

BY SAMUEL J. ROW.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JUNE 26, 1861.

HOW TREASON IS ENCOURAGED. It was truthful language attered by Stephen A. Douglas, in one of the last speeches he ever made in regard to our present troubles, . That the shortest road to peace is the most stupendous preparation for war,-the more prompt and energetic the movement, and the more important it is in numbers, the shorter will be the struggle."

In this spirit the government has been acting; and in this spirit the majority of our citizens of all parties have responded. The object is to crush the rebellion in the shortest possible time. This is the only way to save bloodshed and give permanent peace. The great body of the people, both Democrats and Republicans, feel this to be the fact and talk and act accordingly. To compromise with treason, or even parley with it, is to destroy the nation. The only way to treat the traitors is to subdue and punish them. The policy of making any sort of compromise or parley with them, is a policy to break up the Union and diagrace the American name. Trust no man who now talks of hushing up this treason by a compromise with the rebels. If he is not a traitor himself, he is at least in sympathy with them, or else grossly misled.

It is to be regretted, that there are still a tew journals whose course is only calculated to give aid and comfort to the enemy. Of this class, we are sorry to find the Clearfield Republican of this place, to be one of the most bitter and unscrapulous. To judge from the of your wives and daughters, and your fortunes tone of its articles, one would suppose that the rebels could not expect more sympathy at home, than they receive from the Editors of that paper. Does our military commander refuse to surrender up to the civil authority some offender who has been arrested in the midst of treasonable designs? Why, then, the Editors of the Republican feel indignantthey give us an article about the suspension of the writ of "Habeas Corpus." If their views were adopted the robel prisoners need never fear; they would need only to get some neighboring Judge, of Secession sympathies, to issue a writ of Habeas Curpus and have them brought before him and released. Does our government seize some old telegraphic despatches, by which some unsuspected traitors may be caught? Then, the Editors of the Republican are indignant again. They cannot contain their wrath, but come out in a flaming editorial denouncing it as a great outrage. How is it that the Editors of the Republican never become indignant at any outrages perpetrated by the rebels? They may burn bridges; destroy property; murder our soldiers in the public streets; arrest, torture and hang peaceable citizens, for no other crime than being true to their flag and their country; but the Editorial mind of the Republican is not moved in the least! Many of these things are not noticed at all, and others barely alluded to as mere matters of fact. But, let some Southern Secessionist lose a few "niggers," or let the government take some energetic measures to arrest and punish the traitors; and what a howling will be heard! The editorials of the Republican will teem with wrath. Its editors can witness the most horrid wrongs and indignities perpetrated on their fellow-citizens of the North and look on with as little feeling as a hyena; but let so much as a hair of a traitor be touched, and in their sympathies they become as tender as young doves. We have no confidence in the loyalty of such men, let their pretensions be what they may. Those who have such strong rebel sympathies, should betake themselves to Boby Found .- A few days ago, says the Harrisburg Telegraph of the 19th, the body of a man was found on a rock at Conewago Falls, in the Susquehanna river, near the Dauphin and Lancaster line. The body was very much disfigured, having evidently been in the water for some time. The deceased appeared to bave been respectably dressed, and a silver watch was found on his person. He was supposed to have been an up-river lumberman.

MR. CAMERON .- At a dinner of the St. Andrew's Society in Washington, on Tuesday, the 18th, Secretary Cameron made a speech, in which he said that the war would surely continue till the causes of it should be removed; and that when it was done we should hear no more of Virginians and South Carolinians -only of Americans. These words were received with enthusiastic applause.

The Department of State has given notice that all passports which may be issued by a Diplomatic Agent accredited to this Government, or by any Consular authority whatsoever, either to a person about to proceed beyond the lines of the United States forces or to a foreign country, will be countersigned by the Socretary of State.

One of the editors of the Republican, last week, indulged in much sophism on our artithat the "six-shooter" got a little mixed, and discharged several barrels promiscuously.

THE SOUTHERN CONSPIRATORS.

Much is still said, by a certain class, about "compromising" our present difficulties with southern States even more than their just rights," rather than not affect a "compromise" with the rebels and traitors of the country. Below we print several extracts from important southern documents, to show what kind of "compromise" the leaders of the rebellion fa-

Richmond, several weeks since, said :

"I rejoice in this war. Who is there that now dares to put on sanctity to deprecate war, or the shorrid glories of war ?' None. Why ? Because it is a war of purification. You want war, fire, blood, to purify you, and the Lord of Hosts has determined that you shall walk through fire and blood. You are called to up to the altar. Though your pathway be through fire, through a river of blood, turn not aside. Be in no haste-no hurry and flurry."

