one or two of our cotemporaries, in discussing the question of what course should be pursued by the People's State Convention which is to recet at Harrisburg on the 8th inst., have permitted their valor to get the better of their discretion, and threaten to "play smash and break things," if certain specified matters are not done and others left undone. No one, we presume, will consider it improper in them making suggestions to the Convention; but the idea of a few persons making the adoption of a dogma, perhaps of an impracticable character, or the rejection of a proposition that might be politic and well-timed, a condition of their abiding by, or seceding from the action of a Convention, is, to say the least of it, imprudent. It is an attempt to force the opinions of the few upon the many-of one man trying to control a whole party- and is, in effect, saying that the members of the Convention are not capable of performing the duty entrusted to them by their constituents, and will throw aside their own views and adopt such as these imperious, self-constituted dictators demand. If all these worthies ask is to be submitted to, there is little need of holding a Convention-all that would be necessary would be the issuing of an edict, setting forth their wishes, and requiring strict obedience to the same under penalty of their dire displeasure. It seems to us, that if these extremely wise and valorous gentlemen would have suppressed their threats, their suggesvor than they will be under existing circumstances, and they would have been free of the embarrassment they will be in if the Convention happens to pay no attention whatever to their demands. We have no doubt of the Convention doing what will be discreet and right-that it winter. One farmer in Marion county, we will consult the feelings and interests of the learn, lost sixty head in fifteen successive masses, despite the menaces of those whose motto appears to be-"rule or ruin."

WALKER AT HIS OLD TRICKS .- The little bold because he presumes on the lenity of the national government, and it is a pity that he cannot be brought to condign punishment, in North American:

"The ramored fillibustering movement of ing to the Administration, just at the time when our difficulties in Central America are about being adjusted. His destination is only suspected, not known, though the special objest of his visit to California, two months ago, was well understood to be a recruiting expedition, which the imperfect intelligence now received seems to verify substantially. The District Attorney and Marshal in San Francisco had instructions which ought to have prevented the exodus of any such organized force, and their remissness, or culpable negleet, can hardly be excused, after the notoricty of Walker's presence and proceedings. The instructions to the Home Squadron, most Aspinwall and San Juan, are positive, and require the arrest of any armed expedition. If Walker should be taken, it is to be hoped he will be brought into some port where the laws of the United States can be properly enforced, and this discreditable farce of bringing him home for trial, and then releasing him, cannot be repeated, as it has been too often. He has done much mischief already, besides sacrificing the lives of thousands of deluded fol-

The case of the Oberlin slave rescuers, who were recently convicted and sentenced by the U. S. District Court at Cleveland, presents another new phaze, and one which will, no doubt, lead to serious results. The State Court has issued a writ of habeas corpus, which has been duly served upon the U.S. Marshal. The U. S. Attorney General has given instructions to the Marshal not to produce the prisoners on any writs emanating from the State Courts. On the other hand, Governor Chase says the State writs shall be respected mong the friends of the two powers.

The Charleston, S. C., Mercury says it is "a this Union." It adds :- "Disunion would be fatal in every point of view to Black Republicanism. They know it well, and would seek to prevent it, if they had the power and could | feet five and three-fourths inches in height, succeed, even at the point of the sword. must be fine fun for sperimen.

THE WAR AND BREADSTEFFS .- The Econonist, alluding to the rapid rise in the price of breadstuffs, owing to the war, speculates as follows upon the probable demand upon this ritory, a large portion of which is as fertile as train, and a citizen of Tyrone, was killed by country for a supply :- "Among 80,000,000 of any in the State, with a population of at least people, the taking of 600,000 men, that is one out of 130, more or less, from ordinary occupations, will have but little influence upon has never yet desolated, with her beautiful production, and no more upon consumption than will be caused by waste. What they actually cat as soldiers is less than what they get at home. A large portion of these are idlers from the cities, and in Europe the labor of agriculture is customarily performed by females. No conscript is taken where his labor is necessary to his family. The mere movement of the men is of no commercial importance. If this is confined to Northern Italy, while all the ordinary sources of supply are undisturbed, the commercial effect of the war will hardly be felt. There never was a more propitious moment for war than now, since crops of all sorts in Europe are very abundant and cheap, and enterprise not recovered from the panie of

> AMIABLE. The Packer and Buchanan Demograts of Pennsylvania are particularly amiable towards each other of late. For instance, the Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, a Buchanan organ, calls Messrs. Forney and Hickman,

"Red-mouthed Abolitionists, corrupt and rotten at the heart, capable of perpetrating the foulest and blackest crimes, who have lived all their lives on plunder, stealing from the Treasury of the Government, and when the door was shut against their wholesale stealing, they turn round and abuse the men and party who gave them life."

