CLEARFIELD, PA., SEPT. 21, 1864.

THE PEACE MISSION TO RICHMOND.

Gilmore's Reply to Benjamin. Mr. J. R. Gilmore (Edward Kirke,) having published his account of his visit to Richmond with Col. Jacques, the rebel Secretary of State, Benjamin, endeavors in a circular, to show that Gilmore and Jacques were fully accredited to Davis, by Mr. Lincoln. A Washington journal thereupon publishes, on what is considered official authority, a statement that Gilmore and Jacques to all arrearages are paid, except at the option of went to Richmond entirely on their own hook," though Mr. Lincoln asked General Grant to pass them through his line.

To these two latter statements Mr. Gilmore replies. He says that Gen. Grant in his note, by flag of truce, asked Gen. Lee to pass Gilmore and Jacques, and he gives a copy of the note. He says that Secretary Benjamin garbled the note written by Gilmore and Jacques asking an interview with Davis, and that the true copy of the note stated that Gilmore and Jacques had no official authority to speak for Mr. Lincoln. while Benjamin's version says "they were fully possessed of the views of the United States Government. Further Mr. Gilmore says Benjamin misrepresents the whole conversation, and he closes his reply thus;

"In regard to this whole matter I will add, that with Mr. Benjamin's circular before me, I have carefully re-read what I have written in respect to the interview with him, that with Mr. Davis, and the attending circumstances, and that no part of my whole narrative can be altered or amended, and leave it consistent with the truth.

In my published report I have, as explicitly as language can do it, disclaimed hav-ing, in any way, acted for Mr. Lincoln; but I will repeat, that neither Col. Jacques nor myself had any official or unofficial authority from the President; that we were not requested or authorized to express his views. opinions or desire to Mr. Davis, or to any one else; that our "mission to Richmond" was initiated and executed solely on our own private account and responsibility, and that we have uniformly and always said so both inside and outside the rebel lines. Mr. Lincoln gave me a pass. It read as follows: 'Allow J. R. Gilmore and friend to pass, 'with ordinary baggage, to Gen. Grant at A. LINCOLN. 'his headquarters. He also gave me a note to General Grant.

That read as follows: Will Gen. Grant allow J. R. Gilmore and friend to pass our lines, with ordinary baggage, and go South. A. LINCOLN. And that is all that the Presider t did, or wrote, or said, or caused to be done, or written, or said in relation to this whole matter. So much for Mr. Benjamin's circular. I will now add a few words to relieve that gentleman from the flood of Billingsgate which is being poured upon him by the Richmond editors, because, as they assert, "on the introducion of a nameless Yankee friend, Mr. -, he (Mr. B.) received two spies, and procured them an interview with the President.

The Examiner "greatly desires to know what Yankee has commissioned spies into our lines, assured them handsome treatment and access to the President," etc. Now, Mr. Examiner, it wasn't a Yankee at all, nor was it a Mr.; it was simply a Madam-a near relative to Mr. Davis, now residing at the North. Her letter was addressed to M . Davis, not to Mr. Benjamin, and it no doubt secured to me the courtesy and kindness I received at the hands of the rebel President.

Furthermore, Mr. Benjamin did not procure us access to Mr. Davis. Our letter to the Secretary was requested by Judge Ould. as he expressed it. "as a matter of form. We knew when it was written, and we knew four days before we left Washington, that Mr. Davis would receive us.

The facts about this are simply as follows: A prominent citizen of the Confederacy, who desires peace even at the sacrifice of Slavery, met Col. Jacques at Petersburg a year ago. They have corresponded since, and when, in May last, the Colonel decided to visit the Confederacy again, he wrote that gentleman, who at once communicated the Colonel's intention to Mr. Davis, and asked if he would see him. Mr. Davis replied hat he would, and suggested that the gentleman should make his way to Baltimore and escort Col. Jacques through the lines. The gentleman met Col. Jacques in Baltimore late in June, but the Colonel objected to entering rebeldom by the back door. The Southernor then said, "Go to the front. Have a flag sent to Lee. Ask to meet Judge Ould. I will at once return to Richmond and see that everything works smoothly. For that reason I procured Mr. Lincoln's pass to the front. For that reason, when Gen. Grant said to me, "I don' believe the rebels will receive you. They have not answered a flag for a month. However, I will send one. I shall have to address Gen. Lee. Shall I say you want to meet Judge Ould?" I said to him: "If you please; and suppose you add that if there appears to Legany objection to Ould's meeting us, you would like to have him refer our request to Jeff, Davis." And for that reason Gen. Grant inserted in his note to Gen. Lee the clause: 'If not consistent for you to grant the request here asked. I would beg that this be referred to President Davis for his action; on which clause Mr. Benjamin has atten pted to build so much.