C. F. Jackson, Governor of Missouri. in a Proclamation to the citizens of that State; after recounting what he styles aggressions by the Federal authorities, says:

"But it is equally my duty to advise you that your first allegiance is due to your State, and that you are under no obligation whatever to obey unconstitutional edicts of the military despotism which has introduced itself at Washington, nor to submit to the infamous and degrading sway of its minions in this State. No brave and true hearted Missourian will obey the one or submit to the other. Rise then and drive out ignominously the invaders who have dared to desecrate the soil which your fabors have made faithful, and which is consecrated

Gen. Beauregard, recently issued a proclamation to the Virginians, in which he resorts to falsehood, to stimulate the people of that State to revenge. He says:

"A reckless and unprincipled tyrant has inaded your soil. Abraham Lincoln, regardless of all moral, legal and constitutional restraints, has thrown his abolition hosts among you, who are murdering and imprisoning your citizens, confiscating and destroying your property, and committing other acts of violence and outrage too shocking and revolting to humanity to be enumerated. All rules of civilized warfare are abandoned, and they proclaim by their acts, if not on their banners, that their war cry is "Beauty and Booty." All that is dear to man-your honor, and that and your lives are involved in this momen-

As an evidence of the peaceful designs of the traitors, the following extract from an address of George Bickley, "K. G. C., President American Legion," called forth by a resolution of the Kentdcky Legislature to inquire into the objects of the secret oath-bound association known as the Knights of the Golden Circle, shows what is secretly doing.

"There are new nearly eight thousand in the State, (Kentucky,) distributed through every county, and the organization is growing daily in favor and importance; and the work will be pushed with the utmost vigor until the tri-colored flag of the Confederate States floats in triumph from the dome of the Capitol at Frankfort.

The Memphis, Tennessee, Avalanche, says: "We proclaim a war of invasion against the North-West, to the knife. Kentucky will extend to us the passage through her territory for our armies. We will not say anything at present about the secret information we possess of formidable combinations of good and true men in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, to overthrow the Lincoln dynasty, who are only waiting our arrival to rise up and crush their

If the Avalanche tells the truth, there are nembers of that infamous gang of cut-throats n some of the Northern States; whose main object seems to be the destruction of the National Government at all hazards. In how many of the States this organization exists, is not known, except by those who are "in the ring." It therefore behooves every true and loyal citizen to be on the alert, and to stand firmly by the government in its efforts to preserve the Constitution, and in the enforce-

THE CHARLESTON MERCURY ON THE PRIVA-TEER SAVANNAH .- The Mercury makes these remarks on the capture of the privateer Savannah : Almost every day now brings us news of importance. Yesterday brought us the intelligence of the capture of the privateer Savannah, from this port. The loss of the schooner in times like these would scarcely call for a moment's consideration. But the circumstances are such as to render the fact one of grave import-perchance the results may be still graver. With the insane and blood-thirsty spirit ruling the Government of the North, there are probabilities that the crew of the Savannat will be executed. The United States Government have said it-the popular clamor has approved the bloody declaration. Will their bloated vanity and malice give way to the milder voice of national law-of reason and discretion? Will they not go on in their mad pathway of violence and lawlessness? Their course up to this time has been uniform. Will they at this day pay regard to reason, justice, or law? If they do not, what then? Aye! what then? Let one of these men persh, and we look to the authorities at Richmond for immediate and bloody retribution. We look to them, and we shall expect them to settle a strict account of blood for blood. If the hair of the head of a single man of this crew is injured, South Carolina will demand that the outrage be atoned for-an eye for an eye-a tooth for a tooth-a life for a life. Aye! and she will have it-no more and no less: on the battlefield, and after the battle. Let one of these, hericitizens commissioned in her cause, perish as a pirate, and woe to the enemy who falls into our hands. Humanity and justice, no less than the cause itself, will compel to prompt and ample retribution; and the sooner this is understood, the better for all parties to the war. Civilized warfare will be met in kind; savage warfare will compel savage warfare. The North can make it either. Let them now decide.

