CLEARFIELD, PA., JUNE 14, 1865.

HARD ON JEFF.

Oh, may that cuss, Jeff Davis, float
On open sea, in open boat.
In Iceland cold, without a coat.
Glory Hallelujah!
Without a compass, sail, or oar
A million miles away from shore,
Where mighty waves, like mountains, roar,
Glory Hallelujah!

May sharks devour him stem and stern,
A whale engulf him down in turn;
And the devil get the whole concern,
Glory Hallelujah!
Oh, may the cursed traitor dwell
In darkest pits of deepest hell,
And gnash his teeth, and groan and yell,
Glory Hallelujah!

And 'mid his roars and frantic cries,
Oh, may eternal ashes rise,
And blow forever in his eyes,
Glory Hallelujah!
In burning brimstone may he be,
While little birds dance in glee,
Then lock the door and lose the key,
Glory Hallelujah!

THE NEWS.

We learn from Mexico, by way of Havana, that the attack on Matamoros by the Republicans had proved a failure, a reinforcement of the foreign legion having arrived and turned the struggle in favor of the imperialists. Negrette fell back upon Monterrey. Mexico appears to be in a state of great confusion. Bands of guerrillas infest many districts and keep the country in terror. Frequent encounters between the foreign troops and Republicans have taken place, resulting generally in the defeat of the latter.

It seems to be shown upon satisfactory evidence that Dr. Blackburn, the hideous devil of yellow fever notoriety, did actually introduce that pestilence into Newbern last summer. A great number of women and children were thereby murdered; and yet this Blackburn walks the earth, and human beings speak to him, and feed him, and wait upon his orders, and the earth swallows neither him nor them. The age of miracles is indeed past.

Mexican emigration, which is but another name for filibustering, has suddenly cooled off, both in New York and on the other shore of the continent. The grand headquarters in New York is deserted—the rush is over—and nobody has gone to Mexico.

Free labor is getting popular in North Carolina, and even the startling proposition to permit negroes to vote is discussed in all seriousness, and not one of its advocates seems to be in peril of his life. War makes wonderful changes.

A prominent rebel political leader declares that it will be necessary to disfranchise all who have taken part in the rebellion before the North can impress its ideas of State subordination and free labor upon the Southern people.

All the prisoners of war under the rank of Major are to be discharged, the officers to furnish bonds of good behavior.

It is stated by a Montreal paper that the Southern rebels have ten millions of dollars deposited in bank in that city.

The municipal election held in Washington June 5th, resulted in the defeat of the Democratic ticket.

The 25th corps, commanded by General Weitzel, has gone to Texas.
