

CLEARFIELD, PA., MAY 10, 1865.

THE NEWS.

A dispatch from New Orleans states that the Rebel ran Webb ran past that city on the afternoon of the 24th ult. At first she displayed Union colors but afterward substituted Confederate. She was then fired upon and a 125 pound ball passed through her bow.

Arizona advices of the 12th of April mention another fight with the Apaches, in which 12 Indians were killed, and one soldier killed and one wounded. The Indians fled. Gilbert W. Hopkins, a member of the Arizona Legislature; Carlos W. Smith, one of the officers of that body, and several other whites had lately been murdered by the Indians.

A letter has been found in Richmond, which proves the fact, that the steamer J. H. Russel, destroyed on the Mississippi in April 1864, was set on fire by an incendiary employed by one Stimson, under contract with the rebel authorities. The vessel and cargo was valued at $307,250, and several Stimson claimed a percentage of $55,725.

The Copperhead Commissioners of York county, Pa., refused to allow the County Court House to be draped in mourning, on the death of President Lincoln, who lost his life through the teachings of just copperheads as those commissioners. The people took the matter in hand and draped the Court House, nevertheless.

Charles P. Clarke, who has been teller in the Commercial Bank of Philadelphia for fifteen years, absconded on May 23, being a defaulter to the amount of $300,000. Speculation, intending to return the money after he had used it, is the excuse for the default.

About 2,000 more paroled prisoners were at Vicksburg when the Sultana left. 3,000 others were left at Andersonville in consequence of the railroad being destroyed between Andersonville and Jackson. They will be sent to Annapolis by way of the sea.

Oregon papers mention the hanging of fifteen horse thieves and highwaymen in Walla and Boise counties by lynch law within a short time. The vigilance committees had a list of one hundred and fifty rogues who will be driven out of the county or punished.

Wade Hampton was the only General who refused to be included in Johnston's surrender. He was promptly relieved, and Gen. Baker put in command of his cavalry. Hampton left with Davis and Breckinridge, who are said to be making for Mexico.

It is said that many citizens of Virginia intend moving to the Northern States in the hope of so merging in the general population as to escape the odium that attaches to them on account of their rebel proclivities. The infantry portion of Gen. Stoneman's command is cleaning the mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee of bushwhackers, guerrillas and horse thieves, and they are making clean work of it.

A number of unemployed Generals will soon be mustered out of service. It is contemplated to retain only about fifteen Major and sixty Brigadier Generals, and one hundred and fifty Colonels.

The rebel ram Webb, ran out of Red river at a speed 35 miles an hour. Before starting she took on 250 cords of wood, and 50 tons of pine knots. So says one who was on board.

A steamer running on the Rappahannock was captured on May 1st, and proved to have several kegs of specie on board, which had been stolen in Richmond.

The surrender of Johnston includes sixty-six general officers, ranking as follows: Full Generals 3, Lieut. Generals 5, Maj. Generals 20, Brig. Generals 38. A proclamation will soon issue, declaring vessels sailing under Confederate flags, pirates. They are to be pursued, and if captured, treated as such.

Ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, it is said was arrested by order of President Johnson, based on his refusal to take the oath of allegiance.

Admiral Chas. H. Bell, late of the Pacific Squadron, has been placed in command at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Vice Admiral Paulling retired.

Between three and four hundred millions of U. S. securities have found their way into the hands of foreign capitalists—principally Germans.

Mining business is prosperous in California. The deposits in the mint during April were about $2,225,000. The crops also look well.

Eleven hundred and sixty-five National Banks are now in operation, with a capital of two hundred and sixty-five millions. The subscription to the seven-thirty loan, amounted to $5,231,100 on Monday, May 2d. Pretty good day work.

Chief Justice Chase has gone South to reorganize the United States Courts in the rebellious States. A monument in memory of President Lincoln is proposed to be erected in Washington city.

The order, prohibiting the exportation of hay has been rescinded by order President Johnson. Visitors to Fortress Monroe must go by the Baltimore boats.
