SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY—the new advertisements. Read them.

THE WEATHER. - During the past week the weather has been rather unpleasantwet and mud prevailing most of the time.

POCKET PICKED.-W. P. Waream, of Lewistown, who was returning from Williamsport, had his pocket picked, at Tyrone, of $550, several days ago.

New Church.-We understand that the Presbyterian congregation in this place, intend to commence the erection of their new church edifice next summer. It is to be a most elegant building, and will be an ornament to our borough.

To BE REMOVED. -We learn that the Drug Store of Dr. Hartswick is to be removed to the old store room of Richard Mossop, which is being fitted up for that purpose-a most excellent business location. Dr. Hartswick has associated with him Lieut. John F. Irwin, and the business will hereafter be conducted under the firm title of Hartswick & Irwin. We wish them suc-

THE RAILROAD. - We this week publish. in our advertising columns, a resolution of the Sanly-Lick 'Railroad company, setting forth the intention of the company to put under contract, so soon as the locating is finished six miles of the road east from Clearfield and six miles west from Philips burg. This looks like, going to work in earnest; and, it is to be hoped, that the Directors will push the work forward vigorously, and that the road will be completed at IMPROVEMENTS.-We observed several days since, that the elegant brick house of is an ornament to that part of our town. The dwelling house of Isaiah Barger, Esq., is finished, and the work on that of L. R. Merrell progressing. We also notice that the walls, of the brick residence of Wm. V. Wright, Esq., on Market street, are going up rapidly. We are pleased to notice this spirit of improvement, as houses are very much needed in our borough. Would it not be well for some of our capitalists to erect a number of tenant houses?

FATAL ACCIDENT. - On Thunsday morning, October 19th, Wm. A. Thomas, Jr. was killed by falling down the shaft of the iron mines, near Harvey Manu's age facto. ry, in Centre county. Mr. Thomas had stepped into the bucket to descend the shaft about tifty feet deep, and paused to reach for a drill he desired to carry down for him The bucket being fastened to a rope by a key, which had been imperfectly inserted. by his leaning to one side, was suddenly de tached, and Mr. Thomas fell with it to the bottom of the shaft. He was taken out totally unconcious and died a short time afterwards. Three miners who were in the bottom of the shaft were more or less injured. none dangerously, however.

The carriage in which the late President, and his family, rode to Ford's Theatre on coach, and was presented to the late President by a committee of gentlemen in 1861. Crowds of people visit the locality darly to view this relic, and among them a great many soldiers. One of these war-worn veterans with a wooden leg, while examining it shed tears. He stood and looked at it for some time, then went over and kissed the cloth which hung from the driver's seat. "Heaven rest his soul!" exclaimed the poor fellow. His lips then moved as if in silent prayer for some moments, and after again imprinting a kiss on the cloth he hobbled away. The incident was very affecting, as the crippled soldier was once the recipient of a personal favor at the hands of the Martyr Pres-

The persistency of President Johnson in having the rebel debt repudiated by the South, is not likely to raise him in the estimation of those in England, who invested gence represented those creditors as not entirely hopeless, and as about "funding" the debt they hold. Precisely what this means, under the circumstances, is not so clear, but we presume that it is putting the rebel debt in a shape where it will keep well. President Johnson is doing the same thing, and we think that his way is the best.

E. A. Pollard, editor of the late Richmond Examiner, has published a letter, in which he stigmatizes Gen. Lee and other Southern men who have petitioned the President for pardon, and characterizes the prevading tone and spirit of the South, as pusillanimous. The design of the effort is to irritate the South into sending ineligible men to Congress, in order to initiate a fresh agitation. It will be found, too, before long, that the best preventive for this agitation is the irritation of the necks of such traitors as Pollard with homp ropes.

The Trial of Jeff. Davis at Lond. It has transpired that as early as in 140 ust last, it was decided at a Calumet meeting to proceed with the trigiof JEFF. DAVIS on the charge of treason, and the conclusion of the trial of Winzbas been waited for to commence the husiness. Those who have been expending their indignation over the delay, fancied faithleseness to piedges and the want of back bone in the the President and the administration, are again admonished of the folly and injustice of rushing to conclusions without knowledge and we now perceive how precisely right were those who have all along said that the Government could not be expected to expose everything in advance, but that it must be trusted, at least till it had proved it elf unworthy of confidence. Some men there are, who will never learn anything, - but it does seem that this new adaffairs of government there may be many things not confided to their keeping, which in due time will come forth, discomfiting those who could not restrain their impatience and putting to shame others who indulged in their distrust.

The trial, it is asserted, will be before the Supreme Court at Washington, Chief Justice CHASE presiding, and it is said further, that Davis will be tried as it still a U.S. Senator; his State having nullified, and not repealed the ordinance of secession. At any rate, the charge will be treason, and the specifications few in number. A New York Herald special says:

The purpose of the Government is not merely to punish Davis, but to define the nature of treason fix its punishment, reveal the cruelties of which it has been the fruitful source, and establish a legal precedent for the future, which will be a terror to traitors hereafter, and forever disgrace the treason which for a time was respectable by reason of its power and formidable proportions.

