CLEARFIELD, FEB. 12, 1862.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- The flag of truce from rebeldom covered an impudent demand, such as should not be countenance in honorable warfare. The message is said to have been from Jeff. Davis to President Lincoln, announcing that, if the Federal Government permit the rebel bridge burners to be hung, under the order of Gen. Halleck, that the Federal prisoners-Cols. Corcoran, Lee, Wilcox and others, held as hostages for the safety of the pirates, shall be immediately hung in retaliation. A Cabinet meeting was called to consider the subject, but I am requested not to announce the result. Jeff. Davis will learn soon enough. It is probable that the news of the recent order of the War Department directing the privateersmen to be regarded as prisoners of war had not reached rebeldom, when this last message was sent from Richmond. The sentiment expressed by those who know the purport of the message is, that the officer who brought it, thereby disgracing the flag of truce, should have been retained and hung with the bridge burners.

THE TOWN OF ROMNEY VA .- As Romney is becoming a place of some notoriety as a strategic point, a short description of the town and its vicinity may prove interesting to many of our readers. The town itself is beautifully located, resting upon the South Branch of the Potomac, about eighteen miles from its junction with the North Branch. It is surrounded on all sides with diclivitous hills and mountains, and if well fortified would be almost impregnable to an advancing army. It has been in a measure fortified by nature, and only needs the band of science to make it a powerful post for purpose of defence. It is fortytwo miles from Winchester, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and twenty-five miles south of Cumberland, Md. It is the shire town of Hampshire county, and contains about five hundred inhabitants. The town was founded by Lord Fairfax, and is one of the oldest in that section of Virginia.

STEALING FROM PRISONERS .- All the restraints which keep men from plunging into the lowest depths of meanness and depravity, seems to have been thrown off by the rebels. It is now well established that the supplies of clothing, &c., sent from Fortress Monroe by Gen. Wool, Morris, - - for the use of our imprisoned soldiers at Richmond, never reached them. Our returned prisoners all testify to this fact. The New York | Pike, - - - Curwensville, - - T. W. Fleming. Times furthermore says that our prisoners in Charleston jail never received the money sent them by their friends. This the testimony of returned prisoners from there! We hope the Government will hasten to exchange these poor fellows, and get them out of the clutches of these thieves. They live by stealing the labor of their negroes, and the habit has grown so strong upon them, that they stop at nothing to gratify the propensity.

SHOT DEAD BY HER BROTHER .-- On the 4th instant a young woman by the name of Pye, living midway between Shippensburg and Newburg, Cumberland county, was shot dead by her brother, a lad of some ten or twelve years of age. The boy took a gun which had been standing in a lower room of his fathers house and was conveying it up stairs when he observed his sister engaged in making a bed, and raising up told her he was "going to shoot her." Pulling the trigger the gun went off, the load lodging in the head of the unfortunate girl killing her instantly. The boy states that he was unconscious of there being a load in the gun, and had no intention of committing the murderous act.

Good .-- Gen. Halleck has issued an order to the effect that all unpaid telegrams to his headquarters, on business not requiring immediate answer, and which could have been transmit-Cheap Muslins, Colored Muslins, Linen ted through the mails in time for all needful purposes, will be charged on the pay-rolls of the officers thus telegraphing and the amount collected out of their pay. The same order would apply to other departments of the army, and be productive of a like economy. In the matter of telegraphing, it will some day be developed, existed an enormous expense to the government, which could have been avoided by the exercise of the simplest discretion.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 3 .-- A. S. Willington, the senior editor and proprietor of the Charleston Courier, and probably the oldest editor on Cheap Shoe Last or Pegs, Palm or Fancy Goods Goods this continent, died in Charleston yesterday. Mr. W. connected himself with the Charles- Cheap ton Courier about the commencement of the present century, and for nearly sixty years his name as editor and proprietor, has continued at its head. He was abont 84 years of age.

The editor of the German Reformed Messenger, in narrating his experience in the way of ministers' perquisites, says: "In our experience we have married persons for thirtyseven and a half cents, we have married on Cheap trust, and we have married for a counterfeit | Cheap Port wine for Medical or Sacramen- Goods

Before her marriage, the Queen of England was a wayward and fitful young woman-subject to the most variable caprices, and entirely uncontrolable by her ministers. Shrewd Cheap politicians have always ascribed the calm and equable course of British policy to the influence of Prince Albert who was one of the most shrewd and accomplished diplomatists.

When Dr. Franklin was making his first experiments in electricity, he wished to try its effect on a hen, and while holding the wire to the bird, it struggled and he received the whole charge himself. On recovering from the shock, he good naturedly remarked that instead of killing a hen by electricity he had nearly killed a goose."

When the furious Orson saw his own image reflected from his brother's shield he started dings thereon. > VULCANITE BASE FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

> Attention is especially called to this article, as a substitute for gold in inserting teeth. Many perons who have tr rd all kinds of metalic bases prefer this, and in those cases where it is applicable it will in a great measure become a substitute for gold, silver or platina. Its chief advantages are, cheapness, lightness and perfect adoption to the mouth; it having a soft fieshy feel to the parts of the mouth with which it comes in contact.

A. M. Hills is prepared to put up teeth on the Vulcanite Base, with Goodyear's Patent Gum. which is the only reliable preperation, and can only be had through their regular agents. Dr. Hills will always be found in his office on Friday and Saturday, unless notice appears to the contrary, in the town papers, the previous week.

MEW-YORK TRIBUNE-NEW VOLUME On the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence; the THE DAI-LY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity. Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to espouse and commend to-day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or oth ers' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual set tlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from too powerful foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy As to the Civil War now devastating our counry, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexcusable, then was ever before known-a Rebellion in the interest of dlery, Sole and Upper Leather, at the corner. the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meek ness, and long-suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen to stand by the nation and its fairly chosen ru lers, and to second with all our energies their ef forts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the laws. And, though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, terroism, and spoilation, fearfully strong, we be lieve the American Republic far stronger, and that the unanimous, carnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we de fer to those whom the American People have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emer-

In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engressed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidations of its more striking incidents. We shall not, however, remit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Crops, Markets, &c.. which has already, we trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that in the variety and fulness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to 'make each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continu ance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.

Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been we since then till last Saturday; while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back felt cold, but had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began to swell which was follow ed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands She has dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuck les are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is the most so. This then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves.

My chief object in bringing her before you now is to call your attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various conmendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose giving it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vanuted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER ! May 23, 1860 .- I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I preshribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains, every two hours, (intermitting i at night). The duy after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room The improvement has steadily progressed and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result May 26, 1860 .- This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three gratus thrice daily.

In this case it has seemed to be followed by year satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring fore you a very characteristic case of acute a matism, and if the result b esatisfactory. as good jurymen, we shall justly render our ver-in favor of propylamine.

He is a seaman, set, 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swellen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred, his skin at present, dry, though there has been much sweatiug. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90. He has now used propylamine twenty-four hours This gentlemen is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints There is fever and the profuse sweating. so generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to eshibit to you this typical case, as I have called than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicipes even anodynes, that there may be no misgiving as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case in a future clinic.

THE RESULT .-- A FAVORABLE VERDICT JUNE 9, 1860 .- The next of our canvalescents the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case. and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about as you ee. I do not hesitate to say that I have never to is severe a case of acute rheamatism so soon rest ed to health as this man has been, and without be ing prepared to decide positively as to the value the remedy we have used. I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the chloride Propylamine, the patients have gained their had much earlier than under the treatment ordinar pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would your selves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a cen densed extract, see the Philadelphia Medicular Surgical Reporter. It is a reportafter a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary tolgive namerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.
