CORRESPONDENCE OF THE "JOURNAL." CAMP TENALLY, Sept. 11, 1861.

FRIEND Row :- Nothing of interest to your readers has occurred in our company, since only one killed. Our victory is complete, and my last, until yesterday, Tuesday. On Monday evening our regiment received an order for each company to detail 50 men to start to Washington on Tuesday morning at 5 a. m., to meet Gov. Curtin and escort him to the head-quarters of Gen. McCall; with the understanding that the Governor intended to present each regiment with its new colors, none as yet having been furnished. We starbeautiful and our march was a very pleasant one. We arrived in front of Willard's Hotel at about 8 a. m., and about an hour afterwards front of the Hotel, our company was occupied in keeping the curiosity seekers away from the doors. "Andy" rode out in an open carriage drawn by 4 large bay horses-two gentlemen occupied the front seat and he the back one-several carriages followed in the rear. Gen. McCall's orderlies rode on each side and in front and rear, as body guard. The Governor's passage through Washington and Georgetown excited a great deal of attention, and carriage after carriage started out to see the flag presentation. When we arrived at the general parade ground, we found the "Reserve corps" drawn up in line, excepting three regiments now absent on duty. The big guns on the fort fired a salute, and Campbell's battery another. The flags were brought on the the Colonel of each Regiment. Andy then made a speech, which nobody heard except the crowd of citizens who had come out from Washington-after which the army passed in review before his excellency and then again formed in battle array. Andy now left, as well as the curiosity hunters. Andy and all the Colonels took dinner with Gen. McCall. Our regiment was glad to get home. Having had an early breakfast, our walk of 14 miles had sharpened our appetites for dinner. The scene on the field was quite an interes-ing one. There being any amount of carriages filled with ladies and gents-the rapid flight of the Aids, going to and fro with orders-the orderlies riding every which way whose forte, as "Artemus" says, being to demonstrate how much yellow braid can be put on one uniform and in riding unmanageable horses, and the gay uniform of the command ing officers, presented a scence truly exciting. It is said "Abraham" was on the ground -if so, I did not see him-he must have taken a back seat. I saw James K. Kerr and a good many other Pennsylvanians. Yours, M.

DARUESTOWN, Md., Sept. 16 .- At about 3 o'clock, a force of about 450 rebels attacked the extreme right of my pickets, some three miles above this place, opposite Putchard's mills, lasting about two hours. The enemy were driven from every house and breastworks they occupied, 8 or 10 rebels are said to be killed and a number wounded. Our loss is the troops behaved most admirably. Our cannon were efficiently served and rendered good service in the action. G. W. GEARY,

The Steamer Sioux City brings information were on the march again. During our stay in that a fight occured at Booneville Missouri, on the 13th, between the secessionists and the Home Guards, which terminated in the victory of the latter. The Home Guards held their entrenchmonts against the rebels, one thousand strong, who were driven back with a loss of 12 killed and 30 wounded. The Home Guards lost only one man killed and four wounded. Among the killed of the rebels were Col. Brown and Capt. Brown.

Advices from Northwest Missouri say that since the withdrawal of the Federal occupants from St. Josephs, that region is arming again. Some two thousand rebels are concentrated ground, and presented in person by Andy, to in Andrew county, under Major Potter. About the same number of Unionists, composed of Missourians and Iowains, under Cols. Crane and Edwards, had started for the same region and both sides were preparing for battle, so that a conflict may shortly be expected.

ROBERT LIVINGETON .- This young man was a private in the "Washington Cadets," and died at camp Tenally, near Washington City, on Friday morning. His remains were brought to this place on Sunday morning, by Wm. Ogden of the same company, and intered in the grave yard near this place in the afternoon. The funeral was attended by a large concourse of people from both town and country. Mr. L. was a young man of much promise,-a good, true and loyal soldier-and was auxious to engage in actual service in detence of his country. Death, however, frustrated his desire. Peace to his ashes.

OUR GRAVE YARD .- The undersigned Trustees have appointed Thursday the 3d day of October, as a day to grub out the bushes and fill up the graves in the Yard on the hill. All persons having friends burried there, will please be in attendance at that time. The place is so much grown over with bushes, that it is very difficult to find many of the graves ; and besides, it looks rather disrespectful. Come friends, (from both town and country.) give us a helping hand, and the burying ground will soon present an appearance that will be a credit to our town and neighborhood.

JACKSON RIFLES .- This is a new company that left this county on Thursday a-week, under command of Capt. John Rose. Their rendezvous was Camp Wilkins near Pittsburg. Capt. Rose and C. H. Powers, have been in the county recruiting during the past week ; and have succeeded in obtaining men sufficient to fill the company to the requisite number. C. H. Powers left this place on Tuesday morsing with ten men; and, we are informed, that on the same day with upwards of 30 men. This, then, is the third full company that is in the service from this county. The regiment, Col. M'Knight's, is now below Washington city on the Potomac ; and our boys may have the pleasure of seeing some service in a very short time. Success to them.

MR. NICHOLSON'S DECLINATION.

