"But why did Captains M'Kiernan and Oglen escape this "influence of political advisers ?"-Clearfield Republican.

Did Captain Ogden escape it ? Was he not prevailed upon to start for Camp on Monday morning previous to the election ? And why ? Was it not because "this company was largely Democratic" and "they could not hold an election in his absence ?"

POSTAGE STAMPS .- M. A. Frank, the Postmaster at Clearfield, is prepared to exchange try has received his just doom. But, I do new postage stamps for old ones.

H. W. Spencer, the Postmaser at Lumbercity will also exchange new stamps for old ones. Charles Sloppy, the Postmaster at Troutville will also exchange new stamps for old ones. Persons having old style stamps are requested to make the exchange within six days from this date-otherwise they will lose them.

AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR THE EAR ACHE .---Take a small piece of cotton batting, or cotton wool, make a depression in the center with the end of the finger, and fill it with as much ground pepper as will rest on a five cent piece. gather it into a ball and tie it up, dip the ball into sweet oil and insert it in the ear, covering relief will be experienced, and the application is so gentle that an infant will not be inadults.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE "JOURNAL." C____ MARYLAND, Oct. 19, 1861.

S. J. Row, Esq :- DEAR SIE :- 1 had no thought when I left Clearfield, that by this time I would be away down here on the borders of "Secessia," but so it is. One advantage I derive from my present position is, that t see the iniquity of Secession in a light I never could have seen it in, if I had remained in the interior of Pennsylvania, and, I also understand the hollow cry of "Peace," as I could not have done in any other position. The truth is, and it cannot be denied, the Peace Party is the Secession Party. It originated in this State, and with the very men who were formerly out and out Secessionists; but finding they could not get the State out of the Union, they all at once became as docile as lambs, and began to cry Peace ! Peace ! Yes, the very men that headed the Baltimore riots of the 19th of April, and caused the streets of that city to run with the blood of loval citizens of the United States, are the men who are now heading this "Peace Party !!" and the cry is taken up by some silly Doves in the Democratic party North. Now, friend Row, you know I am a Democrat, but as such, I prefer to follow the lead of such men as Holt, Johnson, Dix, Dickinson, Butler, &c., to that of such weak kneed Democrats as those who are afraid to support the Government in its struggle for existence, lest they might be thought to support a Republican Administration. Nonsense! I am with the administration in all its efforts to put down this unholy and wicked Rebellion, heart and soul-and for this I may be called Republican, Democrat, or whatever people see proper to call me. I shall not quarrel about that. It will be time enough to talk about party when the war is over, and every traitor to his coun-think, that of all traitors, those in the North who are crippling the Government by the silly cry of "Peace," at such a time as this, are the most mischievous. They ought to go South at once and take up arms with their brethern. "A secret enemy is worse than an open foe." I remain yours truly under

. ... FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA TERRITORY, } October 11th, 1861.

