DUK—our thanks, to H. L. Hall, Esq., of the Senate, and Dr. Early of the House, for continued favors. Also, to L. L. Tate, Esq., member of the House from Columbia county, for several favors.

MORE SNOW.—On last Friday night and on Saturday some six or seven inches of snow fell, which has made the hauling most excellent, and our lumbermen are again busy getting their timber to the streams.

"BUCKTAIL REGIMENT".—At the election for Colonel of this celebrated Regiment, held last week, Capt. H. McNeal, of Warren, a brave and patriotic officer, was chosen, by a majority of 223, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Col. Biddle.

TRIBUTE ALMANAC.—This Almanac is the best political Register extant. It contains the President's proclamation and the several Acts of Congress relating to the present rebellion, the late tariff bill, election returns, list of the members of Congress, etc. Published by the "Tribune" Association, New York. Price 33 cents, by mail, postage paid.

CHRONOLOGY OF EVENTS.—On our first page will be found a "Brief History of the Times." It contains all the important events that have transpired during the present great rebellion of the slaveholders. The several numbers in which it will be published should be preserved, as they will, in the future, be of much interest as a record of past events.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We received a communication dated at "Camp Kelly," Md., but as it is not accompanied by the name of the writer we cannot pay any attention to it. Correspondents must remember that a responsible name is required as evidence of authenticity, and is the only guarantee that their communications were written in good faith.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We understand that a majority of the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress have recommended the appointment of Col. A. A. McKnight, of the "Wild-cat Regiment," as Brigadier General. This is a deserved compliment to a brave and meritorious officer, who, if we mistake not, rendered the services of the first company to Gov. Curtin at the commencement of the rebellion.

NEW POST ROUTES IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY.—By the Congressional proceedings, we see that Gen. John Patton has presented a petition for a new post route from William's Grove, via Grahampton, to Shirey's in Bradford township; another for a post route from Cherry-tree, via Westover's and McGarvey's, to Ansonville; and a third for a route from Newburg, via Curry's, to Westover's. We trust these new routes may be created.

DEDICATION.—The Methodist Episcopal Church, recently erected in Curwensville, was dedicated to Service of Almighty God, on Sabbath last. We learn that a large concourse of people were present. A collection was taken up to pay off the remaining debt on the church, and the sum of $1450.00 was contributed—which is sufficient to liquidate all claims against it. A very liberal contribution, indeed. The church cost $8000.00.

CLEARFIELD AND TYRONE.—We learn that the Clearfield and Tyrone Railroad has been completed as far as Sandy Ridge—a distance of 16 miles—and that the cars have been running to that point during the past week. This, no doubt, will be gratifying news to the people of this county, as it facilitates the egress and ingress to the county. What effect it will have in reducing freights and the price of articles brought into the county for sale, remains to be seen.

ON A VISIT.—Capt. A. M. Smith, of the Washington Cadets, has been spending the past week with his friends in this place and vicinity. The Captain looks as though camp life agreed with him; he has the appearance of a thorough soldier, and no doubt, when the grand army shall advance, the Captain will be found at the head of his men, as eager as any one else for the fray, and will leave his mark on the scabbard that will not soon be forgotten. He left home for camp Pierpont on Tuesday morning, where we hope he may arrive safely.

TAVEN LICENSES.—The following Tavern Licenses were granted at the January term of court: James Bloom, Tavern, Bloom township. T. F. Bloom, Tavern, Jordan township. T. F. Bloom, Tavern, Decatur township. Geo. N. Colburn, Tavern, Clearfield township. Wesley Nestling, Tavern, Guelich township. Geo. Knarr Jr., Tavern, Brady township. Isaac Nickels, Tavern, Becraft township. P. I. Hegarty, Mercantile, Covington twp. Merrell & Bigler, Mercantile, Clearfield borough. A. Leconte, Mercantile, Girard township. Jos. C. Brenner, Mercantile, Morris township.

