On motion, a Board of Managers, consisting of fifteen persons who are practical agriculturists, and whose duty it shall be to attend to the collection of seeds, periodicals, &c., and who may act in concert, but not in opposition to the Executive Committee, were elected, viz: G. L. Reed, chairman, Joseph Irvin, Peter Hoover, Martin Luther, Edw. Perks, Elusha Panton, Aaron C. Tate, P. P. Hoyt, Wm. T. Gibbort, John A. F. Flinn, Rev. Samuel Miles, John B. Hewitt, Thomas A. McGee, Conrad Baker, and David Adams.

On the 27th of November, 1860, a resolution was introduced into the Senate raising a Committee to inquire whether John Smith, then a Senator from Ohio, ought not to be expelled because of the part changed that he had taken in the conspiracy of Aaron Burr against the peace and prosperity of the United States.

Resolved, That John Smith, a Senator from the State of Ohio, by his participation in the conspiracy of Aaron Burr against the Peace, Union, and Liberties of the United States, has been guilty of conduct incompatible with his duty and station as a Senator of the United States. And, that he therefore, and hereby is, expelled from the Senate of the United States.

Mr. Smith was defended before the Senate by Francis S. Key and Goodloe Harper, two of the ablest lawyers of that time. After an examination of all the circumstances tending to sustain the charge, it was ascertained that Mr. Smith had given Mr. Burr a hospitable reception under his roof for four or five days, and that he afterward saw him again at Cincinnati, and in Kentucky. It was not shown that he even knew of Burr's designs, or had in any way given them countenance, and yet the above resolution received nineteen votes of the twenty-nine given in the Senate.

As the number of votes required by the Constitution were not given, the resolution did not pass. Mr. Smith, however, resigned, and retired from public life, a disgraced man.

That was the way members of the Senate upon whom a suspicion of treason rested, were treated in the pure days of the Republic. Now, in this degenerate age, Senators avow their treason on the floor of the Senate, and meet in midnight cabal to form conspiracies against the Peace, Union, and Liberties of the people of the United States; and yet there are no resolutions of expulsion!

NEW YORK MILITIA.—READY FOR SERVICE.—Major-Gen. Sanford has communicated to the Governor a resolution unanimously passed by the Division Board of officers of the First Division, in the month of January, 1861, tendering their services for any duty which the present emergency may require. The organized, uniformed and disciplined troops of this Division, divided into sixteen regiments, now includes upward of 7,000 men—officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates. The un-uniformed militia of the division, now enrolled, amounts to upward of 85,000 men. Of these a large number are men who have served their seven years in various regiments of this division, and who are liable to be called into service in case of insurrection. These men would generally desire to serve in their old regiments, and in case of emergency would flock to our standards, and the uniformed corps could then be increased to 15,000 or 16,000 men. A large number of the officers and men of the division are trained as Artillerists, and in case the United States Government should find it necessary to withdraw the residue of their troops from the State of New York, for the Southern fortifications, Gen. Sanford says he could detail a sufficient force to supply their places in twenty-four hours, and could replace them from time to time, as long as might be necessary. This shows the right spirit in the right quarter. The military force of the State, true to the object for which it was established, can be fully relied on to uphold the Union, the Constitution and the enforcement of the laws.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC has now arrived and is now ready for delivery, gratis, by C. D. Watson, to all who call for it. Our readers may be surprised to know that this little pamphlet, which has become so much a favorite in our section has quite the largest circulation of any one book in the world, except the Bible. It is printed in many languages and scattered through many nations as well as supplied to almost the entire population of our own vast domain. Every family should keep it, for it contains information which all are liable to require, when sickness overtakes them and which may prove invaluable from being at hand in season. If you take our advice, you will call and get an Ayer's Almanac, and when you get it.

GOVERNOR CURTIN has appointed Eli Slifer, of Union county, Secretary of State; S. B. Thomas, of Delaware, Deputy Secretary; Samuel A. Sweden contains eighty cotton mills, running 180,000 spindles, which produces every year about 12,000,000 pounds of cotton thread, being three-fourths of the entire national cotton production. The tariff on the cotton thread is 15 per cent., affording adequate protection to the native manufacturer.

George Tappan died of hydrophobia in Boston on Sunday a week. He was bitten on the lip by a small house dog, three months ago, and had the wound cauterized at the time. He died a terrible death.

The schoolmistresses whom Gov. Slade, of Vermont, sent out to Oregon, were to pay a fine of $500 if they married under one year. Most of the girls paid the fine.

The peculiarities of the female constitution and the various trials to which it is subjected demand an occasional recourse to stimulants. It is important, however, that these shall be of a harmless nature, and at the same time accomplish the desired end. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters is the very article. It effects in all cases of debility are almost magical, it restores the tone of the digestive organs, infuses fresh vitality into the whole system, and gives that cheerfulness to the temperament, which is the most valuable of female attractions. The proprietors feel honored from the fact that many of the most prominent medical gentlemen in the Union have bestowed eulogiums upon the Bitters, the virtues of which they have frequently tested and acknowledged. There are numerous counterfeits offered for sale, all of which are destitute of merit, and positively injurious to the system.