The election in this State will be a mere mockery. The masses have been intimidated. I was one of the Central Committee, last year, for the then so called Union party, and I really believed it to be a Union party. John Bell, and those who surround vor, and upon what terms they desire peace. him, have been carried over simply by the troops about, and bringing the whole force of Henry A. Every possible effort has been made to shut out the light from the people. Such papers in the State as have dared to speak the truth have been suppressed. We are stripped, and at the mercy of our toe. I have been trying to do what I could to avert such a calamity, and to bring back peace; but I am here generally regarded as a public enemy. My letters are intercepted and searched at the Post-Office. A lot of circulars which I mailed to my old committee correspondents, have been seized, and are detained by anthority of a self-constituted inquisition, called 'The Committee of Public Safety.' This thing is done openly and defiantly. This is the kind of government we are asked to sanction by our votes. They are aware that, as for myself, I would rather die than to be forced to vote for such a mobocracy."

MUTINY IN A PITTSBURG COMPANY .- A few days ago the camp at Mellville five miles this side of Baltimore, on the Northern Central railroad, where the "Firemen's Legion," of Pittsburg, attached to the twelfth Pennsylvania regiment is stationed, for the protection of the road, was thrown into no little excitement by four of the privates attempting to murder one of the picket guards. It appears the captain gave the four men leave of absence for several hours, and they repaired to a place near the camp where they obtained liquor, and became intoxicated. On their return they assaulted the guard, took his musket from him and attempted to bayonet him whereupon the guard ran to the captain's quarters and informed him of the fact. The captain immediatly detailed five men to pursue them, and bring them to his quarters dead or living. As soon as the detachment came in sight of the disorderly soldiers they were the shouts of "kill them! kill them!" ordered his detachment to fire, which resulted in one of the mutineers being shot dead on the spot, three balls entering his breast and one taking effect in his forehead; another was shot through his left hand, and the remaining two taken prisoners. The wounded man is confined in the hospital at Mellville, and the two prisoners were taken to Fort McHenry to await trial. The fellow who was shot has long been familiarly known in Pittsburg as "Loafer," and when under the influence of liquor was more demon than man. The two prisoners, if convicted, will be shot immediately.

WHO ARE THE BRAVE !- In looking at the deeds of valor of the Northern and Southern "chivalry," as thus far exhibited in this war, the contrast is really astonishing. The vaunted hot blood of the self styled "chivalry," sudden and quick in quarrel," struck the terrible first blows of a terrible strife, with a flerce alacrity that seemed to shame our own unwarlike patience and tameness, and challenged a sort of admiration. But when the strife was thus begun, and there began to be blows to take, as well as blows to give-who was foremost then, and ever since? Strange to say, not an aggressive movement or gesture, in the face of an enemy in force-not a solitary instance of personal heroism-not a partical of fighting, or firing, except from behind breastworks or ambuscades—has redeemed this every-way-base rebellion from utter dishonor! Strange to say, all the chivalrous daring, the generous self-exposure, the tragical fall of the young and brave, that have made up the terrible poetry of the war, have been on the part of the scorned and flouted "counter-jumpers," "mudsills" and "greasy mechanics" of the North! Well-it is no new thing under the sun, for the unconscious heroism of humble and peaceable industry to put to shame the braggart blood of "aristocracy."

MURDER IN TAYLOR COUNTY .- The Lebanon Central Kentuckian says Mr. Joseph Schooler, of Taylor county, was poisoned last week. From the best information we can obtain, the details are as follows: There lived with Mr. Schooler a man named Anthony Sidney, whom Schooler suspected of being too intimate with his wife. Having become satisfied of their criminal intercourse, a separation took place which continued for a few days, when they seemingly became reconciled to each other. In the meantime, however, Sidney made a He drank and expired in a few moments. Physicians were called in, and upon consulare under arrest.