CAMP WILKINS, Aug. 31st, 1861. B. T. HASTINGS, Esq.: We arrived in camp on Friday morning and are getting along well; the sixth company for our regiment arrived toay, and have been sworn into service.

I take this opportunity of saying to the citzens of our Representative district that I decline running on the Platform laid down by the conferees, that I still adhere to the principles of the National Democratic Party adopted at Charleston.

That I am not an admirer of Breckenridge, Burnett, Valandigham and Wood, nor any such "Patriot band" that I have sworn to supment cannot compromise with rebels until snatching them, as it were, from the mouth of the

DEEDS AND MISDEEDS OF DEMOCRACY The resolutions passed by the Philadelphia,

Democratic County Convention are refreshingly cool, in summer-time. They exultingly declare that a great deal was done for the people under a Democratic President, Jefferson ; that the last war with England was fought upder another Democratic President, Madison; that nulification was defeated by another Democratic President, Jackson; that the Mexican war was won under another Democratic President. Polk. Here the minutes stop abruptly, but we will help the Convention along. The bombardment of Greytown occured under a Democratic President, Pierce. So did the Ostend Conference, with its piratical enunciations. So did a number of the Filibustering expeditions, which were the advance movements of Secessionists. So did the repeal of the Missouri Compromise law, which undid the work performed by old-time Democrats for the preservation of peace and Union. So did a number of other deplorable and disgraceful events, which ought to be reported in any summary of the historic incidents that have occured under Democratic Presidents.

The Convention also torgot to state that a constitution agreed upon by the people of Kansas was forbidden by a Democratic President, Buchanan. They forgot to state that a Potomac. Democratic President tried to force on them a constitution they had repudiated. They forgot to state that under this last and culminating one of the Democratic Presidents, the United States Treasury was robbed of millions of dollars, and the United States armories were robbed of hundreds of thousands of stands of arms. They forgot to add that he countenanced conspirators and traitors in his Cabinet. in his house and at his table. They forgot to add that the first Secession movements took place under this Democratic President, and he took no steps to prevent them ; but, like either a craven or a traitor himself, basely said he could not prevent them, thus giving the rebels every advantage that they desired. They forgot to state that the American flag was first fired on by rebels, under the Democratic President, Buchanan, who has repeatedly been favored with the commendation of this Democratic County Convention of Philadelphia. They forgot to add that the whole work of Disunion, the seizure of all the forts, arsenals and other Government establishments in the rebel States, the organization of the rebel Confederacy, and the other acts that tended to the overthrow of the Union and the disasters and calamities that we are still suffering from, were accomplished, unresisted, under this Democratic President, Buchanan.

The Convention, in a word, neglected to state that all the troubles from which the coup-Capt. Rose left the upper end of the county try is now suffering, are the natural result of the aims and operations of two successive Democratic administrations-those of Pierce and Buchanan, who were the last, and consequently, we presume, the ripest and truest representatives of Democracy. We are not disposed to make a factious opposition to the Democratic nominees. But we wish all attempts to keep up these party organizations would cease, during the present national crisis, when people want to vote simply for supporters of the Government against treason and rebellion. The Democratic Convention has foolishly tried to recommend its work by reterring to some of the deeds of the Democracy. We have thought it proper to complete the record and refer to some of its misdeeds.

TROUBLES OF THE DEMOCRACY.

The following speech was delivered at a "fighting convention" of the Democratic party in Westchester county N. Y., by Geo. A. Brandreth.

I endorse the sentiments which the Hon. Daniel S. Dickenson has lately expressed. I believe those patriotic sentiments should be the guiding principles of every patriotic Democrat. If you elect me as a delegate to the Syracuse Convention I shall vote for him for Secretary of State. I am opposed to Peter Cragger and Dean Richmond, and, in fact, all Ben Wood Democrats,-believing they are nothing but secessionists in disguise and we can never succeed in putting down this rebellion unless we first subdue secessionists at home. They are lending aid and comfort to the enemy, and encourageing them by their talk of liberal offers of peace. No peace can be made with the seceded states without acknowledging their independence. Do that and we surely lose Kentucky, Maryland, and Missouri, and our Union dissolves like a rope of sand. I therefore believe in making no offers of peace, but I do believe in a vigorous prosecution of the war, until the rebellious states, like bad children, are whipped into obedience. I think that the late offer of the Republicans to join with the Democrats, and sink party issues for our common welfare, magnanimous and wise; and if our Central Committee had not the power to accept it they should have called their convention to assemble the same day as the Republicans, and then the people by their representatives could have settled the matter.

The secession democrats broke up our national convention, defeated Douglas, and elected Lincoln, and now they say that his election is the cause of the present war. I say that the secession Democrats caused the war and all our present troubles, and they should be punished and subdued. Until this is done we shall have no government, and nothing about which political parties can have cause to fight. The only issue now is, for or against the war, and the support of the administration. I am for the war and sustaining the administration until we are victorious, or so badly beaten as to be forced to beg on our knees for peace. I will then tight for the Democracy, but until then we should all fight for our country.
