

CLEARFIELD, JUNE 10, 1861.

Who goes there?" said an Irish sentry to the British legion at St. Sebastian. "A friend," was the prompt reply. "Then stand where you are, for, by the powers, you're the first I've met with in this murtherin' country."

A very curious pleasure boat, built for the French Emperor, now lies at Aniers—a complete imitation of the trirèmes of the Roman period. It is about 80 feet long, with three ranges of oars, one above the other; its high prow and stern give it a very picturesque appearance.

COTTON MUST COME.—The Southern Confederacy has prohibited the export of cotton by Northern routes. This must be pleasant to Union planters, but it does and will come. A few days ago a cargo arrived at New York. The rebel flag is painted at the head of the manifest, and the captain pays his fine of a hundred dollars—but cotton comes and will come as long as we want it.

The price of fire-arms in England has greatly advanced in consequence of the demand from the United States. The Enfield rifles, which cost formerly fourteen dollars, now sell for twenty-one dollars. As the old muskets rifled, which any of our machine shop could soon effect, are said to be equal to the Enfield rifle, we do not see why we should pay such an enormous price abroad for arms which can be so easily supplied at home.

A NEW APPLICATION OF PHOTOGRAPHY.—A circumstance recently occurred showing the great business utility of the modern discoveries of photography and the electric telegraph. The Count de Penafiel left Lisbon for Paris, carrying with him an order for 70,000 francs. This, however, he unfortunately lost on the road, and telegraphed the same to one telegraphed at Lisbon. That gentleman at once telegraphed to Paris, stopping payment of the order, but sent by post the portrait of the Count de Penafiel, stating that the amount might be paid to him when he presented himself.

ALL RIGHT.—A good story is told, and it is true, of a Virginian emigrant who stopped at Willard's a few days ago. There was considerable doubt in the minds of many whether the man was really what he represented himself to be, or a spy. He told several persons who were standing round him that he was so well known in Virginia as a Union man that $500 was now offered for his head. "Why don't you go back and claim the reward?" asked a young man who was present. "I would," was the reply, "if I wasn't afraid they would pay me in Confederate bonds." It was unanimously agreed after this reply that the man's loyalty was above suspicion.

KEEP UP THE EXCITEMENT.—Removals always cause excitement, and since the great excitement about the Court House, the excitement of the community generally have become somewhat excited upon hearing that Charly Watson has determined to pull up stakes and remove to Virginia. But the latest cause of excitement is the fact that he has sold my Saddle Shop from the old stand opposite the Court House to my new shop on Market street, nearly opposite the jail, where all who may favor me with a call can be supplied with Saddles, Single Harness, Double Harness, Tug Harness, Bridle Bits, and all kinds of carriage trimmings, Harness, Side Straps, and in fact every article in the line of Saddling and Harness making. Thankful for the very liberal patronage heretofore bestowed, I solicit a continuance of the same and a call from as many new customers as may be made.

HOTTESTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The proprietors and Manufacturers of Hottester's Celebrated Stomach Bitters can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally in the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hottester's Stomach Bitters has been estimated at over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at any time to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom. This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary means, but the result of the quality of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hottester's Stomach Bitters have proved a God-send to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the Bitters are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and bilious diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It gives them an alibi from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, but it is not a powerful, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and the result will be a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and regenerating generally. We have evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have been afflicted with the bilious complaint, and who are now enjoying a robust health, and a long and happy life, under the use of Hottester's Stomach Bitters. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the infant as well as to the mother, and gives a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, dyspepsia, biliousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases of the digestive system, and who are afflicted with derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hottester's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

Caution.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hottester's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hottester's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label. Prepared and sold by Hottester & Smith, Clearfield, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

Agents—Geo. W. Rheem and C. D. Wata, at Clearfield; John Patton, Curwensville; D. Tyler, Houston; F. K. Arnold, Luthersburg. Oct 24, '60.
