SCHOOL OF THE OLDEN TIME.

The schools-the schools of other days ! Those were the schools for me, When in a frock and trousers dressed, I learned my A, B, C.

When, with my dinner in my hat, I trudged away to school. Nor dared I stop, as boys do now, For school ma'am had a rule.

And if a traveler we met, We threw no sticks nor stones, To fright the horses as they passed, Or break good people's bones.

But with our hats beneath our arms, We bent our heads full low, For ne'er the school ma'am failed to ask, "Boys, did you make a bow ?"

And all the little girls with us Would courtesy full low, And hide their ankles 'neath their gown-Girls don't have ankles now.

We stole no fruit, nor tangled grass, We played no noisy games. And when we spoke to older folks, Put handles on their names.

And when the hour for school had come, Of bell we had no need, The school ma'am's rap upon the glass, Each one would quickly heed.

That school ma'am ! Heaven bless her name! When shall we meet her like ! She always wore a green calash, A calico vandyke.

She never sported pantaletts-No silks on her did rustle-Her dress huug gracefully all around-She never wore a bustle.

With modest mein and loving heart Her daily task was done, As true as needle to the pole, The next one was begun.

The days were all alike to her, The evenings just the same, And neither brought a change to us, Till Saturday forenoon came.

And then we had a "spelling match," And learned the sound of A, The months and weeks that made the year, The hours that made the day.

And on that day we saw her smile, No other time smiled she ; 'Twas when she told us learnedly When next "leap year" would be.

Alas ! kind sonl ! though leap year came And went full many a time, In "single blessedness" she toiled, Till far beyond her prime.

But now, indeed, her toils are o'er, Her lessons are all said, Her rules well learned-her words all spelled, She's gone up to the head.

VULCANITE BASE FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

Attention is especially called to this article, as a substitute for gold in inserting teeth. Many per-sons who have tr rd all kinds of metalic bases prefer this, and in those cases where it is applicable it will in a great measure become a substitute for gold, silver or platina. Its chief advantages are cheapness, lightness and perfect adoption to the mouth ; it having a soft fieshy feel to the parts of the mouth with which it comes in contact. A, M. Hills is prepared to put up teeth on the Vulcanite Base, with Goodyear's Patent Gum which is the only reliable preperation, and can only be had through their regular agents. Dr. Hills will always be found in his office on Friday and Saturday, unless notice appears to the contrary, in the town papers, the previous week.

(FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL RAPORTS )

MAY 19, 1860,-Ellen S., mt. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was con-fined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Saturday; while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, but had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began to swell which was fellow ed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuck. les are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is the most so. This, then, is a case of scute rheumatism, or as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now is to call your attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheamatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose giving it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifics ; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER MAY 23, 1860 .- I will now exhibit to you the pa-tient for whom I preshribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has stendily taken it in done of three grains, every two hours. (intermitting it at night). The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.

The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the source appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen we must wait a little while before we can give a de-very nicely, and is now able to walk about as you as severe a case of neute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the chloride of Propylamine, the patients have gained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would your selves try if, and report the results. For a full report of which the above is a cen tions while referring to the many gallant regiments in the service of the country, recruited and sent forward from this state. But while we are thus careful, we must not, either, omit frankly to give credit to such regiments as have fairly earned the meed of praise. Among such as these, the Fifty-first, Col. Hartrauft, stands prominent before the country, with its banner inscribed with the titles of three victories. First at Roanoke, February 8, 1862; then at Newbern, March 14, 1862 and now another victory gleams from the same banner, inscribed there by order of Gen. Burnside, in the battle of Camden, April 19, 1862. "NEWBERN, N. C., May 9, 1862.

"Since my last, we have had another battle, (Camden), which, for the time it lasted, was fully equal in severity to either of the other. At any rate our regiment was put to the most trying test to which troops can be subjected. The Ninth New York, (Hawkins' Zouaves,) undertook to make a charge, but, being repulsed, broke and "skedaddled" right back upon our lines, and in fact ran clear through us before they got over their fright. It is customary, when a regiment is about to engage in a charge, for the men to divest themselves of their overcoats and knapsacks, leaving them in any secure place which may Cheap offer at the time. This precaution had been Cheap taken by the men of the Fifty-first, and after the Hawkins' Zouaves had broken through the lines of the Fifty-first, in their desperate and cowardly effort to get beyond danger, these same Hawkins' Zouaves actually rifled the Cheap knapsacks and carried off the overcoats which Cheap the Fifly-First Pennnsylvania regiment had Chear left behind for safety, while they were gallantly Cheap Knives and forks.
