GRASS.—Several persons having written to us, inquiring if we would take in payment...

VOTE THE TRUE UNION TICKET! BEWARE OF MISTAKES!

Let every loyal man be on his guard against the insidious wiles of the enemy. Be careful that you vote the Union ticket and no other.

For Auditor General—THOMAS E. COCHRAN. For Surveyor General—WILLIAM S. ROSS. For Congress—GLENN W. SCOFIELD.

These are the men who represent the Union sentiment of the country. If you are in favor of the Union and the Constitution—if you are opposed to treason and rebellion—if you desire the perpetuation of our institutions—if you would visit the consequences of this unwholly and wicked rebellion upon the guilty conspirators who brought it about, then vote the above ticket! It is Union throughout.

DR. A. M. HILLS, desires to notify his friends who may need his professional services, that he will be absent from his office during the week commencing Oct. 20th, 1862.

APPLICATION FOR PARDON.—All persons are hereby notified that an application is about to be made to the Governor of Pennsylvania, for the pardon of Bryant D. Schoonover, convicted at June Session 1862, in this county, of Forgery.

CAN'T TRUST THEM.—It seems the Breckinridge clique have been very busy, for more than a week past, folding tickets and tying up full hands, to send all over the county. They are not satisfied with making all the nominations, but they can't even trust the rank and file to select their own hands!

"SO THEN"—The Democracy having abandoned the "Crittenden amendment," they promulgate a "new plank"—the negro where he is! Sagacity says he isn't informed of the precise purport of this "new plank," but he thinks it doesn't mean "the Constitution as it is," but that it is an attempt of some sharper to supplant the "amendment" of Crittenden at that instrument, in the hope of making political capital out of this "new proposition."

THE DRAFT.—By authority of the Governor of this Commonwealth, the draft has been postponed until Thursday the 16th of October, 1862. Applications for exemptions, of persons who may have been in the service of the State, and who have not already had the opportunity to attend such appeal, will be heard on Monday and Tuesday, the 13th and 14th days of October instant, at the Court House in Clearfield borough.

AMUNING—WOULDN'T IT BE!—to see a man traveling along the road with a big "Darkey" on one shoulder and an "Abolitionist" on the other. Such is a portrait of Mr. Senator Wallace's position at the present time. He has mounted the Breckinridge-Vallandigham platform on the one shoulder and the Douglas and the other, and is now engaged in exhibiting the "two-faced" picture to the people of the district. Well, may the Douglas Democrats of Blair county ask, "What is it?"

ALL ABOUT!—A couple of "Knights of the Lapstone" in this place, refused to receive our paper from the carrier last week, avowedly because of the description of the late Locomotive "Skizzle." We like this in such loud-mouthed advocates of free speech and the liberty of the press! If they think their disapprobation, or loss of patronage, can deter us from publishing what we please, they will find themselves slightly mistaken. But, when we want the advice of a stubby Irishman and a renegade Whig about what we shall publish, we'll call on them.

QUESTIONS?—Why don't "Senator" Wallace define his position on the present state of the county? Why don't he give his opinions to the Douglas Democrats of Blair county, who have asked to know where he stands? Perhaps he is afraid to let his "light" shine, lest it should reveal a "cullied gemmen" in the bush. Better "come up to the scratch" fair and square, Mr. Wallace, as that would be more honorable than traveling the district clandestinely and exhibiting certificates. A steward can get certificates to gull strangers either in patent medicines or in politics—and, because a man has a certificate, it don't follow that he is right on the "goose." We are to judge a man's politics from his political platform and his political associations, and not from the certificates he may procure in regard to what personal assistance he has given to certain individuals or to certain companies.

THE TREASON OF THE BRECKINRIDGE DEMOCRACY.

From the Phila Press, Oct. 5, 1862.

We publish to-day, in the most conspicuous column of The Press, the resolution prepared by Mr. FRANK W. HUGHES for the sanction of the Democratic State Convention that met in Harrisburg in February, 1861. We copy it from a circular, sent to us by a friend of Mr. HUGHES, purporting to be his defence against the charges of Mr. BOYER, [which will be found on the out side of to-day's Journal.] It is therefore reliable, and we commend it to the careful attention of the loyal citizens of this State, who are invoked to sustain the candidates placed in nomination by the Convention over which Mr. HUGHES presided. It is the most conclusive and damning record of treachery on the part of a Northern man in this rebellion has produced, and we can only find its parallel in the secret declarations of such men as Mr. YANBY and Mr. MALLORY. It shows that, while the traitors of the South were plotting to establish a new Confederacy, Mr. HUGHES was plotting to make Pennsylvania a member of it. Let us look at the facts. It was the month of February, 1861. The Peace Congress was in session—a number of the extreme Southern States had seceded. Mr. BUCHANAN was wringing his hands and saying his prayers, and trembling at the farewell menaces of DAVIS and SIDDELL. The Southern leaders were quietly storing away arms and ammunition, sending delegates to foreign courts, and amassing Mr. BUCHANAN with Peace Commissioners, and long letters of grievance. The country was wretched and sick at heart—demoralization was extending everywhere—public officials were resigning—our army and navy officers were throwing up their commissions—BEAUREGARD was building batteries around Charleston bay, while ANDERSON and his handful of little followers were looking anxiously for their comrades for aid against the overwhelming foe. In a time like this—and its dreadful memory is in the heart of every one—the true duty of the citizen would have been the Union at any cost and every sacrifice. In a time like this we find Mr. HUGHES, calmly plotting the overthrow of the Union, by seeking to throw the great weight of Pennsylvania into the scale of the Southern Confederacy. "I prepared," says Mr. HUGHES, a "resolution which I intended to offer to that Convention. I have preserved the identical draft of the resolution, which I then had, and which then was, and since has been shown to friends who can fully identify it." This "identical draft" we publish to-day.

