HAIL -On last Saturday, quite a heavy fall of hail occurr d several miles north-east of this place. It is said, that many of the hail stones were about the size of black walnuts, and that they fairly covered the ground in places. The corn blades, and other large leafed vegetation, were cut very much by them, but done very little damage to the growing grain crops.

A DONATION .- We incidentally learn, that the ladies of Burnside township, recently made and presented to the Rev. Mr. Bender flag, with stars, eagle, etc., embroidered the eon. The ladies of Burnside, certainly are entitled to much credit for this exhibition of their patriotism, and good will towards the Rev. Mr. Bender.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE .- We have received a letter from our friend "C. E. L." which no doubt contains some matters of interest to his friends in this county; but having been written in a harry, with a pencil, on both sides of the sheet, it has become so much defaced that cavalry (to which he belongs) covered Gen. Banks' retreat from Winchester to the Potothe Shenandoah valley. We hope to hear rom our correspondent again; and also hope that our friends in other portions of the great | ged the most fearful, from appearances. Union army, as it advances, will not neglect us. Your letters are welcome at all times.

HORRIBLE AFFAIR .- On Tuesday night of last week a horrible murder was perpetrated n the town of Belfast, Allegheny county, New York. It appears that a young man named Burns was married in the forenoon of that day, and in the evening a party of young men collected and went to his house to "horn" him. The discordant sounds incensed Burns, and he rushed from the house and plunged a long lonife blade through the body of one of the horning party, named Rock. Burns then seized the body and threw into a stream runhing near the house. Rock was then taken out and carried to his home where he lingered great agony until Friday evening, when death put an end to his sufferings. Burns was arrested and is now in jail.

The terrible sickness that prevailed three reks ago, in Gen. Halleck's force, disabling and incapacitating for duty nearly one sixth the army, has disappeared, and given place a hygienic condition in the highest degree alisfactory. The sick soldiers who were rought to St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, have hearly all recovered, and are being rapmly returned to their regiments before Corhth. Our troops at Corinth are now well acclimated, and it is asserted, by good authorides, that they will bear the heat of the Mithern Summer better than the Southern toops themselves.

CAMP NEAR THE BATTLE PIELD. 7 miles from Richmond, June 4, 1862. MR. Row :- DEAR SIR: I have thought, that probably some of your readers might feel anxious to read some of the particulars, of the late engagement at this place, and as I am at leisure this morning, I will hastily note down a few of the leading facts and incidents, as far as I have seen, and learned them.

Our Brigade was encamped on the Richmond and York Rail Road about 11 miles distant from Richmond. On Saturday just as we were partaking of some dinner we heard the first volleys of rifle shots off about 4 miles. The firing was kept up briskly, and our Brigade was called into line in which position the different Regt's remained for further orders, which soon were given by Gen. Jameson. The day was very warm, the heat oppressive, yet we started off in a . Double Quick," and kept that pace till we reached the scene of action. Some of the poor fellows gave out by the way, on account of the heat, but all seemed to be in good spirits. When we came within one mile of the field we met large numbers of wounded coming and being brought back; and matters began to wear a serious aspect. The fight was raging fearfully when we got there. Our Brigade, was led into the are gone. thickest of the fight, but remained upon the ground only a few hours, until it was badly

The enemy came in overpowering numbers, and broke for our centre, trying to cut it and flank us on the left. They made the attack by surprise, and drove the advance (Casey's Brigade) out of their camps almost before they had time to get their guns and buckle on their accoutrements. A!though driven from their ground loosing all their camp equipage and most their clothing, they tought hard for every foot of ground they were compelled to yield to a suporior number. They were driven from the first rifle pits to the second, which they held, till reinforcements came up. (our Brigade,) which turned the tide, and the rebels were in turn driven back, mostly at the point of the bayonet. Our Artillery was of very little use. It could not be placed at the points desired on account of the swamps and thick woods, so that all the work had to be done by the infantry, The fight lasted until night, when we were joined by a reinforcement of about 40,000 men.

