B. ROW, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. CLEARFIELD, PA., JUNE 6, 1860. FOR PRESIDENT HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN. OF ILLINOIS. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, HON. HANNIBAL HAMLIN. OF MAINE FOR GOVERNOR. HON. ANDREW G. CURTIN, of Centre Co.

A BASE FORGERY.

The Democratic papers are copying the schedule of general facts concerning Mr. Lincoln, prepared by a New York paper, a paragraph forged to convey an impression that Mr. Lincoln was disposed to urge an open war upon the southern States. The words quoted, and asserted to have been spoken by him in Illinois are : "I nevertheless did mean to go on the banks of the Ohio, and throw stones into Kentucky to disturb them in their domestic institutions." Most persons would at fulness. once recognize the absurdity of the assertion that any public man had declared such a purpose; but as there are malignants to whom any perversion is welcome, and who would be repeating it only the oftener it known to be false but found to be useful, we give here the exact form of the paragraph quoted from. In repelling certain charges of sectionalism made by Mr. Douglass, Mr. Lincoln said : "I have again and again said that I would not enter into any State to disturb the institution of slavery. Judge Douglas said at Bloomington that I used language most able and ingenious for concealing what I really meant, and that, while I protested against entering into the slave States, I nevertheless did mean to go on the banks of the Ohio and throw missiles into Kentucky, to disturb them in their domestic institutions." Thus, in quoting a false charge manner possible, a paragraph was constructed out of which this shameful forgery has been

DESTRUCTIVE STORM .- We learn by the Claron and Brookville papers, that on Wednesday

last, 80th May, a very destructive tornado passed through those and adjoining counties. The course of the storm was from south-west to north-east, along the valley of the Red Bank. Those who witnessed it represent the shape as that of an inverted cone, in color like smoke; whilst others describe it as a whirlwind of fire and smoke. Trees, houses, barns, bridges, fences, horses, cattle, and, in fact, everything in its course was entirely destroyed. Many barns and trees took fire and were consumed, whilst others were torn to pieces, and the fragments scattered in such a manner that it is impossible to tell where they are.

The village of Maysville, in Jefferson county, was entirely demolished, not one building remains standing-twenty-five buildings, including the grist and saw-mills of John Hess, dwelling and store of Col. M'Farland, and Mr. Hawe's Hotel, composed the village. The bridge across Red Bank at that place was blown down. Four persons were killed, and some 25 or 30 injured; some of whom are reported as having died since.

At Maysville it crossed the Red Bank, and continued to destroy all that came in its way. How far it extended northward, we have not learned. The destruction of property is immense. No estimate can be made of the loss ever, is small compared with the destruction of human life, and the amount of imisery entailed on the families thus afflicted. Never, in the history of that region, has such a dreadful calamity visited it. Many hearts are left desolate and mourn for those so suddenly Shingles, window sash, with remains of the glass, pieces of weather-boarding and clapboards, were carried from there to Kersey, in Elk county, a distance of forty miles. Pieces of oak shingles, corn blades, &c., were also tound at Luthersburg, in this county, which evidently came from the same neighborhood. line when he fell overboard.

A DESPERATE FIGHT WITH SNAKES .- Mr. ] Jas. Lankford, of Fearing township, says the Marietta Home News, had a severe fight with three enormous spotted black snakes, on Monday morning last. He had been repairing a harrow by the side of a large tree, in one of his fields, when a strange sensation passed over him, which paralyzed him to such an extent as to render him almost powerless. He telt conscious that danger was approaching, vet seemed unable to save himself. He heard a rustling noise on the tree beside him. and was partly aroused from his stupor by a snake six feet and tour inches long and seven inches in circumference, striking him on the back, passing over his shoulders, around his body and under his arms. A second snake immediately coiled itself around its body. Seeing a third approaching and aroused to desperation, he seized an ax which he fortunately had with him, and by a lucky blow, severed it in two, six inches back of its head. This one was five feet and eight inches long. Mr. Lankford then turned his efforts to ridding himself of his other two foes, then beginning to tighten themselves unpleasantly around his breast. A severe contest ensued, lasting fifteen or twenty minutes, during which Mr. L. was thrown down several times. The reptiles kept up a constant hissing noise, and emitted a fetid, sickening odor. At length the largest snake, in endeavoring to strike Mr. L. in the mouth, at which it made repeated efforts, was seized by the back of the neck, between Mr. Langford's teeth, and literally crushed. The snake instantly uncoiled, and threw itself from L. being too much exhausted to make any attempt to pursue it. It was a narrow escape for Mr. L., who is a farmer, and whose veracity is unquestioned. We had the narration from his own lips.

