Rev. Semberow will preach in the Baptist church, on Sunday evening, Jan. 21st.

THE "TRIBUNE ALMANAC," for sale at the Raftsmen's Journal office.

BANK DIVIDEND.—The stockholders of the First National Bank of Clearfield, at their meeting on Saturday the 13th, declared a dividend of 6 per cent. clear of tax, after withholding 10 per cent. for a reserve fund.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—We observe by the last issue of the Lewistown Gazette, that Mr. Over has sold out the establishment to Messrs. G. & R. Fryberger. The Gazette was ably conducted by Mr. Over, and we presume will lose none of its interest and usefulness under the editorial management of its present editors.

NEW FIRM.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that our friend Adam C. Flanigan, has entered into partnership with A. K. Wright, in the mercantile business. Adam is an excellent salesman, an accommodating and clever business man, and will do his utmost to please all who may favor him with their custom. Give him a call.

SNOW.—About four inches of snow fell on Monday night, Jan. 14th, which had the effect of making timber-hauling quite brisk. The season, so far, has been very unfavorable for the usual supply of timber, and should there be a scarcity of snow for the balance of the winter the quantity will fall considerably short of what it has been for several years. But, the less timber there is to run the better the price.

GREELEY'S AMERICAN HISTORY.—The second volume of Greeley's History of the War, is rapidly approaching completion and will be issued about the 1st of April, 1866. We mention this fact, for the reason that reports are being circulated that it will not be issued, for the purpose of injuring its popularity. We are assured that it will be issued at the time above stated, and will be ready for delivery shortly thereafter.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—We are indebted to Hon. E. Cowan, of the U. S. Senate, for several valuable public documents.

Hon. G. W. Scofield, of the National House of Representatives, has our thanks for several documents of general interest.

Hon. J. K. Moorhead, member of Congress, will also accept our thanks for several interesting public documents.

Hon. C. R. Early, of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, will also accept our thanks for like favors.

CHICKERING'S PIANOS.—Sitting in the New York Academy of Music, at the last Philharmonic concert, we were particularly charmed with the piano performance. Mr. Hoffman is well-nigh an intangible player, but certain it is that the best of players cannot make good music except upon a good instrument. From Chickering's piano, which was played on that occasion, every run, scale, phrase, or isolated note, reached our ears in its perfect integrity. Not a sound was lost, from the most delicate chromatic scale or pianissimo trills. This is not the case with all pianos. Those from many other factories, although possessing many fine points, are yet unequal in tone, and the base not infrequently entirely drowns the treble. The listener misses the clear, bell-like, silvery sweetness of a genuine Chickering, which makes this piano so great a favorite in the parlor, and was so highly appreciated by Thalberg and Gottschalk. They are the piano fit for a musical poet. The great reputation which the Chickering has earned during the past forty years, is well deserved.—New York Independent.

Miss E. A. P. Rynder, Clearfield, Pa., is agent for the sale of the above instrument.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We learn that, on Wednesday, January 10th, William Johnston, of Jordan township, aged about 25 years, was so seriously injured by being thrown from a sleigh, that he died on Thursday the 11th. The circumstances are as follows: Mr. Johnston having just recovered from a sickness of several weeks, and observing that his horse required shoeing, hitched into a sleigh and drove to a blacksmith-shop and had the horse shod; after which he started for home. Some half hour afterwards Mr. J. was found lying on the road side, about 80 rods from the blacksmith shop, in an insensible condition. Upon examination into the probable cause of the accident, it would seem that in going down the hill the horse ran away and threw the deceased out of sleigh, and that he held on to the lines and was dragged some twenty yards when his head came in contact with a rock with sufficient force to fracture the skull. Mr. J. remaining in an insensible condition until he died, nothing was elicited from him in reference to the occurrence; and hence, the manner in which he received the fatal blow is only inferred from the fact that some hair was found adhering to the neck. He was a worthy young man, and will be deeply mourned by his relations and friends.

"WESTERN HEMISPHERE."—The 23 number of this new weekly, published at Tyone, Pa., was issued on January 10th. Price, $2 per annum in advance.

PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENTS.—THE CAMPBELL AND CASTLE CONCERT.—The concert given by these artists at the Academy last evening, Mr. J. W. Morgan, in addition to the accompaniments, played in excellent style an "Andante Capriccio" of his own composition on the Steingway Grand which he used during the evening. Mr. Sanderson, with better judgment, chose to have a Chickering Grand. Both instruments occupied equally good positions on the stage, and were played upon alternately—thus giving a perfectly fair chance to judge of their respective merits. The contrast in all points of excellence was so marked in favor of the Chickering instrument that if the Steingways will take our advice they will never again provoke so close a comparison.—Brooklyn Daily Union, of December 13th, 1865.

Miss E. A. P. Rynder, Clearfield, Pa., is agent for the Chickering piano.

"WEEK OF PRAYER."—The week of prayer was duly observed in this place, according to appointment. The ministers, and the members of the several Christian churches, generally, attended and engaged in the exercises, with manifest interest. It is, indeed, a sublime spectacle to see the people throughout the world lay aside their sectarian and denominational opinions and ideas, and unite as a great brotherhood in petitioning their Heavenly Father for the conversion of sinners. There is no doubt that this harmonious and united effort to improve the spiritual condition of mankind will have the much desired effect, and that many who are now hastening on the way to eternal destruction and misery will be reclaimed from the error of their ways. So may it be!