On the other hand, the State Sentinel, the Anti-Lecompton Democratic paper at Harrisburg, uses the following mild language in speaking of the President :-

"He is a violator of pledges, an unwise, unsafe, and corrupt Executive, a pro-slavery Disunionist, a pirate in intention, a tyrant, an apostate from Democracy, a wool dyed Federalist, and a disorganizer !"

That, we should say, was "talking out in meeting;" but as it is confined to the Democracy, we have nothing to say, and give the above extracts only for the purpose of showing tions might have been received with more fa- the kind feelings which the two wings of that party entertain for each other.

GREAT LOSS OF CATTLE .- It is believed that twenty-five hundred head of cattle have perished in Oregon and Washington during the past days. Another in Polk county, having four hundred head, lost one hundred during the winter: the loss was not confined to neat stock. Tonnabo in Iowa .- A destructive and fatal the manner suggested in the following extract | tornado occurred at Iowa City, on the 24th from the Washington correspondence of the May, by which houses, barns, and everything movable, was swept off. The track of the whirlwind was in a southerly direction, and Walker upon Nicaragua is necessarily annoy- extending ten or twelve miles before its force was spent. The Vicksburgh True Southron, a democratic journal, rejoices in the fact that "a convention of nine Southern States has deliberately spoken in favor of a repeal of all laws, State and Federal, prohibiting the slave trade." It further remarks that possibly the people will bringing the report that Maj. > GREAT STORM .- A terrible storm occured n Kansas, on Sunday night a week. At Doniphan, about thirty houses were blown down. At Lancaster, some three miles distant, a number of buildings were razed to the ground, tucluding a church. One man was killed, and two others severely wounded. About three miles from Atchison, a train of twenty wagons was nearly demolished, and one of the teamsters killed.

Nor is she without her history in romance. It was on the banks of the beautiful it was that the Hon. J. P. Kennedy found the old warrior, and gathered the facts for his celebrated tale, which has placed him in the front ranks of authors of his day. I had the pleasure of visiting the house in which Horse Shoe Robinson lived, and was told by the proprietor (Mr. Hughes) that the old hero built it with his own hands. The place still bears his name. He has long since been gathered to his fathers, and I have been told that near Tuscaloosa, in Alabama, a rade stone, upon which is a roughly carved horse shoe, marks the resting place of the good old man.

LARGE ORDERS FROM ENGLAND FOR AMERI-CAN FIRE-ARMS. - The large quantity of firearms and gun-making machinery already furnished to England from American workshops proves to have been but the precursor of more extended orders. The New York Journal of Commerce' says: "We learn from Mr. E. V. Haughwout, agent for the Ames Manufacturing Company, that orders were brought by the last steamer from England for the immediate construction of large quantities of machinery for the manufacture of the most approved American fire-arms, and that the same have been put in hand for execution, both at Chicopee, Mass., and other large works, offering the needed facilities. The agents of the British government bearing these orders also bring a large amount of sterling gold, and are unre stricted as to the amount of work to be done. The American machinery stready in England is worked up to their fullest capacity, turning out several thousand guns per month, under the direction of workmen from the shops of Chicopee."

HAYTIEN COSTUME. - James Redpath writes to the New York Pribane of his observations during a sojourn in Hayti:-"After descending from the mountains, we passed two or three collection of huts. At one of themfour leagues from Gonaives-we saw an interesting family group. There was an old man, a young man and two young women-the men with their fect, and the women with their breasts uncovered; three almost naked children-one a girl, fat and whining; one a boy, dirty and merry; both ufterly naked, but both under two years of age; and a boy, eleven years old, with the most unique of light summer dresses. He wore a checkered handkerchief on his head, and an old broken case-knife suspended from his neck by a piece of twine. That was all. Gool, wasn't it? and cheap?"