A RAILROAD FEAT .- Mr. Haughlin, foreman of the machine shops of the Michigan Central Railroad, accomplished a feat at Michigan City with the train carrying delegates to the Chicago Convention, which is well deserving of mention. At Michigan City it is necessary to change engines, and in order not to lose time the train was run up the track at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, the engine then being uncoupled and rnn at a faster speed on to a siding. The switch was replaced in time, and the cars dashed along up the main line to the engine waiting to take it to Chicago. Moving at nearly the same speed as the cars, it was coupled to the train, and plunged along with its load. Uncoupling and switching a locomotive, and coupling on another at fifteen miles an hour, is certainly a very remarkable engineering accomplishment.

Lincoln and Hamlin together measure just twelve feet five inches. Lincoln is six feet four inches long and Hamlin is six feet one inch long, but neither of these gentlemen have any other measurement .- Indiana Sentinel.

The Sentinel tells us that Lincoln and Hamlin have no other measurement than their length. It is evidently very proud of the shape of its favorite candidate, the Little Giant, who has a greater measurement than his length, inches, and two barley corns round-to say nothing of the measurement of corn and barlev in

POSITION OF MR. SEWARD.

It is astonishing what a deep and friendly interest the "Democratic" papers are manifesting for Hon. Wm. H. Seward, since the Chicago Convention. They say he was badly treated by his friends, and pour out whole bucketfuls of "crocodile tears" over his "defeat." Before the Convention he was a terrible fellow in their sight-he was the author of the "irrepressible conflict," a traitor, and the most dangerous man in the land. Now their tune is changed. They even pronounce him the greatest statesman living. In all this there was an object. They had hoped Mr. Seward would feel sore over his failure at Chicago, and that by their mock sympathy they could make him at least luke-warm toward the nominees, if not induce him to take no part in the campaign at all. But in this they have been disappointed. In a letter dated Auburn, May 21st, Mr. Seward says he has "no sentiment elther of disappointment or discontent," and then remarks :

"I find in the resolutions of the Convention a platform so satisfactory to me as if it had been framed with my own hands, and in the candidates adopted by them eminent and able Republicans, with whom I have cordially cooperated in maintaining the principles embod-ied in that excellent creed. I cheerfully give them a sincere and earnest support. I trust, moreover, that those with whom I have labored so long that common service in a noble cause has created between them and myself relations of personal friendship, unsurpassed in the experience of political men, will indulge me in a confident belief that no sense of disappointment will be allowed by them to hinder, or delay, or in any way embarrass, the pro gress of that cause to the consummation which is demanded by a patriotic regard to the safety and welfare of the country and the best interests of mankind."

THE HOMESTEAD BILL .- The Senate, on Tues. day of last week, by the almost unanimous vote of the Democratic members of that body, defeated the House Homestead bill. Every Republican Senator voted aye and every Democratic Senator no, excepting Mr. Rice of Minnesota. The friends of the Homestead bill will thus be enabled to see how parties stand on this question. The Republicans of the House pass a bill eminently just and proper, giving the public lands, in limited quantities to actual settlers, which the Democrats of the Senate defeat. Had the House bill passed it would have secured free homes to all who desired them upon the public lands, and put an end to the land speculations which have been a curse to the West. Let it not be forgotten that the country owes it to Democratic Senators that it is deprived of this beneficent law.