AN EXPLANATION.—Since Mr. B. M. Greene and myself have both advertised as claiming the sole agency of Messrs. Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs, I have concluded to publish the following letter, which will explain the mistake made by the firm in New York. No blame attaches to either, as my orders for instruments were always sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, and the New York firm consider Pennsylvania their territory. But as it will be an advantage to my patrons in the saving of freight, and no disadvantage in any way, I have allowed him to retain his agency, and consented to act as agent for the Pianos he advertises, as well as the Organs—still retaining my own agencies. Descriptive circulars and price lists sent upon application, and any desired information concerning either Organs or Pianos will be promptly and cheerfully given by me. Organs and melodious constantly on hand for exhibition and sale. E. A. P. RYNDER.

NEW-YORK, December 19th, 1865.
MISS RYNDER: When in Pennsylvania, a few weeks since, I gave Mr. Greene the county, not knowing that Clearfield had any agent. But, you can keep on selling just the same. I have written to Mr. Greene about it, and all will be well. We are very sorry that anything of the kind should have happened, but the man who made out my list of unoccupied counties, gave me Clearfield among the number, as it was given by our Boston house. Hoping you are, and that you will continue to be prosperous, we are Yours, very truly, MASON BROS., per. J. W. C.

CLIPPINGS AND SCRIBBLINGS.
Fickle—the weather.
A "mutual friend"—money.
Not a popular night—the night-mare.
To remove stains from the character—get rich.
Died—alady aged 106 years, at St. Louis last week.
Killed by the plague—forty thousand cattle, in England.
Tin—silver and golden weddings are benedict nights for married beggars.
Issued—by the War Department, an order, to muster out 1,022 general officers.
There are but two survivors of all those who participated in the Revolutionary war.
A new set of pretended friends—they make much of you, to make a good deal out of you.
In one of the letters opened at the "read-letter office" in Washington were 20,000 in bonds.
Being asked—a wag—what kind of wood he supposed the Freedmen's Bureau was made of, replied, Elong.
The hardest thing to hold in the world is an unruly tongue. It beats a hot smoothing iron and a kicking horse.
The young lady who fainted away has been told by her family, that it would be more delicate for her to faint at home.
He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself, for every man will not interfere with you, and you will not interfere with the harder sell, the white or black? Guess de white race, 'cause many of 'em are copperheads.
Put on a new dress—the Pittsburgh Gazette last week. It is the oldest, and one of the best papers in Western Pennsylvania.
Forbidden to sell anything but stale bread—the bakers in Quebec; the medical faculty having decided that new bread promotes cholera.
Expresses the opinion—Hall's Journal of Health, "backbone cakes contain more nourishment for less money than any other article of food."
Some people are never abreast of the age. They dive into the stream of the past and don't come up again; their heads stick in the mud at the bottom.
Charles Lamb, when a little boy, walking in a church yard with his sister, and reading epigrams, said to her, "Mary, where's all the naughty people buried?"
A great man, being asked "Pharoah's serpents" are for sale at some of our business places. Our devil thinks if these "serpents" are any connection of the copperhead breed the eggs should be destroyed.
Exchange.
A fact—had men are never completely happy, although possessed of everything that this world can bestow; and good men are never completely miserable, although deprived of everything that the world can take away.
A Greek maid, being asked what fortune she would bring her husband, replied: "I will bring him what gold cannot purchase—a heart unspotted, a virtue without stain, which is all that descends to me from my parents."
Them—A man, in stopping his paper recently, wrote: "I think folks don't opt to spend their money on papers, my father never did, an' every body sad he was the smartest in the kountree, and had got the intelligentest family of boys; but ever dicker taters."
The rebellious South are now kicking at the doors of Congress and begging to come in! That it will be opened no doubt. But it should be remembered that they themselves closed the door unceremoniously in 1861. They fought hard for five years to keep it closed. Suppose we now insist upon five years of praying! Would it not be fair?
MARRIED: On Dec. 31st, 1865, at the residence of the bride's sister, in Jersey City, N. J., by Rev. W. H. Parmy, Mr. JOHN F. FULMER, formerly of this county, to Miss LOUISA NEWHAM.
We thank the happy couple for the "greenback" that accompanied the above; and may peace, plenty, and happiness ever be their lot.

DIED:
On Monday, January 8th, 1866, Mrs. LYDIA WILSON, of Cawwensville, aged about 82 years.

On January 7th, 1866, of typhoid fever, Mrs. CATHARINE, wife of H. B. Baily, of Union township, aged 37 years, 8 months, and 6 days.

At the residence of his mother, in Clearfield, on Monday night, Jan. 15th 1866, of consumption, RICHARD S. FLANIGAN, aged 23 years, 5 months and 2 days. The deceased was working at the printing business in Pittsburg, where he took sick, some seven weeks since. His decline was rapid. His brother, on being informed of his situation, went for him on Saturday a-week, and brought him to his mother's house on Monday evening—just one week previous to his death. Richard was a young man of considerable proficiency in his business, industrious, and with rather a bright future before him. His death will be deeply mourned by his mother, sisters and brothers; and much regretted by many in this community. Peace to his remains.
