THE FAIR .- We this week publish the premium list and rules and regulations of the Clearfield County Agricultural Society.

FALL SESSION .- By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that Mr. Sandthe 2d day of September.

THE WEATHER has been exceedingly warm in this section during the past week. We have had several fine showers, however, which had the effect of lowering the temperature a little, and of refreshing the growing crops.

HOAXED .- Several weeks since, we published the marriage notice of Abel H. Farwell to Miss Mary E. Hammond. It appears that we were the subject of a "sell," no such marriage having taken place. Further, we have been informed, that the young man whose name appears in the notice, has no knowledge of a lady by the name of Mary E. Hammond. The person who can stoop to such a mean and dastardly trick, deserves the contempt of all honest men; and should it be our good fortune long as he lives.

THE "ARMY WORM."-Much excitement has prevailed in our town and neighborhood, during the past week, on account of the appearance of countless numbers of black worms, all the blades and heads off the growing oats, leaving nothing but the stalk. The larger the opinion that it is the "army worm ;" but, exists only in great numbers in fields, where the sod had been plowed down. Be this as it may, one, thing is certain, that they are doing of time is my excuse. On the morning of passed. Col. Tyler thinks what man has done the 27th, whilst eating breakfast at Westernport, orders came to draw one days rations, pack things, and by noon to be ready to march for Harper's Ferry. Soon all was bustle, and each man began to pack his knapsack and fill his Laversack. At noon we crossed to to send Col. Tyler and his regiment to get the Piedmont on the Virginia side, and with the money. Tyler never sleeps, and seems full of other companies of the 5th, soon "piled in" the cara. Before starting we gave three cheers for the Union and the ladies of Piedmont; and the whole regiment joined in six cheers for our flag and the ladies of Clearfield; and I can assure you that our flag will never be taken by the enemy without a fight for it. We rode in open cars, which are greatly preferred by the soldiers. On reaching New Creek, we found that Col. Biddle's regiment had started a short time previous, and that his camp was soon can you march for Weston ?' 41'll show of membership containing the name of the applioccupied by a regiment of Ohio boys and a you soon if you will look yonder,' and waving Battery of Regular horse Artillery. Here I saw the first furnace for heating shot, and other things peculiar to the artillery service, with which 1 am not acquainted.

After a short stop, we started and crossed New Creek, then the "Burnt bridge," now rebuilt, and towards evening arrived at Cumberland; where, after some delay, we were marched to the commons, stacked arms, cooked supper, and took quarters for the night. The valley from the "Burnt bridge" to Cumberford commences his fall session on Monday land is beautiful, soil good, crops heavy, and fields large. One cornfield contains about 100 acres. The work is principally done by negroes, I presume slaves, who look fine and hearty and display a large amount of ivory, which they seem to show with delight. As the train passed along we cheered (and I can assure you we are a rather noisy set) and were greeted by the waving of handkerchiefs and and hats, on both the Maryland and Virginia side of the river. I found Cumberland a town about the size of Harrisburg, the principle streets paved with cobble stones, and quite city-like in appearance.

At daybreak all were astir; and not having room in our baggage wagon for the knapsacks we had to carry them. The morning was sultry and after marching some 2 miles it commenced to rain but did not cool the air much. We did not stop until we reached "Mason and Dixon." our old camp, where we refreshed ourselves with a drink out of the cool spring. Here we remained for the day having traveled about 7 miles, and glad were we, for it soon rained to ascertain his name, we will give him the hard. The next day we marched 18 miles, benefit of a notice, that he will remember as stopping for the night 5 miles south of Bedford. On the morning of the third day at 5 o'- clock, we started for Bedford Springs. On arriving at the Springs, we were marched around the large circular walk, faced in, ground arms, and broke ranks for half an hour. On leaving, we saw standing at the gate a venerable looking man, who, we were told, occupwhich are doing much damage to the oats and | ed the White House previous to the advent of -corn crops. In some instancas, they have cut "Uncle Abe." We passed through Bedford with music, and colors flying ; the fair ones greeting us on all sides. Half a mile north of Bloody Run we stopped three hours to eat our worms are about one inch in length, are black, dinners, at one of the largest springs I ever and have a brown head. Many persons are of saw, and the best water I ever drank. The stream is large enough to supply a good sized town. We left this spring at 4 o'clock, and we believe it to be the black cut worm, as it traveled within 5 miles of Hopewell, having made a march of 20 miles. Here we found Mr. M'Pherson and J. McGaughey. The tollowing morning we soon made the 5 miles to Hopewell where we took the cars for this place. At Huntingdon we stopped half an hour to be "fed ;" and I am satisfied that I could not do the ladies justice for their kindness, if I were to write a week, and exhaust Webster's unabridged; in fact, I do not know which to praise most, their beauty or their benevolence. This much I will say, however, that we were "fed" abundantly; and I can assure you, that the capacity of a hungry regiment is not small. Since our arrival at Camp Curtin, we have been busy. Yesterday we received our pay from the State. We are looking hourly for marching orders, whither we don't know. The men of our company are generally well, and feel good over their pay-and expect more soon. Sheriff Reed visited us to-day. It is very warm here, and the "boys" are wishing for the mountains of Virginia. Accept my thanks for several copies of the "Journal." Yonrs, M. [Onr friend "M" will please accept our thanks for this letter. Hope to hear from you with whom he was associated and became very soon again. Please write, so that your letter will reach one day earlier.] A FEMALE SPY .- The First Kentneky Regiment, which is now on daty in Western Virginia, arrested a female spy last week. She says she is from Georgia. She came to Cincinnati and enlisted in the First Kentucky Regiment, thinking she would get in General McClellan's army. She was caught writing letters containing our army movements for the enemy. She endured all the hardships of camp life as bravely as any of the "boys," making at one time a forced march over a rough, hilly country of 60 miles with only two seant meals. She refused to give her name.

ANOTHER FEAT .-- The Cleaveland Plaindealer | says: "It was thought no possible feat of FRIEND Row :- No doubt you thought I had physical endurance could equal that snight neglected my promise, to write weekly. Want | march to Phillippa.' We still think it unsurman can do.' He adds five miles to the march, but has no rain. When it was found that there was $30,000 in gold, in Weston, likely to be taken by Wise, Gen. McClellan started for Clarksburg, twenty-three miles from Weston, the idea that his office is to be no sinceore. He anticipated the order, and parading his men on a highland near the depot at which McClellan was to arrive, he told him to keep an eye on him when the train arrived, and if the word from McClellan was march, he would wave his handkerchief, and they could show Clarksburg their heels. The train arrived, and Gen. McClellan rushed up to Col. Tyler as he sat on his horse, and asked, Col. Tyler, how dol'ar to the Treasurer shall receive a certificate his handkerchief, the whole regiment struck a double quick and disappeared like the hosts ticket which will admit him free during the fair. of Roderick Dhu. ANIMALS .- The Richmond Examiner pays this compliment to the foreign born citizens of this country, many of whom at the South emigrants (Irish, Scotch, German, &c.,) do not, like our ancesotrs, fly from religious and political persecution. They come merely as animals in search of a richer and fresher pasture. They come to gratify physical wantfor moral, intellectual and religious wants they have not acquired. They will settle in large masses, and for ages to come, will practice an impure materialism.