AN EXPLANATION.—We have received a communication, dated "Camp Kelly," Md., Jan. 21, 1862, from W. K. A. This corresponds to the account of the Bath or Hancock fight, differs a little from C. E. L's. W. K. A. says "the 84th arrived at Hancock on Thursday instead of Friday." W. K. A. also says that the 84th was marched to the top of a hill 14 miles out, and whilst there the enemy's advance approached and immediately one of the cannon opened fire upon them and drove them back—but upon the main body of the rebels coming up "our Colonel ordered a retreat." He also says one man of company I was drowned in wading the river—the company not waiting for the flat. These being the main points of difference in the two accounts, we give this statement for the benefit of W. K. A. and his friends, his communication not having reached us until after our paper was made up.

NEW POST OFFICES IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY.—Through the exertions of our efficient Member of Congress, Gen. Patton, our friends at Newburg, in this county, have had a new post office established in that village. The office is named Hurd, in honor of Elias Hurd, Esq., a worthy and respected citizen of the neighborhood. There being an office already in the State called Newburg, a second, under the regulations of the Department, could not be so designated. Gilbert Tozer, Jr., is the Post Master.

Another new post office has also been established at the "Blue Ball Hotel," called West Decatur, and Miss Sophia Radebaugh appointed Post Mistress. We have no doubt of the young lady making a good officer.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE "JOURNAL."

JAYNESVILLE, JANUARY 22, 1862.
ED. JOURNAL.—It was the privilege of the winter to be present at the close of the Jaynesville school, which has been successfully and efficiently taught by Mr. William H. Edwards. At an early hour in the evening, groups were to be seen, clad in holiday attire, wending their way to the school-house in order to secure comfortable seats; and upon entering were mentally commended them for their thoughtful. The house, though large enough to contain an ordinary congregation of this community, was crowded to its utmost capacity, and many were compelled to remain outside for want of room. Truly, we rejoice at the educational prospects of Guelich. Exercises commenced by the exhibition of a primary spelling class, who, at the opening of the session were untalented in their letters. They evinced rapid improvement, and an aptness seldom seen in ones so young. Then came the primary arithmetic class—who exhibited their progress and acquisitions to a decided advantage. After subjecting them to severe tests, which they readily mastered, the teacher called, first arithmetic class. Arithmetic analysis was carried to such an extent, as almost to bring them to the point of perfection. After entertaining the assembly for more than three hours, the teacher said, he had provided some premiums—which he now would present—for those who had excelled. The meritorious pupils, properly arranged themselves on the stage; when, in brief but appropriate remarks to each, he presented them a handsome book; and then turned to bid them a final farewell. While in touching pathos he exhibited the deep attachment existing between himself and pupils, from more than one mother's eye we noticed the ominous, pearly tear-drop fall; and many more the regrets expressed, that Jaynesville school had closed.

Yours, GUELICH.

PENNSVILLE, JANUARY 22, 1862.
FRIEND ROSS.—If you deem the following "Retrospect of the Year 1861," worthy, please give it a place in the Journal.

JANUARY, most favorable for our labor work; moderately cold; the mercury twenty below zero, viz: 13th 15 deg. below, and 20th 9 deg. below; highest on the 16th and 19th, viz: 41 and 44. Light snows on ten days; heavy snow on the 12th and 24th. Rain the 7th and 18th. Favorable for handling all the month.

FEBRUARY, came with rain, hail and sleet, with the appearance of a thaw; 3rd to 6th cold; 7th 5th very cold, 12 and 18 degrees below zero. 9th to 13th quite warm, mercury 40 and upward. Rain on the 11th, and great flood in the river, and heavy ice gorge on the 13th. 15th to 24th moderately cold; roads still pretty good, notwithstanding the rain and flood; some snow drifts on the 22nd. From the 25th to 28th a general thaw; the hauling done, and the roads getting very bad. A heavy snow on the 17th; light snows on the 5th, 16th and 20th, with rain on the three days during the month. The roads hard, and mostly good hauling from the first of January to the 27th of February.