It was encouraging to see our commanders' conduct during this deadly conflict. Gen. Heintzelman was on the field, cheering and urging on his men to deeds of greater valor. er General. Gen. Jameson our Brigadier, headed his column and cheered his men, while the deadly missiles were flying as thick as hail around him, killing his noble charger, which fell upon him; but as soon as extricated he mounted the horse of the Adjutant, and again was at the head of his force. The 105th, with the other regt's of the brigade, was led into the hottest of the fire. After getting the wounded off the field, the dead buried, and examining the rolls, it was assertained that the 105th lost about 190 menof whom between 30 and 40 were killed, over 100 wounded, and a number missing. Tweive or fourteen officers were killed and wounded; among them Capt. Dowling and Lieut. Craig of Brookville, Capt. Duff, Serg't Mason, Capt. Kirk, Capt. Thomson, and three other Lieutenants wounded, and Lieut. Comiskey killed. Col. McKnight was also slightly wounded. 1 am glad to say, that all our officers and men displayed courage and coolness seldom exceeded. Had they not done so, they would have been driven entirely off the ground. On Saturday evening the rebels held the ground, and we had refreated about one mile. of New Washington, a quilt in the form of an On Sunday morning they made smother at-American flag. It is said to be a splendid tack, and tried to drive us still farther back; but we had got large reinforcements and were now able to cope with them. The rebels were permitted to come to within a few rods, when two volleys were poured into them and then "charged" upon and driven back several miles. Our men made sad work among them. The woods for several miles is literally covered with dead rebels-at some places laying by doz-

On Tuesday afternoon I went over the ground. I saw quite a number of our own soldiers, still laying unburied on the field, but I am confident I saw 10 rebels for every union soldier. At the corner of a fallen wood, I counted 12 rebels lying on a square of 20 feet, we were unable to decipher the greater part and many more laying close by, and numbers of it. This much, however, we gather from of them buried. This is the point covered it—that he is well, and that the 1st Maryland by Company H of the 105th. A little farther on, I counted 42 dead horses lying on not over one half an acre of ground, with, I suppose, not less than 50 more, scattered at little dismac, and now are again on the advance up tance around. At some places 5 and 6 horses were laying just as they had been hitched in the Gun carriages. This is the point where we lost our battery, and where the bittle ra-

We have had any amount of rain lately and the roads are almost impassible. The Chickahominy is high, and if we should be forced to retreat, we would have a sorry time of it, as the bridges are all flooded. The soldiers are almost worn out, from exposure and over ex-Yours, A. M. M.

GREAT FLOOD IN THE EAST. THE FLOOD AT MIDDLETOWN .- The Harrisburg Telegraph says: The flood in the Swatara at Middletown, this county, has been unusually severe, and resulted in the destruction of a Bills disco'ted $35,234 24 large amount of property. So far as known, all the bridges over the stream excepting the acqueduct and that of the Pennsylvania railroad, have been swept away, while the latter is so crippled by the destruction of two of its piers, that it is unsafe for use. A dwelling house and grist mill, near Hummelstown, is reported to have been carried down the stream, while at various other points, fences, barns Over drafts, other places, to be placed in hospitals, and outhouses have met with a similar disaster. The loss in lumber alone, at Middletown is estimated at between twenty and thirty thousand dollars, which will fall principally upon Messrs. There is no doubt that many lives have been lost. Boats with their crews were swept from their moorings and dashed to pieces, and many tenements with their occupants were carried away before assistance could be rendered to them. It is reported that one house, containing a family of seven persons, was carried away and broken to pieces against one of the bridges on the river above here.

The town of Glendon, situated a few miles above Easton, and inhabited by the employees of the furnace of that name, was wholly inundated. The tenements, offices, furnaces, &c., were entirely surrounded by the water, which reached nearly to the second stories of the DURIFY THE BLOOD .- Not a few of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none have been found which could equal in effect Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instills the vigor of health into the system and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body and ex-pels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood Its extraordinary virtues are not yet widely known, but when they are it will no longer be a question what remedy to employ in the great variety of afflicting diseases that require an alternative remedy Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit certificates to show its effects. But the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.