We see an article from the London Chronicle, going the rounds of the Democratic papers, headed, "What the English think of the Covode Investigating Committee," in which the Committee is denounced and Mr. Buchan-

ble. His popular sobriquet is, "Honest Old Abe.22 There can be little doubt, but that this man of the working people, the artificer of his own fortunes from poverty to competence, from the lowest to the highest position, will meet with the cordial sympathies of the laboring masses everywhere, whether they support him politically or not.

"Mr. Hamlin was always a Democrat, until the repeal of the Missouri Compromise bill came up, when he denounced it as an offence against plighted faith, and, in open Senate, dissolved his connection with the Democratic party, and went over to the Republicans. As a legislator, his record shows him to be the author of more laws than that of any of his compeers for the same length of time. He was and is the special friend of commerce. No man of any party questions his high integrity of character, and his sound and solid judgment has always made him a safe lawgiver. Had Mr. Fremont been elected in 1856, it was understood that Mr. Hamilin would have been his Secretary of the Treasury. On the slavery question, he was always what the Democrats used to consider sound, before the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Of the rights of the States he is the unqualified defender."

THE INDICATIONS AT WASHINGTON .- The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer writes in the following encouraging strain :- "The most cheering advices are pouring in upon members of Congress from their various districts, relative to trary. the prospects of success for the Chicago ticket. Wigwams are in the course of erection all over the country, and in those sections where rails are easily procured the fronts are laid up with handsomely split rails. The prevailing opinion is that a repetition of the political scenes of 1840 is about to take place. The Democrats already aver that it is to be another hard eider campaign. Even Douglas him-self begins to waver and intimate that he believes that the chances of the Democracy are so slight that he has no desire for the nomination at Baltimore. He says that "Abe Lincoln is an honest man, and his personal friend," and adds that if they are both candidates, no matter which is successful, the other will be on the best of social terms at the White House, or else things must change very much in the future from what they have been in the past. As for the Southern Democrats, they give up the contest, and declare that Lincoln must be our next President, unless they can manage to throw the election into the House or Senate, of which they have but little hope. Some of Mr. Douglas' most sanguine friends have acknowledged that they see no chance for Douglas after the late speech of Benjamin. He certainly made out a very strong case against the Senator from Illinois of playing fast and loose."

"BLEEDING CARCASS."-We are to hear no carcass" is to take its place. Mr. PUGH, in his pitiful appeal in behalt of Douglas, made in the Senate on the 22d, tells us, in terms pathetic enough to move a fire-eater's heart, Baltimore if they choose ; but his friends will thirty in silver, and one hundred in copper. carry his Bleeding Carcass to the Northwest and show him to the young men coming to cast their first votes, and tell them, this is the author of the Nebraska Bill, and this is Southern gratitude !""

The only response made to this appeal was that made by the poverty-hating WIGFALL, who complacently informed Mr. Puon that Douglas was already dead. So bring on your "Bleeding Carcass."

near Clarksburg, was struck by lightning on the 23d May, and damaged to a considerable extent. . . . A little girl, aged 4 years, daughter of Abraham Tiger, of Canoe township, was killed on the 17th ult. She and some other children of the family were playing near where her father and brothers were chopping a clearing. A tree, almost cut down, was thrown, by a gust of wind, in a different direction from that intended, and striking the child, crushed its head between a limb and a stone, breaking an arm and otherwise injuring it. Death ensued the next day. . . . A man named Samuel McCullough was lodged in the Indiana jail, charged with stealing a large hog from Mr. Joseph Boggs, of White township, and selling it to Mr. Robert Mitchel.