MARCH, steps upon time with a very high flood in the river. The mercury at 6 on the 1st and 72 on the 2nd. From the 4th to the 17th moderate and pleasant; 18th and 19th cold, with the mercury at 7. From the 20th to the end of the month, warm and mostly fine weather. The roads hard, and mostly good hauling from the 6th and 10th, with more or less rain on six days during the month.

APRIL, came in with the mercury at 29, and a great storm of snow and hail six inches deep; also on the 16th and 17th snow 4 inches deep; and more or less rain on six days during the month. The ground in order for plowing about the 22nd. The mercury at 80 on the 23d. The month in general unfavorable for farming, except the last few days.

MAY, Winter still lingers in the lap of May; light snow on the 1st and 5d, with the mercury at 70. Frost on the mornings of the 3rd, 18th and 30th. More or less rain on thirteen days during the month. Plum trees in bloom and thick sapped timber half leaf about the 22nd. Apple-trees in bloom on the 24th, and Chesnut and Oak coming in leaf. May furnished some fine weather for labor, although much of the month was too wet for working out.

JUNE, came in moist and moderately warm, with showers on ten days during the month, and a destructive storm of rain, hail and wind on the 15th. The mercury rose to 80 deg. and upwards in the shade on twelve days; five for giving the corn a start.

JULY, commenced fine and warm with showers on eleven days, mostly light; with the mercury rising to 80 deg. and upward on fourteen days. Spring crops growing rapidly and making fine promise for a good yield.

AUGUST, blows his gale breath upon us, with the mercury to 90 degrees and upwards on eight days, and from 80 to 89 on nine days more. Showers on ten days. From the 12th to the 16th inclusive the weather was quite cool; the mercury being 42 on the morning of the 15th. From observations in years past, I find that July and August are the months to make or mar the corn crops. If the mercury does not rise to eighty or ninety degrees, or upwards, for three or four weeks during these months the corn crop is generally a failure. A lower temperature, with sufficient moisture, may produce stalks and cobs; but will not make sound and hard grains—except of the smaller and most early kinds. If the mercury ranges at noon, one half of the days during the months of July and August, from 80 to 94 degrees, we may almost invariably depend on having ripe and sound corn. The crop is hastened to maturity and the ground becomes so heated, that early frost seldom does much damage. Sometimes, owing to a lack of moisture, the crops may be light and the ears short, but the grains will mostly be found ripe and hard. The same rules and circumstances will apply to melons, peaches and sweet potatoes.

SEPTEMBER, is next in order, with its warm sun-shine and refreshing showers. On eleven days there was more or less rain, with a great flood in the river on the 26th and 27th; done much damage to bridges, mill-dams, &c. On nineteen days the mercury ranged between 70 and 80; and on four days viz: 2d, 3d, 15th and 20th it rose to 80 and upwards; on the 24th in the morning it sunk to 39, with a light frost. Taking the month together, it was very favorable for maturing the summer crops.

OCTOBER, now makes his appearance with rain on nine days, mostly light showers; and also on the same number of days in which the mercury rose to 70 degrees and upwards, but at no time reached eighty. On the 9th a very light frost, but on the 25th and 29th heavy frost the mercury in the morning at 21 and 23. All things killed that month would effect; but fortunately the warm days of July and August, with the early part of September, has brought all the crops to maturity, so that the icy embrace of Jack-frost was harmless.

NOVEMBER, follows with its mists and chilling winds; sure predecessor of winter. The mercury on the morning of the nineteenth was at 29, being the coldest; and on the thirteenth at noon sixty one, being the greatest heat. On seven days it rose to 50 degrees or upwards. Light rain on ten days, and light snow on six days. Rather a drizzly month without much rain or snow.