I have been under no pledge of secrecy as to these facts, but there have been reasons why I have not heretofore thought best to disclose them. Their present publication seems to be necessary to shield Mr. Banjamin (?), and to show, conclusively, that our "mission to Richmond" was altogether on our own account and responsibility. Since writing the above, I notice a paragraph, copied from the National Republican, in which the editor of that paper says: "We are authorized and requested" to state various things about "the Gilmore-Jacques mission." All these things I believe to be correct, except the statements that Gen. Lee gave us "a safe conduct to Richmond and return," and that "the President, after repeated solicitations consented to give Mesrs. Gilmore and Jacques a pass through our military lines. The Washington editor must have misunderstood Mr. Lincoln on these last points. He could not have made the statements, for they are not true. We had no safe conduct from Gen. Lee. The President did not com-municate with Col. Jacques at all. I asked him but once for a pass, and promptly, and Approved country produce of every kind taken at with no hesitation, he gave it—as promptly, the usual market prices inexchange for goods. with no hesitation, he gave it-as promptly.

probably, as he would have given it to any one he was glad to be rid of. I do not mean that the President shall be hanged for any of my sins, and I do not want to be hanged for any of his, therefore I make this unimportant correction. James R. Gilmore. Boston, Sept. 3, 1864.

BULKLEY'S PATENT-LUMBER DRIED BY SUPERHEATED STEAM.—The undersigned respectfully informs the people of Clearfield and adjoining counties that he has the agen cy of the above patent-and will sell individual, county or township rights for its use The lumber dried by this process is stronger, finishes bet-ter, is easier on tools, and requires less time in drying than any other process known, drying I inch lumber perfectly in 35 hours better than many months under the old system using the same amount of fuel per day that a common kill consumes. The certificate of a number of resident mechanics well known in this community is amply sufficient to convince the most sceptical of its utility. ### HOSTETTERS CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, Corrective and Alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Cares. Dyspepsia. Liver Complaint, Headache General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Consupation, Colic. Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all

Complaints of either Sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

----Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and re storative in its nature enters into the composition of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsam c herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forcarmed against disease, and o far as the human system can be protected by homan means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, Impure water and other external causes. Hostetter's Bitters may be relied on as a safeguard In districts infested with Fener and Agne, it has been found it fallible as a preventive and irresis-tible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of on attack escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance are cured by a very brief course of this marvel-ous medicine Fever and Ague patients after being plied with quinine for months in vain until fairly satured with that dangerous a kaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of Hastetter's Bitters The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated an the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Di-pepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a geotic and painless apperrent, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feebte habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languar find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is most conclusive and from both sexes.

The agony of Billious Colic is immediately assnaged by a single dose of the stimulent and by occasionally resorting to it the return of the com plaint may be prevented effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age t exercises the electric influence. In the convaescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-es tablish them.
As a General Tonic, Hostetter's Betters produce

Last, but not least, it is the only safe Stimuleut being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonies and stomachies of the day

The immense increase in the sale of Hostetter'

Bitters, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things" only Holds fast to that which is good." preparations, like poisonous fungi are continually springing up but their character is soon disovered, and they are "flung like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is ment should call and examine my stock not for a day, but for all time."

No family medicine has been so universally and. it may be truly added. deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as Hoselet. at very low figures. tetter's Bitters Prepared by Hostetter & Smith. Pittsburg Pa. Sold by all Druggists Grocers and Storekeepers