FRIEND Row :- We had stormy times here for the last ten days, in our usually quiet neighborhood. But things have turned out more amusing than serious. The Jay-Hawkers (a term well understood here, but, perhaps, imperfectly known at a distance from the scene of their action,) have been having a good time and reaping a rich harvest in parts of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. In the the latter with cotton wool, and use a bandage first place, I will define a "Jay-hawker" to be or cap to retain it in its place. Almost instant an unconditional Union man, fearing neither "man, the flesh or the devil ;" a violent enemy and general terror to secessionists and traitors wherever found. A few days ago, a comjured by it, but experience relief as well as pany of about 75 of these "Rough and Readys" went from Kansas and Nebraska into Missouri, for the purpose of making calls on the aforesaid secessionists and traitors, in a hot bed of apples to keep well you must carefully observe secessionists in that troublesome State. The company was absent about a week, during which time they paid their respects to a large number of the wealthiest and most respectable of the barbarians in the neighborhood of their operations. Many of these, it is said, voluntarily came into camp and took the oath of allegiance to the United States ; others took the oath very reluctantly, after they had been captured. In most cases, all suspected parties, and all such as did not come to camp to take the oath, were required to give up all firearms and ammunition in their possession, and promise not to disturb Union men either in person or property thereafter. After reprimanding and panishing the "disloyal pukes" to their satisfaction, they concluded, after each man had supplied himself with two choice "disloyal horses," to decamp and pitch their true of winter pears and also of all our root tents once more upon free soil. It would be saying but little to say that the company was splendidly mounted and equipped. They were not only willing and anxions but are really spoiling for a fight with the barbarous Pukes. After the "boys" had left the slave cursed soil, the Pukes by much lying, threatening and swearing, got up a company composed of part Union, and a part Sesech which outnumbered the Jay-hawkers, about four to one, and actually crossed the Missouri, River and "invaded the sacred soil of Nebraska." A number of Missouri State troops under Gov. Gamble's proclamation, who were develops the aroma, and an oil, which is the turnished with United States muskets, were invited to join the expedition on the representations of the Pukes that the Union men and secessionists had been robbed indiscriminately. The Pukes, &c., approached Fails City in force and battle array, swearing like our army in Flanders." They surrounded the town in "less than no time," and would permit no egress therefrom. It so happened that no Jay-hawkers were about at the time, though they were encamped some three miles distant, and in full view of our town. The Pukes soon scented them out and got on their track. But the boys understood their business to perfection, and when the enemy He made coffee of each. Taking equal weights | was within two miles of them, they put spurs to their horses, and off they went at Rail Road speed. They did not wish to give fight, owing boiling water, he treated them both precisely to the fact that the Union men would necessaalike. He tasted the coffee himself and caused rily suffer very severely, as they could not distinguish between them in a general fight. So they took a wiser and better course. They retreated into Kansas about six miles. The Pakes pursued and camped at a large house in Pedonia. The Jay-hawkers were wide awake, and during the night prepared to give them "fits." The Jay-hawkers, unknown to the other party, camped within about twenty rods of them. Before morning the Jays had large reinforcements collected, and about daybreak they drew up in line of battle, the same went to preaching at a school-house a short number of men mustered by the enemy, and demanded an instant fight or an unconditional surrender. The Union men in company with the Pukes could not be induced to fire on the old flag of our country, which waved in triat the school-house, the alarm was given that umph at the head of the column of Jay-hawkers, and they were willing to surrender; which they did with a will. Secesh were compelled to do the same. There they were, prisoners. stripped of every thing they had, "strangers utter horror they discovered that the four in a strange land," away from home and out of money, and surrounded on all sides by Union men, compelled to travel all day without anything to eat, and that too in the enegirls. The remains of the children were after- and which fell to the boys, amounted to fifty

The roads through here, for the last two months, have been completely lined with wagons, cattle and horses, belonging to the emigrants or refugees from Southern oppression. It is really a sorrowful sight to see the poor, distressed and sickly families passing along seeking a safe retreat from the barbarities practiced upon them in Southern Missouri and Arkansas. Most of them have lost every thing they posessed. Of course they had to leave their crops behind them, where they were not destroyed-so they are now houseless and homeless wanderers, dependent on the uncertain charities of strangers for their winters support. It is to be hoped that the liberalities of the Northern people, always proverbial, will relieve the wants and sufferings of these poor and wretched people as they did in Kansas in 1860. Charity can now be practiced without being abused. Now the recipients of our favors will be real subjects of charity. May their sufferings speedily cease, and their wants soon be supplied.

Yours very respectfully, E. S. D.

Whereas, every good gift is from above, and comes down to us from the Almighty, to whom it is meet, right and the bounden duty of every people to render thanks to His mercies; therefore I, Andrew G. NEW CREEK, VA., Oct. 27 .- Brigadier-General Kelly marched from this point on Friday night, and attacked the rebels, entrenched at Romney, yesterday afternoon. He ronted the enemy capturing many prisoners, three pieces of cannon, and all their wagons and camp equipage. The rebcis retreated towards Winchester. Our loss is triffing ; that of the rebels has not been ascertained, but it is believed to be large.

A dispatch from Gen. Fremont, dated near Hermansville, Mo., Oct. 26th, says: "Yesterday afternoon Major Zagoni at the head of my body guard, made a most brilliant charge on a body of the enemy drawn up in line of battle, in their camp at Springfield, 2000 or 2200 strong. He completely routed them, cleared them from the town, hoisted the national flag on the Court House, and retired on a reinforcement which he has already joined. Our force was 150. This successful charge, against such very large odds, is a noble example to the army. Our advance will occupy Springfield to night. Our loss about 8 killed and twenty wounded."

The Naval expedition which has just sailed, is composed of 82 vessels of all classes. They carry, besides their full crews, between 30,-000 and 40,000 picked soldiers, half of them the best trained troops of Gen. McClellan's command. The expedition has aboard everything that may be needed, even down to firebrick to build furnaces for heating shot. Its expect to hear of some important and exciting news. This is the largest expedition ever sent afloat by the United States. From information received, it would appear that the rebels near Leesburg, on Monday the 21st, expected a general engagement, and therefore fought desperately to defeat.Col. Baker before he could be reinforced. After the battle, the rebels rapidly hurried up their reinforcements, and at latest advices their force was estimated at from 100,000 to 150,-000 men at Leesburg and Waterford.