ARMSTRONG COUNTY .- At Brady's Bend, on Tuesday, May 22d, an unfortunate occurrence took place between two brothers named Michael and Sebastian Sybert, and a man named Levi Fetter, which resulted in the former of the two brothers being severely cut in the face, back and groin, with a pocket-knife in the hands of Fetter. His injuries are quite severe, but not dangerous. Fetter has been arrested and lodged in jail, bail having been refused, as at the time of his commitment, the extent of the man's injuries were not known. There are several conflicting reports in regard to the difficulty ; Fetter alleging that he acted wholly in self-defence against the attack of the two brothers, while they assert to the con-

ELK COUNTY .- On Monday the 21st May, an interesting boy of 6 or 7 years of age, son of P. T. Brooks, of Ridgway, was instantly killed by the falling of a board pile in that place. It seems he had been playing around the boards whilst a man was loading from a pile near, and after the man left the whole pile fell upon the lad, crushing him in a horrible manner.

HUNTINGDON COUNTY .- The Huntingdon papers record the death of two citizens of Warriorsmark township, named Daniel Moore and John Duffey. They were engaged in working in an ore bank, when the earth caved in upon them, entombing them, and when taken out life was extinct.

MIFFLIN COUNTY .- A barn in Derry township, owned by James Cupples, was entirely destroyed by fire on Friday a-week, together with a quantity of hay, straw, horse gears, ac. The fire is supposed to have originated from children playing with fire close to the barn.

PRESENTS FOR JAPANESE .- Among the magnificent presents to the Japanese, from the Government as well as from individuals, the President has directed that there should be struck off a splendid medal at the United States Mint, in honor of the visit of the Orientals to this Republic. The order and the design have Ha been promptly executed under the superintenmore of "Bleeding Kansas," but a "bleeding dence of Colonel J. R. Snowden, director of the Mint. The medal, which is about twice the size of the old American silver dollar, bears a beautiful likeness of Mr. Buchanan, and on the reverse an appropriate inscription. that Mr. Douglas' enemies "may kill him at Three of these medals have been struck in gold,

THE SLAVE TRADE OPENED IN A NEW WAY. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press states that the Government has received information that the fishermen of the coast of Florida and South Carolina are in the habit of running over to Cuba, on the pretence of disposing of their fish, and returning with two or three native Africans, bought there at a low figure, which they dispose of at a great advance, to parties who meet them on the coast, purchase the negroes and take them into the interior. This gross and notorious violation of law has been going on for some Springfield, named Batty, sold three trout to time, and it remains to be seen whether any

KEEP UP THE EXCITEMENT.-Removals always cause excitement, and sizes the great excitement about the removal of the Court House has subsided, the community generally have become somewhat excited upon hearing that Charly Watson has determined to pull up stakes and remove to Virginia. But the latest cause of excitement is the fact that I have removed my Saddler Shop from my old stand opposite the Court House to my new shop on Market street, nearly opposite the jail, where all who may favor me with a call can be supplied with Saddles, Sin gle Harness, Double Harness, Tug Harnest, Br dles, Collars, Whips, Halters, Housings, Breet bands, Side Straps, and in fact every article in the line of Saddling and Harness making. Tusnkini for the very liberal patronage heretofore bestowed I solicit a continuance of the same and a call from as many new customers as can make it suit.

ness will not interfere with my shop, for I have the Drug Store attended to by careful hands and intend devoting my time exclusively to my rogal large business. G. W. R arg business.

LATEST NEWS FROM HARPER'S FERRY.-Brown, the leader of the Inaur ection, found guilty of Murder and Treason in the First degree .- The above named 'insurrection' caused a great deal of gas to be let off by leading politicians and the political press of this great country, and in fact, the majority of the people of all parties, were more or less excited on reading the first account of the insurrection-some of the papers trying to make political capital out of the affair and others making light of the matter. But if it had been an Italian strike for Freedom by gainst their lawful sovereign, led on by Mazzinai or Garibaldi, the Press of this country, with but one exception, would call meetings and pass rero utions and solicit subscriptions to aid them is their so called patriotic work : but amidst all this inconsistency there is one man that is not the least interested in the fate of Brown or his companions, and that one is Frank Short of the Short Short Shop on Second street, where he will be found at
