CLEARFIELD, PA., MAY 17, 1865.

THE NEWS.

An Indianapolis dispatch of May 9th, mys: Major General Hovey, by authority from Washington, has issued orders for the execution of Bowles, Miliken and Harvey, convicted of treason by a Court Marshal some months since. They will be hanged on the 19th May. These unfortunate men belonged to the "Sons of Liberty," a treasonable organization for the destruction of the government, which, with the organization known as "the Democratic Castle," are but the outcroppings of the 'Knights of the Golden Circle." Thus should traitors always pay the penalty of a violated law.

Charles E. Clark, defaulting paying teller of the Commercial Bank of Philadelphia, who recently absconded after defrauding the bank out of $300,000, was arrested on May 8th, at Scranton, Pa. He is to be taken to Philadelphia, for trial. It is understood that he will make a statement implicating a number of accomplices in the defalcation, among whom it is said are several prominent operators in stocks and gold.

The largest subscriptions to the 7-30 loan, on any two days, were made on 9th and 10th of May. On the 9th $15,165,300, and on 10th $17,410,100. The largest single subscription on the 9th was made by Fitch & Hatch of New York, $5,259,400; and the largest on the 10th by the Ninth National Bank of New York, $3,121,450.

ALL but four of the encirling line of forts about Washington are to be immediately dismounted, their garrisons withdrawn and dismissed, and everything appertaining to this enormous, expensive branch of defensive warfare is to be put upon the the general retrenchment path.

When Johnston surrendered he had about 50,000 troops, but of these not more than 30,000 waited to be parolled-the others having stolen all the horses they could from their officers, started for their homes across the country, plundering on their way.