At latest accounts Price was still retreating towards Arkansas. Many of his men are dissatisfied at the prospect of leaving Missouri. It is also reported that Gen. Johnston has left Kentucky to take command of Price's forces, and that Price should not give battle until Him our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving. Johnston arrived. We may look for some hard fighting in Missouri.

COFFEE THAT IS BEATEN IN A MORTAR .--- It is not generally known that coffee which has been beaten, is better than that which has been ground. Such, however, is the fact; and in his brief article on the subject, Savarin, gives what he considers the reasons for the difference. As he remarks, a mere decoction of green coffee is a most insipid drink, but carbonization peculiarity of the coffee we drink. He agrees with other writers, that the Turks excel in this. They employ no mills, but beat the berry with wooden pestles in mortars. When long used, these pestles become precious, and bring great prices. He determined by actual experiment which of the two methods was the best. He burned carefully a pound of good Mocha. and separated it into two equal portions. The one was passed through the mill, the other beaten after the Turkish fashion in a mortar. of each and pouring on an equal weight of other competent judges to do so. The unanimous opinion was that coffee beaten in a mortar was far better than that ground in a mill.

FOUR CHELDREN BURNT TO DEATH .-- On Monday evening, the 21st instant, a short time after dark; a most distressing accident occured in Ferguson township, in this county. It appears that Mr. Nicholas Tubbs and his wife distance from their home, taking with them their youngest child and leaving the four older ones at home. Some time after their arrival their house was on fire. On reaching the scene of conflagration, the rafters and other timbers were already falling in; and to their children they had left at home were in the burning building. The youngest was 3 years bodies a shapeless mass of crisp human flesh, borrible to behold. There was no fire in the house when the parents left it, except a burning candle. The origin of the fire is mere REMARKBBLE COURT MARTIAL .- The Fifth New Jersey Regiment, Col. Starr, is performshort distance. ing guard duty in the city of Alexandria, and officers and men seem to have been active in promoting union sentiments with the fair sex. The editor of the Trenton paper, writing from there, says one of the lieutenants had a beautiful lady whom he introduced as his wife, and no one suspicioned anything wrong. It appeared, however, that he had put her off from day to day on a promise of marriage, and at last becoming angry, he disavowed her altogether, refusing even to give her lunds to return to her friends in the South. She appealed to the court martial for redress, and, says the editor : After listening to the evidence, the judgement of the court was, that he should forthwith make the lady his lawful wife, and give her an order on the Government Paymaster for one-half the amount due him-being some $160. He refused at first to abide by the judgment of the court, when his sword was promply taken from him, and a guard ordered to take him in charge. This cooled him down wonderfully, and after a little further reflection he decided to abide the decision. A clergyman was sent for-the two were lawfully united in matrimony, in the presence of some twenty witnesses-the husband gave the order on the U.S. Paymaster for half his wages-congratulations were exchanged among all present in the court room, and all went their way rejoicing, save the husband, who went off a little nettled, though a "second sober thought" will, we think, doubtless bring him around all right. Some twenty other cases were disposed of through the day in a like peremptory manner.

IMPORTATION OF ARMS .- The United States continue to import from England and the continent large quantities of arms and munitions of war. During the months of September and October, the receipts of these articles have measurably increased. The importation is confined to guns, rifles, &c., but includes cannon, shells, shot, camp-kettles and cartridges. The Bremen, which arrived from Southampton at New York on the 16th of October, brought one invoice of one hundred and fortyone cases of cannon, shell and shot, together with the necessary fuses and friction tubes. destined for General Fremont. These articles were immediately forwarded to St. Louis. The value of the invoice, exclusive of duty is about $140,000. The duties amounting to about $4,200, are of course remitted, the goods being for the use of the government. The Bavaria which arrived Oct. 10th, brought a large involce of guns. The invoice consisted of 269 cases, containing 6,222 guns, valued at $52,000 or about $8,50 per gun. These were sent to the arsenal at Bridesburg, Pennsylvania, near Philadelphia. The same vessel brought swords, rifles, &c., for Gen. Fremont's army. In addition to these arms, a large number of Enfield rifles have recently arrived by the Edinburg, Kangaroo, and City of New York.
