We see it stated that Gen. Steadman was wounded in the fight at Graysville, Tenn.

The letter of W. R. B., on our outside, should be dated the 8th instead of the 3d.

CORRECTION .- In our notice of the "Monster" Copperhead meeting, last week, in a part of our issue, the type made us say, Such was the general tenure of Mr. Bigler's remarks." The word in italics should be TENOR.

PICTURES! PICTURES ! !-- The new skylight Photograph and Ambrotype Rooms, now being fitted up in Mr. Shaw's Row, east end, up stairs, by H. Bridge, will be opened about the 1st of September next. Mr. B. having recently purchased an entire new practical Photographer, and an excellent himself to be able to accommodate all in want of pictures of themselves and friends supply of Gilt, Rosewood, and other frames, Albums, Cases, and in fact everything connected with the business, constantly on hand and for sale at moderate prices.

THE LADY'S FRIEND, FOR SEPTEMBER. -A touching steel engraving, called "THE BLIND PIPER," opens the September number of the Ladie's Friend This is followed by the usual double steel Fashion Plate, richly colored. By the way, we note that one of the ladies in the Plate is wearing the Russian boot, with high heel, now so popular in Paris. Then follow the usual numerous engravings of ladies' and children's feshions, which so delight the fairer portion of creation, and often so puzzle us gentlemen. Street, Philadelphia.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE JOURNAL.

Letter from Philipsburg, Pa.

Philipsburg, PA., Aug. 22, 1864. DEAR JOURNAL :- Feeling somewhat out f sorts last week, I did not "come to time," but by the blessing of the Great Disposer of all good, I am again permitted to resume the "mighty weapon" and wield it, though weakly it may be.

Our citizens are all astir this morning, this being the first day of our August Term of the Court of Quarter Sessions for the county of Centre. "Going to Court," is a-bout the last of the old landmarks, that have not been usurped, by the advent of the rail road. "Going to the City," OF going a trip of a hundred miles or less, that formerly was attended with weeks of preparation, is now a common place occurrence. It used to be, that when our merchants were making ready to go to the city to purchase their goods, everybody in town was out-fit of the very best instruments-with aware of the fact, and when the day of dethe advantage of 15 years experience as a parture came, relatives and friends bid him good bye, with as much solemnity as if he were going on a perilous journey, and they sky light combined with a large side light, would never "look on his like again." But and a comfortable reception room-flatters now he picks up a small carpet bag, takes the cars, goes to the city, buys his goods, and is back again, often, none but his own household knowing of his being away from in a manner unsurpassed anywhere. A full town. Not so in "going to Court," though. It is still attended with some bustle, trip of twenty-eight miles across the Atlegheny, is yet among the things that were, and he who has any litigation on hand, is necessitated to "get a chance" to ride overland, though thanks to the Rail road, there is always a public conveyance to get there: but if he is a juryman, or must appear at the opening of the court on the first day, to go by rail, he must start on Saturday-and travel some sixty miles of a round. There are several criminal cases from our town to be tried this court, one of which, is the skirmish between the sandy hued scout, and the "Reserve" of the 5th P. V. R. C. noticed in this correspondence a few weeks ago. Justice having fled "this neck of timber," the scout wended his way across the mountain to Bald Eagle Ridge, in search of the Goddess. He found her, perched, in her solitude, on this side of the romantic Bald The music of this number is, "Who Speaks | Eagle Ridge, and there at her shrine, pour-First?' a Gallop. The literary contributions ed forth his wrongs, in such a sympathetic are as varied and interesting as usual. Of style, that Lycurgus might have envied, and the Goddess granted him a warrant, on the course there is the usual Work Table, Edi-tor's Department, Receipts, Fashions, &c. the Goddess granted him a warrant, on the boy of the old 5th, got wind of the writ, $2.00 a year ; twenty cents a single number. | and promptly appeared before justice Bra-Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut din, of our town, with a host of backers, and entered bail for his appearance at court. The seout was now outflanked. He made the brilliant manouvre away across the mountain, to get the warrant, thinking that the constable would be compelled to deliver the "Reserve," before the justice who issued the warrant. the justice of course must hold him to bail or commit. The "Reserve," he (the scout,) knew had no friend there that would go his bail, and by this splendid piece of strategy, he hoped to see him placed "in durance vile." But the scout failed, ingloriously failed, to carry his point. Had it been a success, the "Reserve" would not have remained, looking The roll of townships was then called, and through the "ten of diamonds," longer than a bail-piece could be executed, and sent to the jailer. It is to be hoped that the court may have a little light thrown on the subject of disunion language, that has time and select and present the names of persons again been uttered by this scout, and which mitable to fill the several offices to be voted will develop itself in the examination of witnesses on this trial of assault and battery. The "Reserve." we must all admit, violated the law of the land, and is amenable to the law, but go d may come of it, and a "Daniel come to judgment" be the winding up of the scout. And we will ever pray. The examination of the draft made some weeks ago, and which I noticed in my last as postponed, went off on the 18th and 19th A. Caldwell, D. Adams, Sr., Alex, Murray ; inst., at Bellefonte. The men, who were the holders of prizes, are all at home again. Those who were not exempted, socked the greenbacks. Not a man, as far as I can learn, out of the forty-two drafted, went into the service. We have had several showers of rain during the the last ten days, which has had the effect of reviving vegetation, and the crops of corn and potatoes. LEROI. President Lincoln evidently has struck the golden mean in his general policy. It is objected to alike by extreme conservatives and extreme radicals, on the one hand because he requires "the abondment of slavery,' and on the other because he evinces a determination not to disregard proper guards and checks in the exercise of his vast powers; but the Union men endorse and approve his course and will sustain him alike by furnishing recruits to the army, and by giving him their suffrages for re-election.