DECEMBER, closes the year. Most of the month was pleasant weather for outdoor labor. Light rain on four days; snow on the first about 4 inches; and on the 23d and 27th sufficient to make tolerable hauling, the ground being hard and the roads generally good. The mercury was the highest on the seventh, 60 degrees, and the lowest on the fourth, 7 degrees; 12th and 18th each 15 deg. and on five days between 50 and 60. The maximum rise of the mercury was within one degree of the highest in November.

The year 1861 was memorable for—first, a long spell of good hauling on snow, with a very short break, from early in Dec. 1860, to the 26th of February 1861. 2d, Sudden break-up of the river and great gorge of ice and loss of lumber, February 18th. The thaw was of such short duration that the roads were but little injured. 3d, A storm of wind and hail on the 15th of June, doing much damage to the wheat and rye within its range. 4th, Another very high flood September 27th 28th, carrying off bridges, fences, and in some cases the crops. 5th, And lastly, for good crops of wheat, oats, and corn; but an almost total failure of fruit.

Yours, PENN.

MARRIED.—On Thursday the 23d instant, by Jas. R. Caldwell, Esq., Mr. Lewis C. Graham to Miss Dorcas Lewis, both of Ferguson township.

DIED.—On the 24th inst. in this Borough WILLIAM G. son of Thomas J. and Agnes E. McCullough, aged 1 year, 4 months, and 24 days.

Why do we mourn for dying friends,
Or shake at Deaths alarm;
'Tis but a voice that Jesus sends
To call us to his arms.

Why should we tremble to convey
Their bodies to the Tomb,
Where once the flesh of Jesus lay

These parents have lost 3 children in the last 19 months. Many are the trials through which God's people are called to pass, but out of them he bringeth them all.

In Union township, on the 24th January, of diphtheria, NATHAN, son of Allen and Nancy Mabie, aged 3 years, 5 months and 6 days.

ELIXIR PROPYLAMINE, THE NEW REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM, A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR ACUTE RHEUMATISM, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATISM OF EVERY KIND; No Matter How Stubborn, How Long Standing, PROPYLAMINE WILL CURE IT. What it does, it will do again. Doctors read, Doctors examine, Doctors try it. The best testimony; Best Medical Authority. Doctors know it, Patients believe it, Friends & True.

Pennsylvania Hospital. (From the Medical Reports.) May 19, 1860.—Ellen S. at 25, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks; and subsequently from a cold she had been well since then till last Saturday, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, but had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began to swell, which was followed by swelling of the joints of the hands. She has dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is the most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now generally called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now is to call your attention to the remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Avenarius of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms having derived great benefit from its use in 230 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose giving it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specific; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER. May 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of one grain every two hours, (alternating at night). The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other cases. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would seem to be very successful; but gentlemen we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

THREE DAYS LATER!! May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. It is a very comfortable, and is now taking three grains three times daily.

In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to improve, and will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, as good fortune, we shall justly render our services in favor of propylamine.

It is a man named J. who was admitted a few days ago. He had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep him bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later the joints of the feet. These joints are all very tender, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin at present, dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90. He has now used propylamine twenty-four hours.

His condition may be well called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. The patient has been restless, sweating, generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a case of acute rheumatism, and to test, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, and which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even such as salicylate of soda, which may be misguiding as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case in a future clinic.

THE RESULT.—A FAVORABLE VERDICT. JUNE 9, 1860.—The text of our convalescents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called atypical case, and which was remarked as a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never seen so acute a case of rheumatism, and without being prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the efficacy of propylamine, the patient has been cured, and has been cured earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued.

I wish, gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results. For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is a report after a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.

A SPEEDY CURE, AN EFFECTUAL CURE, THE SAME RESULT IN EVERY CASE, WHENEVER TRIED, WHENEVER TRIED, WHAT IT DOES, IT WILL DO AGAIN.

Bullock & Crenshaw a firm well known to most medical men, by whom the Elixir Propylamine has been introduced, have sold to us the exclusive right to manufacture it according to the original recipe, and we have made arrangements of such magnitude as to enable us to scatter it broadcast amongst suffering humanity.