LATEST FROM EUROPE. - The steamship Hammonia from Bremen arrived at New York on the 30th. No battle had taken place, though one was soon expected. The French are very confident of success. The Austrians are still changing their position, but at the same time are making gradual advances into the territory of Sardinia. An official bulletin from Turin announces that they had made a movement from Strabella towards Voghera, and they have threatened the bridge at Stella. Four Austrian vessels have been captured by the French squadron. The head quarters of the Emperor Napoleon have been fixed at Allessandria, at which place he has arrived.

FROM THE PLAINS .- A letter from Fort Belknap dated 22d May, says that the express train had just arrived from Camp Radzimiski, light with the northern Camanches at the fork of the Arkansas river, on the 16th, killing fifdiers were killed and several wounded, among the latter Lieut. Lee and Capt. Smith. The letter also says that four or five hundred Texans were encamped twenty miles below the Brazos on the Indian Reserve, with the intenexcitement prevailed.

AN OLD MAN IN LOVE .- In Albany, an old gentleman worth some half a million of dollars, fell desperately in love with his servant girl. He proposed and was accepted; but the old gentleman's children learning how matters stood, threatened him with a berth in the Lunatic Asylum. He became alarmed at this, and finally told the girl "it couldn't be did." Young lady hears the announcment, and then talks of "cold pizen" and blasted hopes. She consults a lawyer and threatens to make Rome howl. Her lawyer brings suit for breach of promise, and to get out of the scrape, the old gentleman pays $2500.

PITTSBURG MARKETS .- The Gazette of yesterday (Tuesday) says-prices of flour tend towards a decline, and transactions everywhere are confined to the limited wants of the trade, and quotes Super at $6, Extra at $6.25-from stores Super at $6.50, Extra at $7 a $7.25, and Extra Family at $7.50. As the steamer Jefferson was passing Eric, Pa., a couple of days ago, Captain S. Bond discovered some five miles from shore, a balloon three miles in the air, rapidly descending to the Lake. The captain ordered the propeller to be changed in her course so as to bear toward the descending balloon. The small boat was sent out and made fast to the balloon, when a tag came out from Eric and took it ashore. There were two persons in the balloon, one of them being Mr. Lynn, editor of the Eric Dispatch. When the balloon struck the water the basket sunk so as to almost submerge its occupants.

LANCASTER COUNTY .-- On the 26th ult., shooting affair came off near Lancaster city. A woman named Catharine Wagner, alleges that she was married to one Isaac Wagner about 8 years ago; that she had two children by him; that he deserted her, and has since married two other women, one of whom he had also deserted, and was living with the other near Quarryville. On Wednesday she had an interview with Isaac, and demanded that he should do justice to her. He refused to acknowledge her, and treated her harshly. Catharine then took out a warrant, charging him with bigamy and with assault and battery. He ascaped the officers; but Catharine, determined on his arrest, procured a revolver, searched for and finally found him, when she fired two shots, one of which took effect in his back, and gave him a dangerous wound. MONROE COUNTY NURSERIES, Rochester, N. Y.—GOULD BECKWIRE & Co., Proprietors.—We take pleasure in saying to those interested in prested in the culture of Fruit Trees, Shrubs, Plants, &c., that encouraged as we are by the success we have heretefore had in giving satisfaction where we have supplied persons with our stock, and the constant demand which the thousands of orders we are yearly receiving indicate, we still continue to furnish everything in our line on the most advantageous terms. We made only one delivery in this State last fall, east of the Alleghany river, and that a very successful one at Plumville Indiana county. So far as we can learn, our trees are doing finely, and many of our customers have this season given us orders for six or eight times the amount they bought last. We give reference to those who were supplied by us last season in Indiana county, and mention a few names out of the hundreds whose implicit confidence we feel sure of :- Jacob Weamer, Wm. Weamer, Jno Me-Ewen, Esq., C. E. McEwen, M. D., D. Wynkoop, W. Allison, and A. Morrow, Plumville; John Mc Quown, Dayton; L & J. Steers & Co., Saml. Rit-chey, and N C. Coleman, Smicksburg; Alex. Foster, Esq., H. B. Gourley, Rural Village, and Hen ry Barkey, Gettysburg. The following are our agents, who will receive orders for Trees, &c., to be delivered next fall, at the places where they are stationed :
