Raftsman's Journal.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JULY 26, 1865.

THE NEWS.

Farmers are too apt to shrink from the very mention of science. But what is it? Why it is based entirely upon observation is constantly passing around us. It does not dictate that such and such a thing shall be done so or so; it only steps in to answer our inquiries into the great law of existence in the animal and vegetable world. Science is based on unimpeachable facts. The truly scientific man is not a theorist. He must know absolutely and positively by the minutest observation and experience. Facts alone are the basis of all his deductions.

The bark from a number of apple trees having been knawed off by goats, the trees were saved in the following way, by a correspondent of The American Agriculturist. He says: I procured several newspapers, cut them into convenient strips for handling, and covered them with good boiled flour paste, wrapped several thicknesses, around the wounded parts of the trees, thus forming an artificial bark. My trees were covered with foliage during the Summer and Autum and I could not perceive any difference in them during the whole season. Others that were gnawed but not treated in this way all died.

Governor Welles, of Louisiana, we are credibly informed, has distinguished, his administration by turning men of unquestionable loyalty out of office, and filling the vacancies with returned rebel soldiers and bitter secessionists. In one instance, he ousted a loyal German from the office of sheriff and appointed in his place a man who had GREAT EXCITEMENT IN GLEN HOPE, PA not yet come within our lines. This is but one instance of a similar kind, for which Governor Welles will be called to account.

Northrop, the late rebel Commissary General, and now a prisoner in Castle Thunder, denies ex-Senator Foote's charge seeking to starve Union prisoners by withdrawing from them their usual ration of meat. Very likely. There has not been a definate charge of cruelty or outrage brought against rebels of note that has not been denied. They are all proper fellows.

The Hancock (O.) Jeffersonian is informed that C. L. Vallandingham has selected Wapakoneta, Auglaize county, as his place of residence during the summer. The same paper accuses him of having hopes of a seat in Congress from the Auglaize District, and accounts thus for the "change of base."

Trinity Church, New York.

The history of the real estate transactions of the Triuity Church corporation, says a New York journal, would make an interesting and readable volume, extending from the days of King William the Third and Queen Anne to the present day. The land owned by Trinity was in the time of William known as the King's Farm, and the endowment was made for the purpose of providing for the Church of England in New York. The estate originally consisted of two thousand and sixty-eight lots, of which, since the year 1748, three hundred and eighteen lots have been given away, six hundred and ninety-nine remain, and one thousand and fifty-nine have been sold. The six hundred and ninety-one lots now owned by Trinity, which are all occupied by various buildings, are located in Barelay street, Broadway, Barrow street, Broome street, Clarkson street, Charlton street, Clark street, Chambers street, Canal street, Desbrosses street, Dominick street, Fulton street, Greenwich street, Hamersley street, Harrison, street King street, Morton street, Murray street, Renwick street, Reade street, Spring street, Sulvian street, Varick street, Vestry street, Vesey street, Vandam street, Watts street, Washington street, and Warren street. Nearly all the leases of the lots in these streets, which were made before the Revolution, will expire in a few years, and revert back to the corporation. It is estimated that the property of Trinity will then be worth more than twenty-five millions of dollars. It cannot be said to be badly stricken with poverty if this valuation approximates near the truth. But the corporation has on several occasions found it hard to make both ends meet at the end of a year. According to the testimony of General Dix, ex-Governor Bradish, R. B. Minturn, and others, her expenditures exceeded her income at various times by from nine thousand two hundred and twenty-six dollars and ninety-four cents to fifty-one thousand three hundred and sixty-eight dollars and fortysix cents. At one time it was proposed that the property be so disposed off as to provide for the various Episcopal churches of the city which might be in need; but the Clothin of all kinds for men and boys, at sensabill, after a passage in the Senate, met with a negative at the hands of the Assembly, and the matter was dropped. Notwithstanding the miles of real estate under the control of the corporation, the church is said to be poor; and, in support of the fact it is stated that bills for ringing the bells of Trinity on national festivals have been presented to the Common Council, and that part of the old graveyard in Hudson street, between Clarkson and Leroy streets, belonging to Trinity, is to be sold.

Mr. Astor's lease, obtained in 1767, expires on the 1st of May, 1866, and the property will go back to Trinity. He had three hundred and sixty-six lots at the low price of seventy-five cents each. The lots are situated in Charlton street, King street, Hudson street, Vandam street, Hamerslev street. Varick street, Greenwich street, and Spring street. Mr. Astor pays Trinity church two hundred and sixty-nine dollars per annum for all the lots, being seventy-five cents for each. If we estimate the rental from each building on these lots, at the low average of five hundred dollars, the fortunate leaseholder must receive, on an invested capital of two hundred and sixty-nine dollars, an income of one hundred and sixty-eight thousand dollars per annum. Some of the buildings, however, are let at higher rates. At least, Mr. Astor is no loser by the con-
