides about five miles from Hamilton, C. W .. wisited that city on business, and while there met with an accident which caused the dislocation of the vetebre of his neck, The unless condition, being unable to move hands or in a word, he has a living head but a dead body.