REBFLLIOUS SAVAGES .- The New Orleans Crescent says that the Chickasaws held a council on the 24th of May and formally dissolved their connection with the United States government, and issued a manifesto to the Choctaws, Creeks, Cherokees, and Seminoles, and to the Reserve Indians, advising them to secede from the old Union, and to petition the Southern Confederacy to be received as a distinct organised territory, instead of an Indian territory. The friendly Indians are all in favor of it. They had ordered off all the missionaries in the country. The Indians also took up two abolitionists from Northern Texas, one of whom was a preacher, and hung them. The forts were all to be garrisoned in twenty days, in accordance with a treaty made with

The St. Louis Republican says that since the self he may get a slight peppering from some view to avert all suspicions that the United of those muskets which he so freely dealt in States troops had unduly interfered with the State Government.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS

JINE 19 .- Another battle has been fought of the kind will happen here before long, of resident of Nashville, dated June 4: "I never in Missouri. Gen. Lyon having heard that which the superior officers seem to be well awood, whence, hidden by bushes and trees, they opened a brisk fire on the troops. Gen. Lyon then ordered a hasty retreat to the boats, and the rebels, encouraged by this movement, rallied and followed the troops into a wheat field. Gen. Lyon halted, faced his carried from the field. Gov. Jackson viewed the affair from a safe distance, then fled and of arms, and a considerable quantity of ammules. Col. Boernstein was continually sending out scouting parties into the country surrounding Jefferson City. One company has just arrived, bringing a large quantity of powder in kegs, taken from one of Gov. Jackson's secret depots in the interior. The secessionists of Boone, Holloway, and Howard counties are fleeing, and the Union Home Guards are beginning to organize in those counties.

JUNE 20 .- A detachment of Rebel troops from Romney, Va., yesterday morning at six o'clock burned a bridge on the Baltimore and attacked and drove off the Picket Guard of from Cumberland, 40 in aumber, under Capt. Reily, and stationed at the Piedmonte bridge. The rebel force is estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000, who, it was said had attacked the guard and killed all but two. It now appears, from the column crying, and said, sobbing loudly : good authority, that the reported possession of the town of Piedmonte by the rebels is the telegraph wires, they retreated into the country, but it is said that a large force is still in the neighborhood. The rebel force seemed to be moving to connect with a larger body of troops to attack Col. Wallace in his camp near Cumberland, Md. All the engines belonging to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had been fired up and sent west to Gratton.

There has been rumors of a large secession force advancing upon Fortress Monroe, from the direction of Yorktown. An important re- | and not unworthy of Sir Robert Peel, Jr., in connoisance towards Great Bethel was made. Our picket guards near Little Bethel was driven in yesterday by the rebels. The armies approach each other daily. The Federal pickets and those of the enemy were in sight of each other ten miles beyond Alexandria at noon to day.

Two members of the First Connecticut regiment were captured during the night by rebels. Our troops are moving slowly and cautiousv towards Fairfax.

Our troops near Vienna are putting up tents to-day. Their camp is connected with the War Department by telegraph.

Lieut. Col. Thompson, of the Confederate army, was captured by scouts near Phillipi. Col. Kelly is slowly gaining health and strength, and will go to Wheeling this week. The rebels are again at work on the Aquia Creek batteries.

JUNE 21 .- The St. Louis Democrat has a special dispatch from Syracuse, about twentyfive miles south of Booneville, which says that an expedition of nearly 1,000 strong, with four pieces of artillery, under Capt. Totten, of the regular service, left Boonville Wednesday night and reached this place at 10 A. M. yesterday. Gov. Jackson, with about 500 men. arrived here on Tuesday, and after impressing property of both friends and foes, being afraid of pursuit, suddenly left yesterday forenoon. proceeding southward towards Warsaw. Our forces have gone forward to-day, but there is little hope of overtaking the fleeing party. A battle took place at sunrise on Tuesday morning, between 800 Union Home Guards under Capt. Cook, near the town of Cole Camp, and a large party of Secessionists from Warsaw and the surrounding country, at which 15 Guards were killed, 20 wounded, many of them severely, and 30 prisoners were taken. Most of the Guards were in a large barn when the firing began, and 'tis said killed 40 of the attacking barty before being overpowered by superior numbers, but nearly all of them escaped and are ready to join our forces to dispute the passage of the State troops.

