CLEARFIELD, JULY 16, 1862.

Statement of a Refugee from Richmond. WASHINGTON, July 6 .- Dr. D. G. Oliver, formerly of Grant county, Wis., recently of Holly Springs, Miss., who was impressed into the rebel service at the beginning of the war, and since the battle of Rull Run has been acting as assistant-Surgeon in the rebel army, reached here to-day. He had persistently refused to take the oath of allegiance to the reb- til all arrearages are paid, except at the option of el Government, but was compelled to do so the publisher. on Tuesday last. He was detailed in charge of twenty-five ambulances filled with wounded to go to Lynchburg. Being possessed of the countersign, he determined to take advantage of the existing confusion to get away. He bribed a negro in Richmond to swap clothes with him, and after passing the pickets, by means of the countersign, he tramped to Fredericksburg and got into the lines of the Union army at that point. He has had a good opportunity to observe the condition of affairs in rebeldom.

He states that the entire white male population of the South, between the ages of fifteen and forty, have been forced into the army. The conscription there is a reality. Numbers who are in arms are doing duty unwillingly and would gladly get away from the tyranny of the Davis autocracy. Dr. Oliver has been in Richmond for the last two months. The rebel force in Virginia is estimated at fully two hundred and fifty thousand. They admit a loss of twenty-five thousand in the recent battles. They are subsisting on what is termed half rations, by which is meant only the substantials, without any of the small stores. They have an abundance of bacon, rice and corn, but no salt nor coffee, nor other small stores, that go to make up a soldier's rations.

Since the occupation of the Mississippi by the Federal forces, cutting off communication with Texas, their supplies of beef are brought from Florida, where there is an abundance Brady, - - of wild cattle. The stock of whiskey is pretty well exhausted. Dr. Oliver says the greatest depression he observed was produced by the intelligence that President Lincoln had called out three hundred thousand additional Chest .- . . Hurd. called out three hundred thousand additional Chest. - - - Hurd. - - - G. Tozer, jr. troops. The opinion prevailed that if these Clearfield, - Clearfield. - - M. A. Frank troops should be promptly furnished the rebel | Covington, . Frenchville, game would be ended. They have exhausted their resources for soldiers, and would be unable to contend against a fresh army of that size. Their only hope is that this call will not be promptly responded to by volunteers, Fox, but that there will be sufficient delay to afford | Girard, - - an opportunity for foreign intervention before they are forced to give up.

Dr. Oliver says the rebel plan of fighting is not with reserve, but by retreats in the field, and that in every battle, regiments are regu- Huston, . . lary relieved by fresh troops, after having fought for a little while. In this way it was Jordan, . - Ansonville, hoped to wear out and tire down the troops | Karthaus. under McClellan. It is seldom that the same | Knox, . . . regiments have been allowed to engage twice in the same battle.

The rebels have concentrated nearly all Penn, - - Lumber City. their available troops at Richmond, except so much of Beauregard's army as stopped at Pike, - - - Curwensville, - - T. W. Fleming. Charleston, and about thirty-five thousand of the same army left in Mississippi. The rebels Union, - - - Rockton, - - are terribly afraid of the gun-boats. They reckon one gun-boat equal to a whole division on land. They admit that the recent movement of Gen. McClellan was a masterly stroke of policy, and that his present position is infinitely stronger than the one he abandoned. It is his impression that no further attack will be made upon him where he is. The rebels are sending their wounded and prisoners to the interior. There is no room for them in Richmond, and medical stores are exceedingly scarce. Dr. Oliver was obliged to dress wounds and amputations with only cold water and bandages.

The reported death of Stonewall Jackson is untrue. Dr. Oliver saw him alive and well in Richmond on Tuesday night. Jeff. Davis Read the following list of goods and profit thereby went to Raleigh to see his family.

GEN. McCLELLAN'S ADDRESS TO HIS ARMY. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,

Camp at Harrison's Landing, July 4 1862. Soldiers of the Army of the Potomac: Your achievements of the last ten days have illustrated the valor and endurance of the American soldier. Attacked by superior forces, and without hope of reinforcements, you have succeeded in changing your base of operations by flank movements, always regarded as | Cheap the most hazardous of military expedients. You have saved all your material, all your trains, and all your guns except a few lost in battle, taking in return guns and colors from the enemy. Upon your march you have been | Cheap assailed day after day with desperate fury, by | Che men of the same race and nations, skiifully massed and led. Under every disadvantage | Cheap of number and necessarily of position also, you have, in every conflict, beaten back your foes with enormous slaughter. Your conduct ranks you among the celebrated armies of history. No one will now question that each of you may always with pride say, "I belonged to Chea, the Army of the Potomac."

You have reached this new base complete | Chear in organization and unimpaired in spirit. The enemy may at any time attack you. We are prepared to meet them. I have personally established your lines. Let them come, and we will convert their repulse into a final | Cherry defeat. Your Government is sfrengthening Cheap you with the resources of a great people. On this our nation's birthday, we declare to our Cheap Soap, Starch, Wall Paper or Winfoes, who are rebels against the best interests of mankind, that this army shall enter the capital of the so-called Cofederacy; that our National Constitution shall prevail, and that the Cheap Union, which can alone insure internal peace, and extend security to each State, must and shall be preserved, cost what it may in time, treasure or blood.

Penesylvania Hospital. (FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL RAPORTS)
MAY 19, 1860.—Ellen S., at. 28, single never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks, and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Saturday; while engaged in use cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, elt cold, but had no decided chill. Two days after her ankles began to swell which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands She has dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is the most so. This. then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well marked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now is to call your attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheamatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms having derived great benefit from its use in 250 eases which came under his care. mendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose giving it another trial. I must confess I am always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifics; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

May 23, 1860 .- I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I preshribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains, every two hours. (intermitting it at night). The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot fail to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860 .- This is the case of acute rhenmatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last office.

She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily.

In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring fore you a very characteristic case of neute a matism, and if the result b esatisfactory. as good jurymen, we shall justly render our vers n favor of propylamine. He is a seaman, mt. 26, who was admitted a few lays ago. Has had occasional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swellen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin at present, dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 96. He has now used propylamine twenty-four hours.

This gentlemen is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coluness severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating. so general! yattendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture ox all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines. even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case in a future clinic.

THE RESULT .- A FAVORABLE VERDICT. JUNE 9, 1860. - The next of our canvalescents is the case of acuterheumatism before you at our clin-ic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without be ing prepared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used. I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the chloride of Propylamine, the patients have gained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would your selves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a cendensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medissland Surgical Reporter. It is a reportafter a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.
