ond Floor of Graham's New Brick

Logs.-Quite a large number of logs have floated past this place within the last week. We believe they are out of Anderson's creek, from whence they were dislodged by "splash floods," to enable them to be off by the first rise of water, and out of the way of rafts.

Boy Hunt .- On Friday last, a little son of Mr. J. Robinson of Curwensville, was thrown from a horse and hurt. As the boy was riding along the pike above that place, a dog frightened the horse and caused him to run away and throw the little fellow off, who was cut and bruised a good deal about the head, but received no dangerous injuries.

FRIL IN .- We were informed that one of the men engaged in driving the logs out of Anderson's creek came very near being drowned last week. It appears that he was engaged in prying loose a gorge, when he was unexpectedly precipitated into the water, by the log giving way on which he stood. Several logs rolled over him, but he succeeded in extricating himself from his perilous situation, having received but a few slight bruises.

THE WEATHER AND RIVER .- The weather has been quite changeable during the past week. Several days were warm and Springlike, and we had hoped that our farmers and gardeners would be enabled to commence the preparing of their grounds for the summer crops; but this expectation was again dispelled by some rain on Sunday. On Monday morning the air was cold; and, we observed, that a small quantity of snow had fallen on the ridges several miles from town. The river, however, rose some eight or ten inches, and quite a number of rafts passed down on Monday and Tuesday. The water was still too low for good running, and quite a number of persons who started down stream have returned, having found the water too low to run.

PLANT A TREE.-Yes, plant two, three, or half a dozen of them. If they all grow and thrive, it will be an easy matter to deplete the redundancy by removing those that are not catch the dust from the hot streets, and to | tents ? draw the barbs from the flery shafts of the summer's sun, ere they reach your chamber window. Plant them in your front yard, side yard, or back yard, where you can sit under them and watch the shattered moonbeams shimmer through their waving spray, and hear the night winds murmur their mystic wooings with the sighing branches. Plant then wherever you can find a spare patch of unoccupied territory on your premises, large enough to dig a hele in. A town without trees is a naked thing, unfit to be seen. Give nature half a chance, and she will clothe our streets and yards with a vestment of verdure that will gladden our eyes and cheer our hearts through the long hot days of the approaching summer.

Quir Thar .- Quit what ? Quit telling your innocent, confiding, trembling children about ghosts and hobgoblins. You are throwing a serrow upon young hearts that will cling there through life. How many mothers there are who quiet their children by saying, "The bugaboos will come and take you off-come old nigger-come and-well, will you hush up this minute ?" The poor child believes all its mother tolks it, and why shouldn't it? It ought to believe. That is itsfilial duty. The sobbing, flattering heart is quieted, but not comforted. Those tearful eyes close in a sleep of terror; a weary, broken rest follows: the child dreams, but oh, who can tell the sadness of a child while it dreams in a sleep frightened upon it by alarms of all that is terrible and repulsive. Such inhuman treatment endangers the mind-the intellect. Mothers, beware! See that no servant or nurse, or older brother or sister drives arrows of grief to the very soul of your child. A sorrow early planted and watered by fears will bring forth a barvest of bitterness and despair. How common it is to teach children to fear unseen dangers at nightfall! The peaceful night, so full of sweetness, and night that brings the honeyed drops of dew, to bless the flowers and refresh the leaves, the night that brings rest to the weary, this dearest time of all is to be made terrible to children. What wickedness? Why, it is blasphemy to make little ones believe that God forgets them, and sends tormentors to trouble them in the silent watches of the night. Parents, think of this, see that your children hear no ghostly lessons. See that they are taught to love the eyer present Saviour, and honor this ever blessed name. How heavenly the teachings of that familiar hymn, when breathed from a true mother's aoni over a sleeping child:-

"Hush, my babe, lie still and slumber, Holy angels guard thy bed!"

A Good ove .- The Indiana Messenger of April 3rd, contains the following: "One of the members of a company from this county, about preparing to bore for Oil in Beaver county, informed us that an old farmer in that section refused to lease his ground for one-seventh of the Oil; but informed them that they could have it and proceed to operate if they would allow him one-eighth. A confact was made on the proposed terms, and the company commenced operations. The hon-est farmer will be astonished on learning one of these days, that seven is more than eight." and "secede" from the "old Union," and then propose to form a "new confederacy" which will regain it and guard it more carefully in may be more advantageous to his own pockets. | the future.

THE COMING REVOLUTION .- The Louisville Journal says; The young men whose Southern hearts were fired are filling the ranks of volunteer companies, living on camp fare, throwing up sand batteries, and ready to do the fighting; but the tempters are snugly ensconced in office at Montgomery, and hundreds of miles away trom the real scenes of danger. But then these caged eaglets, who have left their eyries, begin to chafe; when the excitement passes away and they awake to the sickening consciousness that they have been duped; when they look back upon their once proud and honored positions as the flower of our American citizenship, and contrast their present dwarfed political stature; when they recall the glories of the stars and stripes, their once devoted love for the Union of their fathers, achieved by the pledge of lives, fortunes, and sacred honors, then will they think of the destroyers who "turned their paradise into a hell," and revolution will be their only remedy to recover their lost positions, their lost honor, and their lost loyality. When that time comes there will be a terrible retribution. We do not look to any movement of this kind among the groot whites of the South; it will burst a lock. IMPORTANT FROM WASHINGTON.

Sumter to be Provisioned

WARLIKE MOVEMENTS.

The news received by last night's mail, looks rather warlike. It would appear that the authorities of South Carolina will resist the evacuation of Fort Sumter, unless Major Anderson leaves the fort on parole of honor. This, of course, would be tantamount to a surrender, and equal to an acknowledgment of the Southern Confederacy. The government had contemplated the withdrawal of the troops from Sumter, with the exception of a small force to take care of the public property which was peremtorily refused by the Carolinians. The President hearing these facts, at once decided that unless they accepted the plan or order of the government, that the fort should not be evacuated, thus compelling them to take it. Under these circumstances, the government has no alternative, but either to reinforce and supply Major Anderson with provisions, or permit him to be starved out. The latter course will hardly be adopted.

There has, also, been great activity at New York, in fitting out vessels of war during the last week. The Powbatan and Atlantic, took on board large quantities of provisions, amunition, and men, and on Saturday left the harbor under sealed orders. The Baltic and Illinois were to follow, and other vessels were getting ready. A fleet of 14 vessels-of-war, carrying in the aggreate more than 200 guns, has been ordered to the Gulf. The object of all these warlike movements is not positively known. All is mere conjecture, as the present Administration seems to keep its own counsels; but, evidently, some active and energetic measures are about to be undertaken in some direction, and the events of the coming week will be looked for with a great deal

The great drawback to persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague-the most direful of all diseases. Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease, and made help-less in a short time, without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy Dr Hostetter has presented his celebrated stomach bitters, whose curative powers for all diseases of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The Bitters, prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes from every part of our country. To those who doubt their many virtues, all we can say is to try them, and judge for themselves respectively. Sold by druggists and dealers generally everywhere. See advertisement in anoth-