The Attorney General has selected the counsel to aid him in the prosecution, and Mr. Davis has been allowed to select his at-torney. Mr. Speed will be assisted in the prosecution by Major General Lovelt H. Rousseau of Kentucky, Hon. Wm. M. Evarts of New York, and Hon. John H. Cliftord of Massachusetts. Mr. Evarts disputes with Charles O'Couner, the principal lawyer of Mr. Davis, for the front rank among the lawyers of New York. He is probably the ablest criminal lawyer retained in the case. As a strong Republican, he was the Seward-Weed candidate for the Senate, when it was understood that Senator Morgan was to be appointed Secretary of the Treasury. He has never held any political office, though he has been prominent in polities. Mr. Clif-Wm. Powell, Esq., in the North part of ford was Attorney General of Massachusetts, ting with the rebels, abandoning his own our borough was approaching completion. General Rousseau and Mr. Speed are well known to the publie. Charles O'Connor will be assisted by Ramson H. Gillett, formerly Solicitor of the Treasury in Buchanan's days. It is stated that Mr. Davis declares his intenion to conduct his case in person. - Pittsburg Commercial

> The Cause of the late Railroad Accident Mystery.

The cause of the late railroad accident is as much a mystery to day as when it occur Neither wheel nor axie of the car in which the passengers were killed was broken. Not a rail or cross tie was displaced at the point where the truck left the truck. The ties and rails there are to-day just as they were found when the wreek was remov-The whool with the broken flange, hich was at first supposed to have cause he accident, was afterwards found to be or to a year ear in which up one war injur-This fact is known by the registereach wheel being marked and registere when it is put on. Thus the wheels of the ear "126" were registered "6-1865," ng that they were put in the truck in June; 1865, which would not indicate that they were "unfit for use" by long wear. It could not have been caused by an obstrucand four cars passed over in safety, the accident occurring to the 5th or middle car.

There remain then but two theories on which to account for this sad easualty. One is that one of the brake-blocks had become detached and dropped down, causing the the night of his assassination, has arrived | wheel to "jump" the track. The other is in New York, and is now on exhibition in that the wheels became loose on the axle, and Broadway. It is a plain old fashioned spreading climbed the rail and went off. This theory is disputed by pratical men who have examined the axle. From the marks of the wheel on the ground, it would seem that the front wheel of the truck jumped the track and sheered off transversely, swinging the track around. A farmer who wit nessed the accident from the roadside, says it seemed as if the end of the car rose eight or ten feet and came down with a crash. No doubt the truck was upset by the surge, throwing the car up and as it came down the jeet to my order truck forced out that portion of the bottom struck by it, which carried away three seats on each side with those who sat upon them.

THE POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT. - We are informed that on the summing up of the accounts of the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1865, the excess of receipts over expenditures is found to be more than $850,000. This is the first time in the history of that department that so favorable a financial exhibit has been made and though a portion of this retrenchment is due to the increased number of letters written and sent to and from the armies in the field, a considerable share of the credit their money in that way. The last intelli- is due to the economical and business-like manner in which the affairs of the Postoffice Department have lately been conducted, and the efficiency of the officers who have been engaged in the mail service. There is good reason to believe that after civil government is fully established in the Southern States, and that country is occupied by enterprising men from the North, the mail service of the whole country will be made self-sustaining. Under the system in augurated by the present Postmaster General such a result is almost certain. - Washington Chronicle.

Still In Ignerance.

The Doylestown Democrat of Oct. 25th, asks, with charming curiosity : "Will THE PRESS tell us what was, and what was not, decided in the late election?"

Answer -It was "decided" by over twenty thousand majority that the editor of the Doylestown Democrat could not be Auditor General of Pennsylvania, and that the people were not willing to confide the destinies of the State and country to a party which had no higher mission than to abuse an oppressed race, and to appologize for an accursed institution of which even the slaveholders were ashamed. It "decided" that the Republican or Union party was strong enough to defy all the misrepresentations of monition must teach most men that in the its opponents, and to discuss, without dissensions or irrevelence, all the great questions of the day, even if that will gratify The Democrat, to the assertion of the duty of defending the freedom against the cruelties and bigotry of those Northern politicians who continue to "ery havoe" upon the negro, notwithstanding their late masters stand ready to concede them many most material franchises. If the Democrat can prove that this means giving the colored people of the South the right of Suffrage, and making them socially the equals of the whites, it will have accomplished almost as much as when it attempted to make the voters believe that its editor was in earnest when he fought against a rebellion with which he sympathized .-Philadelphia Press.

FOLLOWING THE STATE. -We do not belleve it to be an excuse to an individual for rebellion that he followed his State. It is however, a palliation of the offence, at least as affording ground for the presumption that he committed it not altogether voluntarily. There is one conspicious rebel, to whom this palliation is not available, and that is J. C. Breekinridge. Contrary to his repeated declarations and assurences, he went into the rebellion against the deliberate and repeated decision of his State. There is a meanness, falsity and debasement in his case which exists in no other-an ex-Vice-President of the United States, a Senator hanging about Washington while plot-
