THE PEOPLE'S STATE CONVENTION.

The People of Pennsylvania, who desire cordially to unite in sustaining the National Administration in its patriotic efforts to suppress a sectional and unholy rebellion against the Union of the Republic, and who desire to support, by every power of the Government, one hundred thousand heroic brothers in arms, braving disease and the perils of the field to rescue the Union of our Fathers, are requested to select the number of Delegates equal to the Legislative Representation of the State, at such times and in such manner as will best respond to the spirit of this call, to meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, on Thursday, the 17th day of July next, at eleven o'clock, on said day, to nominate Candidates for the offices of Auditor General and Surveyor General, and to take such measures as may be deemed necessary to strengthen the Government in this season of common peril to a common country. A. K. McCLURE, Chairman People's State Committee. GEO. W. HAMMERSLEY, Secretary. JOHN M. SULLIVAN, Secretaries.

Our friend "J" from the Camp near Frederickburg, was crowded out this week.

Notice.—Dr. A. M. Hills, desires us to say, that he will be absent from his office during the first week in June.

Godey's Lady's Book.—The best magazine in the country—is always up to time. The June number is out and fully equals its predecessors. Price, $3 a year.

SOME MONEY.—We are in possession of a list of twenty-nine names, members of Company F, 2d Penn'a Cavalry, who sent home to their families and friends six hundred and twenty-seven dollars, in the aggregate. Lieut. Thos. G. Snyder, was the bearer of the money, and who, we are informed, delivered the several sums to the parties designated.

CONGRESSIONAL.—By the published proceedings of Congress we see that, on the 7th instant, Hon. John Patton presented the petition of Hon. Wm. B. F. Johnston, J. B. McEnally and 50 other citizens of Clearfield county; and on the 20th the petition of Fred Zeigler, Dr. T. J. Boyer, and 70 others, citizens of Clearfield county, Pennsylvania; the petition of Hon. James Campbell, G. W. Arnold, and 100 others, citizens of the borough of Clarion, Pennsylvania; and the petition of Dr. James Ross, T. S. Wilson, and 96 others, citizens of Clarion county, Pennsylvania, in favor of a German professorship at West Point.

Poor Whistling.—"Speaking of bores," says a victim of one of the species, "I can scarcely imagine one capable of inflicting more misery than an intolerable whistler. I can stand a lie, when all the nation is armed and equipped on training day, and the drum with its 'clang, clang,' serve to drown its screams; but to listen to a poor air badly mastered, by a poorer pucker, I prefer in 'some easter, if not quicker war, I always think of the French stage coach driver who being very much annoyed by such a bore, turned upon him: 'Mine friend, vat for you all de times vassel? You loss your leetle dog, eh?'"

DEATH OF LIEUT. WINSLOW.—We find the following, in reference to the death of Lieut. Winslow of Elk county, in the Lock Haven Democrat of the 15th: "Lieut. R. C. Winslow died very suddenly; in this place, on Saturday the 10th instant, aged about 41 years. He raised a company last spring for Kane's Bicktail Riflemen, but was soon afterwards appointed Second Lieutenant of the 17th Infantry. Before he assumed his position he was promoted to the First Lieutenant of his company, and d-tailed for recruiting service. In this capacity he was quite successful, and but a few days before his death sent 15 or 20 men into the service. He was buried on Wednesday last (10th) with Masonic honors, and his funeral was largely attended."

THE WAR NEWS.

The News from the several divisions of the army is rather meagre. Some advance has been made, but no hard fighting has taken place.

On the 22d, Gen. McClellan was within five miles of Richmond. Great suffering was reported to exist among the people in that section of the country. Jeff. Davis and Beauregard are said to be in command at Richmond, and the women and children were leaving the city.

The rebel army at Corinth is reported at 150,000. It is also said that much suffering and sickness prevails in the rebel camps, and that the men have been subsisting on half rations for several weeks.

A train of 17 Government wagons were overtaken by a band of guerrillas in Missouri on the 20th. The wagons and stores were burned and the mules drove off.

On the 21st, Gen. Fremont ordered the seizure of the telegraph office at Covington. Several guerrilla chiefs were also captured by Col. Cook.

Gen. Farragut's fleet had reached Vicksburg, Miss., according to rebel reports.

The Democracy are cut up into three factions. One, under the leadership of Jeff. Davis, is making war upon the Government and Union. Another, under the leadership of Vallandigham, (Jeff's right hand man in Congress), is rendering aid and comfort to Jeff's party, as it can conveniently, under the guise of the "Democratic Union" party. The third, under the leadership of Dickinson, (since the death of Douglas) is working and fighting for the Union. It remains to be seen what shape these different factions will take.

