APPOINTMENT BY COMMISSIONERS .- Counsel, W. A. Wallace. Clerk, Wm. S. Bradley. Janiter, John Shugart. Mercantile Appraiser, S. C. Schaffner.

CONTRACTS AWARDED .- The contract to furnish coal for the public buildings has been awarded to W. L. Moore, by the commissioners, and the contract to furnish wood to John McGuey.

Sno. On last Sunday right and on Monday, some 5 or six inches of snow fell in this section of country; which had the effect of making our town quite lively. Persons engaged in hauling timber, are making good use of the snow, as it enables them to draw their

ALMOST A FIRE .- On last Sunday morning, a short time after the fire had been kindled in the stove in the Methodist Church, smoke was discovered issuing from beneath the roof, and upon examination it was found that the fire had communicatedto som e of the timbers on the loft. A few buckets of water, however, soon extinguished it.

DIED .- We have received a few lines from a person who does not give his name, in which it is stated, that John Fry, of Burnside townhis remains were buried in the Alexandria Grave yard. The letter appears genuine and truthful, yet we never place much confidence in anonimous communications.

EASTON'S BATTERY .- Since the recent battle at Drainsville, the "Bucktails" have taken an unusual interest in Captain Easton's battery. It is reported, that two men from each company are daily taking lessons in the artillery drill, so that, should it ever become necessary, they may render Captain E. more efficient service. The "Bucktails" have dubbed the battery "The Bucktail Brass Band," and say that there is no mistake it its music, and that they

An Explanation .- We were favored with a letter written by David C. Dale to his sister, giving a full account of the battle at Drainesville on the 20th December, which came to hand too late for this issue; therefore his friends will have to excuse us for omitting its publication, and more especially, as we have heretofore given the principal facts as stated by him. Mr. Dale's friends will please accept our thanks for their kindness in sending us the letter alluded to, and should an opportunity offer hereafter, we will cheerfully publish

A Good one .- We have received an anonimous communication, dated Camp Jameson January 1st, 1862, in which occurs the following good one: "I cannot forbear to express my approbation of the scientific manner in which our medical department is conducted. The various diseases that prevail in camp are mostly treated with Quinine, Calomel, and Epsom Salts. The two first named are used in Fevers, Juandice, Rheumatism and Indigestion, whilst Epsom Salts is the almost universal remedy for the Toothache." The toothache cure is certainly a novelty in medical science.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE "JOURNAL."

CAMP PIERPONT, VA., DEC. 25. 1861. DEAR Row :- This is Christmas; and while there are none of those scenes of frivolity and good cheer with which Pennsylvanians are wont to regard this great annual hoiliday to divert the mind from the daily routine of camp life, I concluded that I could not do better than to present a few thoughts to the readers of the Journal. . . . Some of the accounts of the fight at Drainsville are wholly destitute of facts. . . . One of the Washington papers' account of the battle was so jumbled up, that those of us who knew all about it, could hardly tell whether it had reference to the action of the 20th, or not. . . . This part of the "sacred soil" abounds with ravines and thickets of short scrubby pines, and therefore our progress was cautions. In order to guard against surprise a squad of cavalry scouts were sent in advance and skirmishers to the right and left of the road to scour the woods and give the alarm on the approach of danger, whether from bands of rebels or traps in the shape of "masked" batteries. . . . . We arrived at Drainsville without being molested, and took up a position to the left of the road. number of rebel scouts at a distance, who, upon being discovered took off towards our left, which indicated to locality of the rebels. The General judging that their effort would be to cut off our retreat, ordered us to fall back atimber with much more ease than on the bare | the designated place, we soon discovered that compelled us again to change our position; but it was not long until Easton's battery sent the shot and shell in quick succession on their deadly mission. . . . Gen. M'Call and staff came up during the action, and seemed highly bravery of the men. Too much praise cannot be bestowed, on both officers and men engaged, for their gallant conduct. The "Bucktails" fought like tigers, and seemed determined to make every shot tell. The rebels being under cover of the wood, had a decided advantageour men being in the open field-but the Riship, died on the 18th of December, and that fles, with the coolness of hunters, watched their chance, and whenever a rebel showed himself from behind the tree where he had hid himself to load, was sure to fall by a missile from an unerring rifle that had been waiting for his appearance. Many of the rebels' guns were afterwards found loaded and capped, with the hammer drawn ready to fire, possessors had gone to swell the number of Col. Kane was twice wounded; yet he continued at the head of his men, setting them an example worthy of emulation. He is emphatically a fighting man, and his conduct showed that his whole soul was in the fight. The scene that presented itself atter the battle, is beyond description. Dead bodies were lying in every direction-mutilated in every conceivable manner, by the deadly missiles that were hurled amongst them. The rebel troops engaged, some of the prisoners say, were the flower of the rebel armythat they had made a forced march from Centreville on purpose to capture our battery and forage wagons-that they consisted of the 6th Tigers, and one Kentucky and one Virginia regiments, the Jeff. Davisartillery from Georgia, and 6 or 7 squadrons of Gen. Shorts cavalry -in all, between 5000 and 6000 men. They left about 160 of their dead on the field, besides many wounded. Pennsylvania Hoapital. (FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS ) May 19, 1860.-Ellen S., æt. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Saturday; while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, but had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began to swell which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has dull pain in hershoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is the most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to to call your attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose giving it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER ! Mar 23, 1860 .- I wi'l now exhibit to you the patient for whom I preshribed Propylamine, and Scientific American; most of the improvements who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains, every two hours, (intermitting it at night). The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the tion to inventors about obtaining patents sent free. appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen we must wait a little while before we can give a deeided opinion as to what is to be the result.