The Platform of Treason, as Presented by the Leader of the Breckinridge Party in Pennsylvania.

The following is the resolution written by Mr. F. W. HUGHES, the Chairman of the Breckinridge Democratic State Committee, for the consideration of the State Democratic Convention. It is the most lucid and explicit declaration we have yet read of the opinions of the leaders of the Secession party of Pennsylvania:

Resolved, That Pennsylvania owes her growth in population, and the increase of capital and wealth of her citizens, chiefly to the advantages which the American Union has afforded for the development of her natural resources; and that her glory and paramount interests are identified with the continuance of that Union.

Should, however, causes hitherto resisted by the Democracy of the country bend, under the bonds that bind together these States, and should the fifteen Slaveholding States, claiming to be driven by the necessity of mutual protection against the effect of such causes, successfully establish another Confederacy, then Pennsylvania must regard her relation to the facts which circumstances beyond our control have produced.

Should she then refuse to perceive that she must either take her place in some Northern fragment of a once-glorious Union, and rest content to be shorn of the greater part of her manufacturing industry, and of her export and import trade—to hold a secondary and helpless relation to the Northeastern States, with no outlet or approach from the ocean for her great Eastern or her great Western metropolises, except through the waters and before the forts and guns of a foreign nation, and thus practically (for want of ability to protect) be made to yield up all reliable direct foreign trade.

Or she may, if a member of the New Confederacy, become the great Manufacturing workshop for a people now consuming annually $300,000,000 worth of products and Manufactures from, and Imported through the Northern States; her cities become the great commercial depots and Distributing points for this Confederacy, and her wealth, population, and glory, be promoted in a degree unparalleled in the history and prosperity of any people!

That it will be the right and duty of her citizens to consult their own best interests in a position so momentous, and decide between the lawful alternatives. And that in stating the truths here announced, we have no desire to conceal that our object is to present to the people of other States the position they may severally occupy if the coercion disunionists in their midst succeed in defeating an equitable compromise of existing difficulties.

IS HE SOUND?

We are informed that the Breckinridge candidate for Senator, has been traveling round exhibiting certificates—one from Capt. Ogden and one from Capt. McCullough—to prove his loyalty. We never thought of specially calling it in question, but we think it must be a very sickly kind of loyalty that requires the peddling round of certificates to back it up.

If Mr. Wallace had ever made a speech in favor of enlistments, the community would know where he stood without a certificate. If he had ever taken a public and outspoken position in favor of the Government and the war, it would not be necessary to travel around exhibiting his 'papers!' He may have, and doubtless did contribute moderately of his means to assist the above named gentlemen in raising their companies. But he ought to be able to give some stronger evidence than this of his loyalty, if it is necessary to give any evidence at all. It is passing strange, that a lawyer and a public man has no better record to furnish of his loyalty to his country than this. Could he not prove that, as counsel of the County Commissioners, he advised them to lay the relief tax required by law, for the wives and children of our absent soldiers? or would the hand-writing of the answer to the application to the Court to compel them to discharge their duty, be in his way? Could he not prove that he stood ready at all times to go at his country's call in her defence? or would that certificate of exemption be in the way?

We apprehend that the loyal men of this district will want to cast their votes for a candidate that don't need to peddle around certificates to prove his patriotism. There is no difficulty in ascertaining where Hon. L. W. HALL stands in this great struggle. He has a record, and one, of which he need not be ashamed. Ever since the war commenced, his voice has been heard, like a clarion peal throughout the Commonwealth, in support of the Government, and in denunciation of treachery and traitors. Those who cast their votes for L. W. Hall, know they are supporting a man true to his country and its Government, and who will spare no effort to crush out this wicked and unwholy rebellion.

GEN. HOOKER'S REPORT.—Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, of Saturday, contains Hooker's official report of the battle of Williamsburg, thus published for the first time. This report makes some startling complaints about failure to furnish needed reinforcements in that battle, and adds: "History will not be believed, when it is told that the noble officers and men of my division were permitted to carry on this unequal struggle from morning until night unaided, in the presence of more than thirty thousand troops with arms in their hands, nevertheless it is true."

STRANGER IS TOWN.—We have been gratified by a call from Frederick Ayer Esq., the business man of the firm of J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell. A short acquaintance with the gentleman convinces us that not the Doctor's skill in compounding his medicines is alone concerned in the immense consumption of them: but that it takes business talent of no ordinary measure to pass them around the world. Mr. Ayer, manifestly, has these abilities and the success of his house shows that he uses them.
