

THE JOURNAL.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JULY 8, 1863.

A RICH AFFAIR.

We have been informed that rather a grand affair came off at the school house near Moore's mill, in Union township, on Saturday evening, June 27th. It appears that some of the young men in that neighborhood have been in the habit of meeting in the school house, every two weeks, as a debating club—the ladies attending as spectators.

ARREST OF THE DAYTON INDEPENDENT.—Stock-line, who set the office of the Dayton (Ohio) Journal on fire on the occasion of the arrest of Mr. Vallandigham, was arrested at the Spencer House in Indianapolis a few days since. He was handcuffed, and immediately burst into a passion of weeping, acknowledging his guilt.

WARM GREETING, BUT COLD COMFORT.—The Chattanooga Rebel, at the close of a fervent and sympathizing address to the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, with whom the editor had just enjoyed a friendly conference, says:

God speed you, Vallandigham, on your mission of peace; and may your eyes be opened, should your power be equal to your vision, to this grand fact, that we can never have peace without Union.

WHERE THE GOLD IS.—The advance of the rebels has developed one fact, which has been a mystery to the people for some time, viz: What has become of the gold coin? Fearing an attack, the bankers, and others, of Pittsburg, thought it prudent to remove their coin, and the American Express Company delivered in Cleveland, on the 15th ult., $15,000,000 in gold and on the succeeding day $7,000,000 more, of which $650,000 was also in gold.

THE REBELS PURCHASE STEAMERS AT MONTEAL.—A Montreal business man writes to his correspondent in Boston, under date of June 19th, as follows: "There is a man here buying steamers, as he says, for the United States Government, but I should not be surprised if the vessels were designated for the service of the Confederate States. He has purchased three. He appears to be plentifully supplied with funds."

THE WOMEN OF EAST TENNESSEE.—The women of East Tennessee are full of faith in the Union cause. Refugees report that the matrons and even the girls in all that section will stand true to the last; all they ask is arms and ammunition, and they will fight their own battles. It is said that three Union women recently killed two rebels with a pitch fork and spade, and wounded the third.

KILLED, WOUNDED AND MISSING.—Below we give a list of the casualties sustained by the Clearfield county Companies, in the recent battles near Gettysburg:

- Company E, 149th—Clearfield. Killed, Sergeant, Wm. L. Antes, Private, James Rinehart. Wounded, Sergeant, Cornelius Owens, Corporal, Wm. Price, John F. Mason, Private, Ed. Goss, William Phillips, Peter Gurley, James Goss, James Lucas. Missing, Sergeant, James W. Irwin, Corporal, Charles Larimer, David B. McClellan, Wesley Shirey, Private, Oliver Krise, William S. Taylor, Daniel S. Kephart, Frank Freck, James Bush, Nathan Harring, David B. McClellan, Michael B. Cramer, Henry P. Hummel, James H. West.

- Company B, 149th—Curwensville. Killed, Bernard Adams, Wm. Fleming. Wounded, Capt. J. Irvin, slightly in the head, Morris Parley, A. B. Cole, leg broken below the knee, Samuel Stein, severely, Sylvanus Snyder, slightly, Richard A. Curry, mortally, Ellis Lewis, severely in back, Charles P. M. Masters, severely in back, Daniel P. Davis, arm above elbow, Samuel T. Nelson, John Sminger, severely arm and back, Conrad Barrett, mortally, Daniel Shunkwiler, slightly in arm.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. Editor:—The "Copperhead" organ of Clearfield county for the last two years professed to be an especial expounder of the Constitution of the United States; and the President could scarcely move in any direction to thwart the intentions and hopes of the rebels, and of their aiders and abettors, but what the said organ would cry out, "Violation of the Constitution." Having become accustomed to hear these Copperhead editors, and others of the same yellow stripe, expound the Constitution, we wish to be informed, whether the invasion of Pennsylvania by the rebels is a violation of that Constitution, or not? If not, then I suppose we have no Constitutional right to stop them? I hope, however, that these Northern "snakes" will begin to realize the fact that it is an invasion, and that it will soon be stopped. But, so long as a certain class of men, (pardon me, I was going to say men) "reptiles," prefer to get up Copperhead meetings at home, teach others to vilify the Administration, and to disregard the laws and to resist the draft, and for such advice be rotten egged by Patriotic young ladies; I say, if they would rather do these things than go and fight for their country and against their dear Southern brethren, so long we must expect to be harassed by invasions. While I am out for information, I would ask, Did any one ever hear of a Union Democrat, or of a Republican who threatened, counseled or advised a resistance to the enrollment or the draft? I never have. Such things only come from Copperheads.
