REVIVAL .- We understand that the Lutherans and Methodists have for some days past been holding union meetings in the town of Luthersburg, this county ; that much feeling on the subject of religion is being manifested, and that a quite a number of persons have been converted since the meetings began.

With Divine permission, the Lord's Supper will be observed in the Presbyterian Church in this place on next Sabbath. Public worship will commence this evening (Wednesday) at 64 o'clock, and be continued on each succeeding day, commencing at 11 A. M. and 61 P. M. The Rev. G. W. Thompson, D. D., is expected to be present and assist the Pastor in avoid paying it. these services. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

WINTER .- On last Saturday, snow to the depth of several inches fell in this region, making things out-doors look and feel quite wintery. Though the atmosphere moderated a little, and caused the snow to thaw during Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, It has not all disappeared yet. The melting of the snow on the slightly frozen ground, has put the roads in such a bad condition that they are almost impassable with wheeled vehicles.

LOOK TO YOUR STOVE-PIPES .- Nearly every paper we have received for some weeks past contained an account of the burning of some building, and in a majority of instances it was stated that + the fire originated at the stovepipe !" People should take this as a warning, | tion. and see to it that their stove-pipes are not endangering the safety of their houses. No stove-pipe should pass through a ceiling or roof; the only secure mode is to build flues from the basement up, and run the pipes directly into the flues.

Jamison. Among the contents was a scrapbook, which, though highly prized by the owner, can be of no use to any one else. The book and carpet bag may, if found, be left at either this office, at A. Jackson's hotel, Philissburg, or at Antis's hotel, or Col. W. W. Brown, of Belletonte, addressed, telling him where to procure it. The finder will be suitably rewarded. For the return of the scrapbook alone a reward will be given.

HOUSE BURNED .- Last Friday, Dec. 2d, the dwelling house of Mr. Robert Hunter, about half a mile above the village of Ansonville, in this county, was destroyed by fire. No one but Mrs. Hunter was at home when the fire broke out, and by the time she gave the alarm to some neighbors, it had made such progress that it was utterly impossible to save the building. Some corn, a cook stove, and a few other articles were also burned ; most of the furniture was saved. The fire originated at the stove pipe. Though the house was not a very valuable one, its destruction at this season of the year is a serious loss.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS .- The lumbermen of our county are busy at present making timber, hauling, &c. From all we can learn, we judge that the quantity next spring will be as large as usual, but cannot say what the prices are likely to be. The log men are also actively at work, and will most probably get a large stock of logs into the streams during the winter. This system of lumbering has had the effect of materially diminishing the manufacture of boards and scantling in this county, and consequently the bulk of the lumber taken from here now is in the form of square timber. Should the snow of the last week melt rapidly enough to produce a "flood" in the river, a few rafts will doubtless be started this week for the lower markets.

AS ITEM FOR MERCHANTS .- A reportorial cotemporary says, very truly, that there is a difference in men-business men, especially. When in want of a given article, it is a pleasure to call upon certain men and purchase it. You are received kindly, waited upon genteely, and courteously thanked for your patronage. But entering another place of business, you are obliged to wait some time before you can secure attention-then are slowly and sullenly waited upon-no word of thanks passed or dreamed of-uninvited to call againand the manner of the dealer, more plainly than words, telling you that you have been accommodated, and that you are the sole one under obligations. It is not difficult to guess which of these mon secures the largest amount of business, nor which deserves it.

FASHIONS CHANGING .- The following paragraph, taken from the Paris correspondence of the Philadelphia Bullelin, may prove interesting to some of our lady readers :--

"Bonnets at Paris are increasing daily in size. They are very high in front, come over the forehead, and entirely conceal the hair;

For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine. but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it.
