WORK AND THINK.

Hammer, tongs and anvils ringing,
Waking echoes all day long
In a deep-toned voice are singing
Thrifty Labor's iron song,
From a thousand fly-wheels bounding,
From a thousand humming looms.
Night and day the notes are sounding
Through the misty fact'ry rooms.
Listen' workmen to their playing. Hammer, tongs and anvils ringing,

Listen! workmen, to their playing-There's advice in every clink:
Still they're singing, still they're saying.
"While you labor, learn to think!"

Think what power lies within you, For what triumphs ye are formed, If, in aid of bone and sinew Hearts by emulation warmed. Mighty thoughts ye woo and cherish. What shall hlod your spirits down?

What shall make your high hopes perish
Why shall ye mind Fortune's frown?
Do ye wish for profit, pleasure?
Thirst at Learning's fount to drink? Crave ye honor, fame or treasure? Ye the germs have-work and think? Think ! but not alone of living. Like the horse from day to day;

Think! but not alone of giving Health for pelf, or soul for pay! Think! Oh, be machines no longer-Engines made of flesh and blood! Think! 'twill make you fresher, stronger; Link you to the great and good ! Thought exalts and lightens labor, Thought forbids the soul to sink! Self respect and love for neighbor Mark the men who work-and think

Think! and let the thoughts now nerve you, Think of men who've gone before; Leaving 'lustrious names to serve you; Yours the path they've plodded o'er! Freedom fights and wins her charter With the sword of thought-the pen !

Tyranny can find no quarter In the ranks of thinking men, Think ! for thought's a wand of power-Power to make oppression shrink; Grasp ye, then, the precious dower! Poise it—wield it—learn to think!

Hold your heads up toiling brothers : Mongst us be it ne er forgot, Labor, for ourselves and others, Is for man a noble lot; Nobler far and holier, higher,

Than vain luxury can claim, If but zeal and worth inspire, And true greatness be our aim, If we gain that boon, the leaven, Power, that forms the strongest link

'Twixt an upright soul and Heaven; That noblest power—the power to think!

GAMBLING.

A confirmed gambler is seldom reformed. It is far easier to turn a drunkard from his cups, and quench his thirst from the exciting draught, than to establish a new principle of action in the breast of one who has given himself up to this passion for unlawful gain. But there are some novices in the business to whom a few words of warning may be profitably uttered:

1. Gambling is immoral! It debauches the moral sense, and is the prolific author of many crimes. A man who earns his money in an honest calling, can look the whole a fair equivalent for what he has gained. the most economical. S. J. ROW, Agent.

But a man who invests either in steels or a

June 21, 1865.

Clearfield, Pa But a man who invests either in stocks or a lottery ticket simply for the chance of a speculative gain, can never feel that he has lawfully acquired the increase it may bring to him until his views of right and wrong are formed on a model and by a standard far below those principles that are eternal. This is of itself sufficient to pervert his judgment, blunt his moral perception, and corrupt his whole nature. Thus abased, he will, as means to an end, be guilty of forgery, falsehood and theft, not because he de-liberately intends to commit these foul crimes, but because he is infatuated in his purpose, and thinks only of success.

2. Gambling, even in its lightest form, is a very evil example. A wealthy man "takes a flyer" in stocks as a mere pastime. and for the sake of excitement, as a card player will name a small stake to give interest to his game. It matters little to him, perhaps, whether he gains or loses. But the young clerk, who follows his example, is risking, it may be, the happiness of his life on the issue of his adventure. Those who lead in this fearful game, may be reckless of those who follow, but they cannot thro' endless years, wash themselves clean of the fatal blood which falls upon their garments from those who perish just behind them, following, as they thought in honorable foot-

3. The chances are always against the gambler. For every one who draws a prize in a lottery, there are thousands of silly superstitious fools who handle only the blanks. In stock gambling the game is a little less desperate, but even here the adverse chances are always the greatest. Among those who are adepts, and who may be said to jars, and filling one to the brim with liquid, empty it into the next and so on round the circle: it will not be long before the bulk circle; it will not be long before the bulk will be wasted. This is even more palpable in stock gambling. We estimate that it costs about fifteen million dollars to support the principal operators in the New York stock market, including their rent, clerk hire, and personal and family expenses. This must all be lost by some outside dealers before even these professionals can accumulate any commission or other savings. If to be sunk before the profits and losses on a varied assortment of furniture, among which is, mere speculative operations can be equal.

4. The chances against an unprofessional gambler are fearfully great. Here and there one may be left with a full purse as a stoolpigeon to decoy others, but the majority are plucked in the regular way of business as clean as a scalded fowl. Most green operators know less about stocks than a man who was never in a stable does about a horse; and yet they are led right into the game and lay down their money with all the swagger of veterans. The toolish servant girl who dreams out her lucky numbers, or finds them by counting the grains of tea in her cup, has far more rational grounds for the investment, and can give better reasons for it, than most speculators can show for their turn in the share market. We never knew even a professional stock gambler who continued long at the business, and died with a large fortune thus gathered But the merchants, bankers, artisans and clerks to say nothing of the mere idlers, who play at this game, are working always against the tide, and are sure to go down the stream at last. These remarks are intended to be personal, and we hope each one of our readers will so consider them. - Journal of Commerce.

THE KIDNEYS.

The kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat, and consisting of terior, and the exterior.

The anterior absorbs; the interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine, and convey it to the exterior; the exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tute, and called the ureter; the ureters are connected

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts viz: the upper, the lower, the nervous, and the mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability, others u-rinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected Gravel and Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware that, however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated Extract of Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water; Scanty secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Stranguary, or stopping of water; Hæmaturia or bloody urine; Gout and Rhematism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr Physick in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous siness men of the county is respectfully solicited depositions and all annatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflamation, are reduced, and is Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of

PHILADELIZADA, Pa., Feb. 25, 1857 H. T. HELMBOLD, Puggist:

Dear Sir: -- I have been a sufferer, for upwards of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which lime I have used various medicinal preparationS, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but Having seen your preparations ex-tensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy As you advertised that it was composed of BUCHU, CUBERS, and JUNIPER BERRIES, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an exam-ination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist. I conculuded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time was confined to my room. From the first bot-I was connied to my room. From the first bot-tle I was astonished and gratified at the benefi-cial effect, and arter using it three weeks, was a-ble to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you und more satisfactory to me

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system. I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.