A FIGHT AT FRONT ROYAL.

THE REBELS ATTACK WINCHESTER.

Retreat of Gen. Banks' Forces.

On Saturday the 24th, at one o'clock, a negro, mounted on horseback, came dashing into Col. Kenly's camp at Front Royal, crying out "the rebels are coming in great numbers and they will surround you and cut you off."

The negro's statement was discredited by the men, but as soon as Col. Kenly saw him, he was satisfied of the enemy's approach, and had the long roll beaten at once. The men all sprung to their arms and formed into line by companies, and in a very short time the rebels appeared. A section of Knapp's Pennsylvania battery was soon engaged, and discharged shot and shell for near two hours, when their ammunition was almost expended. Unable to withstand the overwhelming rebel force long, the order was given to retire, and the whole force crossed the Shenandoah in good order, under cover of a company of the 5th New York cavalry.

The enemy at once forced the river, when the order of "double quick" was given, and the Union troops took to the pike, where another stand was made. Col. Kenly addressed his men and told them that their only chance was to stand and fight, as the rebel cavalry were coming on fast and displaying a black flag. Our men, however, soon gave way. A second stand was made with the same result. A party of Marylanders then retreated into a wheat-field where they made another stand; but the rebels came on, cutting right and left and yelling like Indians—springing neither the dying nor wounded. The captain then told his men to make their escape as best they could.

After retreating some two or three miles the rebel cavalry passed near an ambulance in which Col. Kenly lay, who was wounded. The rebels frequently fired into the vehicle. Surgeon Mitchell attended Col. Kenly. Finding themselves closely pursued they abandoned the horse, leaped over several fences, took to the woods and hid themselves until the enemy gave up the search. There were but six companies of the Maryland First in the fight, the others being absent on picket duty.

Attack on Winchester. On Sunday morning the 25th, at daybreak, the rebels, numbering about 15,000, attacked Gen. Banks at Winchester. The right and left wings stood bravely for a time and resisted the attack manfully. After about six hours fighting the right wing, however, had to give away under the pressure of the overwhelming rebel force. The order was then given to withdraw, and the troops passed through the town, somewhat in confusion. On the other side, however, they were quickly reformed, and continued their march in good order to Martinsburg. The entire Union force engaged numbered less than 4,000.

The Designs of the Rebels. Gen. Banks telegraphed from Martinsburg on the 25th, at 5:30 in the evening, stating that "A prisoner captured this afternoon says the rebel force is to be strengthened in our rear, and that their purpose is to enter Maryland at two points, Harpers' Ferry and Williamsport. We will pass the Potomac to-night safe as men, trains and all."

Banks Crossing the Potomac. On Monday the 26th, Gen. Banks telegraphed to the Secretary of War: "We believe that our whole force, train and all, will cross in safety. The men are in fine spirits and crossing in good order. The labor of last night was fearful. The enemy followed us last night on our march, but has not made his appearance this morning. Your dispatch was read to the troops this morning amid the heartiest cheers."

The Sick and Wounded. Stragglers of the First Maryland coming in, represent the treatment of our sick, in the Hospitals at Winchester, as most horrible. The rebels entered the town with a black flag flying, and ran their bayonets into the bodies of sick men lying defenceless in their beds. A number of Pennsylvanians who were sick in Winchester, are hid in the wheat fields on the route of retreat; and many were mercilessly butchered.

More Men Wanted.

In accordance with a requisition of the War Department, Gov. Curtin has issued orders calling out all military organizations in the State, together with all persons who are willing to join such commands, to report forthwith to Washington, or such other points as may be indicated by future orders—to serve for three months. Pennsylvania being again menaced, let her awaken to her duty in this new crisis—let her support of the Old Flag.

Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, has also called out the Militia of that State, under the requisition of the War Department. A Good Answer.—The Philadelphia Press says: "The best way to answer a Breckenridge, when he insists that the property of the rebels shall not be confiscated, is to ask him what the Southern slaveholders would have done had positions been reversed, they being as strong as the present loyal States, and the latter commencing the war? Would they have hesitated to confiscate every description of property? Would they have refrained from filling their prisons with suspected persons, from hanging spies, and dealing devastation on all sides? The answer to these inquiries is found in the fact that having begun the war without cause, they have destroyed hundreds of millions of the property of the Federal Government, have repudiated hundreds of millions of just debts, and have sacrificed and confiscated hundreds of millions of the property of their own people."

A flag of truce was fired into on the James river by the rebels, on the 21st, and two men killed and several taken prisoners.
