The Democratic Party has two Platforms, as well as two sets of candidates. The platform of the Breckinridge wing enunciates the idea that Slavery exists, by virtue of the Constitution, in the Territories, and that it is the duty of Congress to pass a Code for its protection in those Territories. The last resolution of the Douglas platform, taken in connection with the Dred Scott Decision, places that wing in almost the same position. The only difference seems to be in regard to time—the former contending that the question has already been decided, while the latter holds that it has not, but that as soon as the Supreme Court does so decide that it is the duty of the people to resist the decision.

Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain. Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution and revolutionary in their effect. Resolved, That it is in accordance with the true interpretation of the Cincinnati platform that, during the existence of Territorial Government, the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the Federal Government, and the powers of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of domestic relations, as the same has been, or shall hereafter be, finally determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, shall be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the Federal Government.

THE SECTIONAL PLATFORMS.

SOUTHERN PLATFORM. For President—JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, of Ky. For Vice President—JOSEPH LANE, of Oregon. Resolved, That the platform adopted at Cincinnati be affirmed, with the following resolutions: That the Democracy of the United States hold these cardinal principles on the subject of Slavery in the Territories: first, that Congress has no power to abolish Slavery in the Territories; second, that the Territorial Legislature has no power to abolish Slavery in any Territory, nor to prohibit the introduction of slaves therein, nor any power to exclude by force of partition, or otherwise, any Territory from the right of property in slaves by any legislation whatever. Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect. Resolved, That it is the duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to protect, by the force of arms, in the Territories, or wherever else its constitutional authority extends. Resolved, That the Democracy of the nation recognize it as the imperative duty of this Government to protect the natural rights of all its citizens, whether at home or in foreign lands, to the same extent as its native-born citizens. Resolved, That the National Democracy earnestly recommend the acquisition of the island of Cuba at the earliest practicable moment, on such terms as the necessities of the age, in a political, commercial, postal and military point of view, is a speedy communication between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts; therefore be it. Resolved, That the National Democratic party do hereby pledge themselves to use every means in their power to secure the passage of some bill for the construction of a Pacific Railroad, from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, at the earliest practicable moment. NORTHERN PLATFORM. For President—STEPHEN A. DOUGLASS, of Ill. Vice President—V. JONSON, of Ga. THEIR PLATFORM. Resolved, That we, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, hereby declare our affirmation of the resolutions unanimously adopted and declared a platform of principles by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature when applied to the same subject matter, and we recommend as our only further resolutions the following: That inasmuch as differences of opinion exist in the Democratic party as to the nature and extent of the powers of a Territorial Legislature, and as to the powers and duties of Congress, under the Constitution of the United States, over the institution of Slavery within the Territories: Resolved, That the Democratic party will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States over the institution of Slavery within the Territories. Resolved, That it is the duty of the United States to afford ample and complete protection to all its citizens, at home or abroad, and whether native or foreign born. Resolved, That one of the necessities of the age, in a military, commercial, and postal point of view, is speedy communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States, and the Democratic party pledge such constitutional enactment as will secure the construction of a railroad to the Pacific coast at the earliest practicable period. Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain. Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution and revolutionary in their effect. Resolved, That it is in accordance with the true interpretation of the Cincinnati platform that, during the existence of Territorial Government, the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the Federal Government, and the powers of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of domestic relations, as the same has been, or shall hereafter be, finally determined by the Supreme Court of the United States, shall be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the Federal Government. THE DRED SCOTT DECISION. In the 19th vol. of Howard's Reports, page 365, it is stated that the Supreme Court of the United States decided in the Dred Scott case as follows: 1st.—"The Territory thus acquired is acquired by the people of the U. S. for their common and equal benefit, through their agent and trustee, the Federal Government. Congress exercises no power over the rights of persons or property of citizens in the Territory which is prohibited by the Constitution. The Government and the citizen, when ever the Territory is open to settlement, both enter with their respective rights defined and limited by the Constitution." 2nd.—"Congress has no right to prohibit citizens of any particular State or States from taking up their home there, while it permits citizens of other States to do so. Nor has it a right to give privileges to one class of citizens which it refuses to another. The Territory is acquired for their equal and common benefit, and if open to any it must be open to all upon equal and the same terms." 3rd.—"Every man has a right to take with him into the Territory any article of property which the Constitution of the United States recognizes as property." 4th.—"The Constitution of the United States recognizes 'Slaves as property, and pledges the Federal Government to protect it. And Congress cannot exercise any more authority over property of that description than it may constitutionally exercise over property of any other kind." 5th.—"The act of Congress, therefore, prohibiting a citizen of the United States taking with him his slaves when he removes to the Territory in question to reside, is an exercise of authority over private property which is not warranted by the Constitution, and the removal of the plaintiff by his owner that Territory gave him no title to freedom." 6th.—"While it remains a Territory Congress may legislate over it within the scope of its constitutional powers in relation to citizens of the United States, and may establish a Territorial Government, and the form of this local government must be regulated by the discretion of Congress; but with powers not exceeding those which Congress itself by the Constitution is authorized to exercise over citizens of the United States in respect to their rights of property."
