A WORD TO OUR PATRONS .- The great advance in the price of printing paper is compelling many publishers to either increase their terms, to cut down the size of their sheets, or to suspend altogether. We hope to be able to avoid all these results; but in order to do so, prompt payments on the part of our patrons will be necessary. We trust, therefore, that all who can, will call on us during Court next week and pay up their balsaces. A cordial response will be beneficial to both patrons and publisher.

CAMP NEAR BELL PLAIN, VA., Dec. 23, 1862. DEAR Row :- Since the excitement of the last few days has somewhat abated, I propose to write once more in acknowledgment of numerous favors, and also in regard to the engagement of Fredericksburg.

This Division broke camp at Brookes' station on the morning of the 8th, and the same evening found us in the vicinity of White-Oak church-eight miles from our starting point. and four from the Rappahannock. It was a bitter cold day, and the snow which had fallen a day or two previous still lay on the ground, which made it very unpleasant for spending the night. We remained at this point till the morning of the 10th, when the 3d Brigade, with Battery A, was ordered to advance to the banks of the river below Fredcricksburg, to protect the Ponteon corps in throwing their bridge across the river at that point. We reached our destination at 11 o' clock at night, a few minutes in advance of followed early the next morning, and by day light of the 11th, the whole Division was on the banks of the river. The Pontooniers worked like beavers, and by 3 p. m., two bridges were completed. An hour later one Division of Smith's corps was thrown rapidly reconnoisance in force, to ascertain more accurately, if possible, the position of the enemy. Not meeting with any resistance the Division, with the exception of one Brigade, was subsequently withdrawn to the left bank of the river. At daylight on the morning of

No would prefer active service in the field against more vile slander was ever uttered, than that from the correspondence of the New York Press, to the effect, that the Reserves at the first obset were paule stricken and fell back. disgracefully, in contusion. Those who were there and witnessed the scene, know better; and they also know that no body of men in the same situation could withstand such an enfilading fire from both the right and the left as and molasses, with apple pie and doughnuts, that to which the Reserves were subjected. Their severe loss will attest their daring and

I will not attempt an estimate of the losses of the Division. The official papers will soon be forthcoming wh ch will set at rest all speculation in regard thereto. The loss to our Battery exceeded that of any other engage- Recollect, we offer a Superior lot of ment, so far as men and horses were concerned. We had five killed or who have since died, and some seven or eight wounded. We had also twelve horses killed, one gun axle broken by a solid shot, and one limber and two wheels disabled.

During the 14th and 15th, the two armies lay quietly side by side as if each were loth to attack. On the evening of the 15th an armistice was asked for by Gen. Franklin, and an hour was granted in order that we might obtain the bodies of those who were lying on neutral ground. They were all procured with a lew exceptions within the time specified, and each army resumed its former hostile attitude. About 9 o'clock the same evening we were ordered to withdraw, silently and as speedily as possible, to the left bank of the river, and by 2 o'clock next morning the whole army had safely recrossed the Rappahannock. Since that time we have been speculating on the cause of the movement, and its probable effect on the progress of the winter campaign and the duration of the war; but, as the Pontoon train. The 1st and 2d Brigades yet, the mass of the Army seem to have come to no satisfactory conclusion. While some are disposed to censure Burnside for incompetency, others attribute the disaster to the military Directors at Washington-and in this connection, Halleck comes in for a large share of denunciation. The men, so far as my obacross the river, for the purpose of making a servation extends, are in good spirits from the proud conciousness that they, at least, have done their duty, and if there has been a mistake or blunder in the management of the late fight, it devolves upon the leaders to Hardware, Queensware, make it clear and bear the responsibility.

The extreme cold, lin's Grand Division was safe on the right of the past few days, has driven us to seek bank of the river. To better facilitate the more comfortable quarters than the miserable crossing a third Pontoon was thrown across at excuses furnished by the Government, and an early hour, so that soon we had three col. our camps present, now, all the appearances of umns moving at the same time. THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE-1863 -THE NEW-YORK TRIBUSE, first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in A-merica. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and depar-ture of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th of December, 1862, is as follows: Daily, 50,125; Semi-Weekly, 17,250; Weekly, 148,000; Aggregate, 215,375. Preeminently a journal of News and of Literature, The Tribine has political convictions, which are well charactorized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations truth that "God has made of one clood all nations of men" — Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to "life, liber-ty, and the pursuit of happiness" — Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggranthe resources of our country for its own aggran-dizement-Republican in its antagonism to the aristocrats and despots of the Old World. who fondly hall in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart. the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic-Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever. THE TRIBUNE devotes attention in calmer times.

and to some extent in these, to Education, Temand to some extent in these, to Education. Tem-perance, Agriculture, Inventions, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in which we trust is soon to read! in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our dis-tracted, bleeding country. We believe that not otherwise can a fuller 3r more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous con-flict be obtained than through the regular peru-sal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the cooperation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphoid as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its c regulation.