> THREE DAYS LATER! May 26, 1860 .- This is the case of acute rhenmatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic.

> She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three gratns thrice daily.
> In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result b esatisfactory, I think as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict

He is a seaman, set. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin at present, dry, though there has been much sweatug. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90. He has now used propylamine tweuty-four hours. This gentlemen is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints There is fever and the profuse sweating, ogenerally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines. even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case in a future clinic.

THE RESULT .- A FAVORABLE VERDICT. JUNE 9, 1860 .- The next of our canvalescents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinie of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never seen as severe a case of acute rhoumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the chloride of Propylamine, the patients have gained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

THE LADY'S FRIEND—GODEY'S LADYS ■ BOOK FOR 1862.—The world's favorite. For 32 Years the Standard Magazine. Pronounced by the Press of the United States, the best Lady's Magazine in the World and the Cheapest, The Literature is of that kind that can be read aloud in the family circle, and the clergy in immense numbers are subscribers for the Book. The best Lady Writers in America contribute to its pages, and we have some that write for no other

The Music is all original, and would cost 25 sents (the price of the Book) in the music stores But most of it is copyrighted, and cannot be ob tained except in "Godey Our Steel Engravings .- All efforts to rival us in this have ceased, and we now stand alone in this department, giving, as we do, many more and infinitely better engravings than are published in any other work.

Godey's Immense Double Sheet Fashion-Plates -Containing from five to seven full length Colored Fashions on each plate. Other magazines give only two.

Far Ahead of any Fashions in Europe or Ameri ca .- Godey's is the only work in the world that gives these immense plates, and they are such as to have excited the wonder of publishers and the public. The publication of these plates cost $10. 000 more than Fashion-plates of the old style and nothing but our wonderfully large circulation enables us to give them Other magazines cannot afford it We never spare money when the publicean be benefited. These fashions may be relied on. Dresses may be made after them, and the wearer will not subject herself to ridicale as would be the case if she visited the large cities dressed after the style of the plates given in some of our so called fashion magazines

Our Wood Engravings, of which we give twice are often mistaken for steel. They are so far superior to any others.

Imitations .- Beware of them. Remember that the Lady's Book is the original publication and the cheapest. If you take Godey, you want no other magazine. Everything that is useful or ornamental in a house can be found in Godey. Drawing Lessons .- No other magazine gives them, and we have given enough to fill several large volumes.

Our Receipts are such as can be found nowhere else. Cooking in all its variety-Confectionerythe Nursery-the Toilet-the Laundry -the Kitchen. Receipts upon all subjects are to be found in the pages of the Lady's Book. We originally started this department, and have peculiar facilities for making it most perfect. This department alone is worth the price of the Book. Ladies Work Table .-- This department comprises engravings and descriptions of every article that a lady wears. Model Cottages .- No other magazine has this lepartment.
