A VOICE FROM THE ARMY.

An officer of the Fortieth Ohio Volunteers. in our Western army, Lient. Charles Ent, born and raised in Maryland, and a Democrat of the strictest sort, writes as follows to a friend

"I have come to the conclusion that those who say we have fought long enough, are men who would have fought on the other side had they lived south of the Ohio river. us for saving their birth-right even at the exsense of a hundred battles more? True, we may be compelled to give over at last through sheer exhaustion, but we have not done our best. We know there is a limit to the power of the rebellion; we know, too, that its resources of men and money are much more nearly exhausted than our own. . Why should we give up when all for which we have struggled, if attainable at all, is now so much nearer than Talk of peace! With whom shall we treat for peace? Have we lost our memories? Is any loyal man so verdant and confiding as to suppose that the men who so treacherously began this war by a conspiracy to overthrow a Govconment they had sworn to protect-such as Davis, Floyd, Breckinridge, Yancey &Coare men with whom an honorable treaty can be made or kept? They are absorbed with the wild, ambilious purpose of founding a great slave empire on the ruins of American freedom and civilization; and they are sagacious enough to see that such scheme can only succeed through the humiliation and subjection of the North. They denounce northern masses as only fit to be their slaves; and some propose to prove it, by a cowardly, servile surrender to the terms their haughtiness may dictate. It there can be no peace but by giving up this continent to be ruled and ridden this gang of fillibusters and pirates, who have disrupted our National Union and made themselves the assassins of their country, then, in God's name, let the war rage on till we be all dead men.

One of three things; a peace, which binds the North in chains to the victorious car of the South; or a peace which gives the South time to establish and consolidate a recognized | both formerly of Maine. nationality preparatory to another war, in which the North would be ten times more disablid and distracted than now; or a peace coming through the triumph of our arms, and the to-establishment of Federal authority over all the land. What then remains is, we must fight or do worse. It will take time; it will add enormously to our burdens; it will impose great suffering; it will tax our united trength and highest wisdom to the utmost; it may drain the blood of your heart and mine, but such is the price we must pay for a nation's life and liberty, its honnor and safety. And the inture, blest with public order, and prosperons quiet, will say, "These are richly worth

"You know I have always been a Democrat, but if I had been present when that man used such language toward the President, I would have told him that that same President was paying me one hundred dollars per month for ling such traitors as he, and would likely have carried it into effect. I know no party in this war, my party is my country. In her cause have I enlisted, and will defend her against her revilers whoever they may be."

In Honduras, invalids afflicted with Scrofula visit the streams that have drained from the wild lands where Sarsaparilla grows. Yet, I find all classes have more confidence in Dr. Ayer's Extract of Sarsaparilla, than in the impregnated waters or any compound of the root that they can make. Those who can afford to bny it do so, and it is in very general use here, coring them surer and quicker than they can manipulated by scientific or artisan skill, and then come back for our consumption and use. mourn thy death. RAILROAD ACCIDEVE.

On Monday morning the Express train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, going west, en countered the slide between Mexico and Perryville, by which the locomotive, the baggage, sank in some ton feet of water. FROM VICKSBURG .- The dispatches received express and one passenger car were clearly from Vicksburg seem to indicate the capture thrown over the embankment into the river and of the Queen of the West,-she having gone up Red River, where about a dozen rebel noats locomotive had ran off the track and gone over were known to be. As to the manner of her the bank into the river, the baggage and ex. capture nothing definite is given, except through rebel sources, which is stated thus: -As the Queen was going up the river she captured a small steamer, the pilot of which tive, smashing it all to atoms. This is the substance of the story, whether true or not. It is said that the Vicksburg "cut off" has been completed .that the gunboats have passed through, and that the transports are preparing to follow. A small gunboat fleet is reported to have reached the Yazoo River via Union Lake, which are playing mischief in the rear of the rebels. It is also said that some boats have reached Red River via Lake Providence.

MYSTERY OF THE HUMAN HAND .- Issuing from the wrist is that wonderful organ the hand. "In a French book," says Sir Charles Bell, "intended to teach young people philosophy, the pupil asks why the fingers are not of equal length. The master makes the scholar grasp a ball of ivery, to show him that the. points of the fingers are then equal. It would have been better had he closed the fingers upon the palm, and then have asked whether or not they correspond. This difference in the length of the fingers serves a thousand purposes, as in holding a rod, a switch, a sword, a hammer, a pen, a pencil, or engraving "Soon after the outbreak of the rebellion, ments of the thumbs depends, moreover, the power of the human hand. To the thumb, indeed, has been given the special name Poliex, from a Litan verb, meaning to be able. strong, mighty, because of its strength-a strength that is necessary to the power of the hand, being equal to that of all the fingers. Without the fleshy ball of the thumb the power of the fingers would be of no avail, and accordingly the large ball formed by the muscles of the thumb is the special mark of the human hand, and particularly that of a clever workman. The loss of the thumb almost amounts to the loss of the hand.
