THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION .- The National Convention of the Democratic party, which adjourned at Charleston to meet in Baltimore, assembled on Monday of last week, and after a stormy session of five days, finally on Saturday split asunder, twelve States in whole or in part seceding from the Convention, viz : Virginia, North Carolina, Missouri, California, Oregon, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and Arkansas. Gen. Cushing resigned his position as President of the Convention, and Hon. David Tod, of Ohio, was called to the chair in his stead. After taking two ballots, Hon. Stephen A. Douglas was declared nominated for President. Hon. Benj. Fitzpatrick, of Ala., was nominated as the candidate for Vice President. The Seceders organized as a separate Convention, and nominated Hon. John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, as their candidate for President, and Gen. Joe Lane, of Oregon, for Vice Presdent. The way things look now, a certain and overwhelming defeat is in store for the Democaatic party at the approaching election.

President Buchanan has vetoed the Hon

ted. The former received a bullet in his throat, and was probably fatally injured. The latter was hit on the head, but the wound made was not serious.

CFIt appears from the Patterson (N.J.) Register, that Mr. Bulkley, a clergyman of that place or its vicinity, has been preaching a sermon in favor of the rope-walking of De Lave and Blondin, and that some of his hearers, lay aad clerical, object to that style of discourse. OF There are large quantities of cranberry lands in Massachusetts-over five thousand acres, and some of it is very valuable. The product is probably not less than $150,000 a year, which is larger than that of wheat, barley, oats, rye, or of any vegetable except potatoes.

DF The Southerner speaks of a man who died, leaving all his property to his sons if they should be Democrats. That old fellow evidenty took a hint from the Greek philosopher, who bequeathed a large fortune to his children if they should prove to be fools ; for, said he, if they are wise men they will not need it.

WHITE NEGRO .- At Lewisburg, Va., recently the town was thrown into some commotion by the arrival in its midst of two gentlemen in pursuit of a man, whom, they had been informed had been living here for some four years, and had passed himself off for a white man, marrying a white woman, and now the father of two children. The man was found and claimed by the parties in pursuit, as a slave. He acknowledged the charge to be true, and was accordingly tied and taken away to one of the adjoining counties, from which, it is said, he made his escape. Well might his arrest create some excitement, for it is said that he has lived amongst the people as a white citizen, eaten, slept, partaken of the hospitality extended to white men, and also deposited his vote at the ballot box time and again, and his vote at the ballot box time and again, and the Court House to my new shop on Market street, so far as the color of his skin was concerned, nearly opposite the jail, where all who may favor we presume would hardly have been taken as one of the ofisprings of an advocate of amal- dles, Collars, Whips, Halters. Housings, Breech gamation.

A GIRL TIED TO A COW'S TAIL AND DRAGED TO DEATH .- A terrible accident occurred in the town of Delhi, Delaware county, New York, a few weeks since, which resulted in the death of a little girls seven years old. The parties to the sad occurrence were Wm. Scott, a lad 17 years old, and his half-sister, Elizabeth Doby, the victim. The boy had been sent to take the cows to pasture, the little girl accompanying him. He had with him a piece of rope, with which he was to bring back some hay. On his way he playfully tied one end of the rope around the body of his sister, and the other end to the cow's tail. When the cow had proceeded a short distance in this way, followed by the girl, the latter stumbled and fell, which so frightened the cow, that she ran off at a furious rate, dragging the poor girl after her. After running some distance, the girl's head struck a solid rock, crushing in the skull, and at the same time the cow's tail pulled out, so great was the force of resisbest of my ability. Please accept assurances of my kind regards. Truly, yours, tance. The girl was also badly cut about the tace, neck and head. She was taken up by the boy and carried home, where she breathed but two or three times before expiring. The boy is said to be rather deficient in intel-Congress adjourned finally on Monday last, lect, and it is not supposed that he realized the imminent danger in which his sister was
