IMPORTANT WAR NEWS. A Most Desperate Fight BETWEEN GENERAL BANKS AND STONEWELL JACKSON.

Washington, August 10.—The most desperate fight, for the numbers engaged, since the war commenced, occurred yesterday at Cedar Creek, 8 miles south of Gettysburg...

In the afternoon General Ford's brigade of Gen. Williams' division, moved forward to a place of high ground between Cedar Creek and Crooked Run...

The army kept up a continuous fire from both batteries some half an hour, which was returned by Capt. Brost, when three additional relief batteries opened from as many different localities...

At about five o'clock the rebel infantry was discovered in strong force upon our right and in front supporting the batteries...

General Lee's army of 25,000 men, in the field at the time of the battle, had not yet received reinforcements...