Great excitement prevailed at Harrisburg, vesterday. News had been received that Col-Wallace's command at Cumberland, Md., was hemmed in by a rebel force of 10,000. Camp journey to Columbia and procured strychnine, Curtin was soon in motion. Colonel's Simand it is supposed he furnished Mrs. Schooler | mons' and Biddles' regiments, fully armed and with it. Be this as it may, Mr. Schooler hav- uniformed, marched to the depot and took ing come into the house fatigued from labor, the cars westward, to proceed to Cumberland asked his wife to make him a glass of toddy, and reinforce Col. Wallace. The men were which she willingly did, and handed it to him. In high spirits and cheered with great enthusiasm when leaving for the seat of war. Col. Biddle's regiment is composed of the famous tation determined to open the corpse and ex- "wild-cat" companies, and we predict that amine the stomach. The stomach has been they will win as many laurels as any regiment sent to Louisville for the purpose of having the | now in the United States service. After the contents analyzed. Sidney and Mrs. Schooler troops had lett, information was received that Col. Wallace was reinforced. This news disarranged partly the movements of the two departed regiments, which will be stopped at Hopewell for the present. Hopewell is eighteen miles this side of Bedford.

A rebel force of 11,000 is said to be encamped at Stephenson's depot, 10 miles from Martinsburg. Gen. Cadwallader is at Willjamsport with 6,000 men. The rebel pickets are opposite and threaten to bombard the town. Gen. Cadwallader has planted artillery against them; much excitement exists, and many of the people are leaving. The return of the rebels to Harper's Ferry is confirmed; and it is said, that they destroyed the rest of the property.

The Pennsylvania regiments now in and near this city are attracting their full share of public attention. The regiments which have recently arrived from the old Keystone are second to none. The soldiers are a brave, determined set of fellows, well clothed, and e-They seem perfectly contented; but, like A special dispatch dated Cairo, 20th, says:

"We are expecting an attack soon from Gen. Pillow, at the head of an army variously esti-ware. There is a rumor here that a large force of Ohio troops and several gun boats are comming down the Ohio river to join us."

It appears that the steamship Bavaria, from Hamburg, brought out only between 8.000 and Homework to the federal without delay, as it is accounts will have be to the federal without delay. 10,000 stand of German guns for the federal A Hornin Picture .- A South Carolinian has written to Mr. Fillmore an ardent letter, from which we make the following extract: "Whenever the slaves in the Gulf States are incited to servile insurrections, and the prospect bids fair for their being converted into demons incarnate, then the slaveowners in the South will be found ready to sacrifice every slave from whom danger may be apprehended, even though it involve the destruction, by a concerted and simultaneous move ment, of every male slave over the age of 15 years or even younger than that, if the necessities of the case may seem to require it; and willing hands will be found ready to execute the bloody deed. Before Southern men will suffer themselves, their wives and little ones to be butchered, and their daughters worse than butchered, by fiends in human form; before they will suffer to any considerable extent the horrors of servile insurrections, the Gulf streams will be crimson with gore, and every Southern river choked with the festering carcusses of slaves.

SPILING FOR A FIGHT .- One of the Michigan boys got very sick in Harrisburg, and was unable to accompany his regiment to Washington. He was ordered home when convalescent, and furnished a pass to go, but that did not suit him at all. The other day, very un-Ohio Railroad near Piedmonte. They also expectedly to his comrades, he made his appearance in the camp at Washington. The Col. Walace's regiment, who were Marylanders | Surgeon seized him in the ranks, and as he was really unable to withstand the hardships of the sercice, ordered him out. It was just as the troops were in column to march to Virginia, an alarm having been given. He left · Never mind, boys, you'll find me on the other side of the bridge. I'll be d-d if I don't false. After burning the bridge, and cutting be there." And if there had been a fight no doubt he would have kept, his word. The brave fellow started for a fight and if there is a chance he is going to have it. That Michigander, if he lives, will return home covered

> THE EMPEROR'S JOKE .- The latest joke, not to be found in Punch, but heard at the clubs, is said to come from the other side of the channel, though may hap of home manufacture, his merry mood. Here it is. The Prince Imperial and the Emperor were in discussion tween the words "accident" and "misfortune," little elucidation. After a pause for an illusaccident if your cousin, Prince Nepoleon, were to tumble into the Seine-but it would be a misfortune if any one were to help him

> SOLDIERS PAY .- The State of Illinois has rather outwitted and outfinanciered the sharpers who have been hanging on the flanks of the army of that commonwealth. The announcement is made that the state authorities will pay all warrants in the hands of the volunteers in gold and silver, upon presentation at the Treasury Department, but no warrant in the hands of second parties will be paid at present. This is no more than right, as no doubt such warrants were purchased at an enormous discount, and therefore the second hand holders can afford to wait for liquidation. This is an example that should be steadily followed by every state in the Union. We are opposed to showing mercy to those who show no mercy to the soldiers.
