FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING. The dew lay glittering on the grass,

A mist lay over the brook. At the earliest beam of the golden san The swallow her nest 'orcook. The snowy blooms of the hawthorn tree Lay thickly the ground adorning. The birds were singing in every bush At five o'clock in the morning.

Bessie, the milkmaid, merrily sang. For the meadows were fresh and fair-The breeze of the morning kissed her brow. And play'd with her nut brown hair;

But oft she turned and looked around, As if the silence scorning ; 'Twas time for the mower to whet his scythe. At five o'clock in the morning.

Over the meadows the mowers came.

And merry their voices rang. And one among them weaded his way To where the milkmaid sang : And as he lingered by her side.

Despite his contrades' warning. The old, old story was told again At five o'clock in the morning.

The Amendment.

We presume it may be regarded as settled that the Northern States will not call extra sessions of the Legislature to ratify the proposed amendments to the Constitution. The Executives have generally conferred on the subject, and they have, we believe, decided not to call their legislatures.

We think this decision a wise one. If the proposed amendments could be made part of the organic law before the first of January by extra sessions, we think it would Jesus are: have been best to hasten the result; but since it is reasonably certain that under no circumstances could the amendments be adopted by the requisite number of States during the current year, it is wise to submit the issue to the people.

The Democrats were most solicitous that extra sessions should be called, as it would | words: enable them to declaim against the expense, and the apparent unwillingness of the Union party to trust the people. They had their guns shotted to repel this advance of Freedom and Justice, and they will be seriously embarrassed by the failure to call extra sessions. They have good reason to missariat of Arts, attached to the French fear the people on the issue, and it will of necessity subordinate all other issues in the coming election. The proposed amendments therefore, go to the people and no human pover can prevent them from deciding in their favor by an overwhelming ma-

Doath Warrant of Christ. The Courrier des Etats Unis, of a late date, says : Chance has put into our hands the most imposing and interesting judicial the unanimous vote of every Republican document, to all Christians, that has ever in Congress. Its declarations are briefly been recorded in human annals; that is the identical death warrant of our Lord Jesus Christ. We transcribe the document from a copy of the translation :

The Issue.

The political issue for 1866, is presented in the Constitutional Amendment passed by these

States, and of the States wherein they re-

> 5. The National War Debt shall never be repudiated.

6. The Rebel War Debts shall never be assumed or paid.

7. No compensation shall be paid for the freed slaves.

The entire Copperhead delegation in both Houses of Congress voted olid against these propositions, and the Copperhead party throughout the country back them up in it. The issue, therefore, is fairly joined -and it is proper that every voter should

The N. Y. Herald on the Amendment. The New York Herald professes to be entirely satisfied with the Congressional scheme of reconstruction, as embraced in the constitutional amendments. It says that Congress has given the Republican party a powerful platform for the approaching fall elections. It describes the amendment thus

This amendment provides that all persons born or naturalized in the United States of all colors (except Indians not taxed,) are citizens thereof and of the States in which they live, and shall have equal protection members of the Commission of Arts. All these things are in the amendment which the State Legislatures will now be called upon to ratify, and no doubt every proposition will meet the approval of the great body of the people which carried the Government triumphantly through the fearful ordeal of the late southern rebellion. We trust the Herald will continue longer in support of the amendment than it did in support of the freedmen's bill. BIRDS IN JAPAN. - Birds are very kindly treated in Japan. They are never killed for sport ; and little troughs are scooped out in the tombstones, which pri-sts fill every morning with fresh water for drink. During the stay of Commodore Perry's ships, a number of officers started one day to go a gunning. As soon as the Japanese saw the cruel murder of their birds, they went to the Commodore and begged him to put a stop to such conduct. There was no more bird shooting in Japan by American officers after that; and when the treaty between the two countries was concluded, one condition of it was that the birds should be protected.

ABOMINABLE CRUELTY .- An official inquiry is going on as to the treatment of the sick in the Strand Union Infirmary in London, and some terrible facts are revealed. The wards are too small for the sick, and twenty-two of them are attended by one paid nurse and a number of paupers, many of whom cannot read, who steal the beer and wine allowed, sell the children's milk, and leave patients with bed sores unmoved for weeks. One woman stole gin from a dying man under pretense of turning him to attend to his sores, and the guardians threatened to reduce the doctor's salary because he complained of overcrowding. A good old Quaker, on his death-bed called his young son to his side, and gave him the following sensible advice: "My dear son, I must soon leave thee, but before I go, give heed to what I say. I want thee never to use vulgar language, never to swear, never to drink intoxicating liquors, never to steal, and above all never to permit thyself to be nominated for office by the Copperhead party, for good people will always abhor and condemn such means of vice and degradation."

the 4th elicited the most unbounded enthuwho had in charge the State flags. His presence was the signal of the most uproarous cheering all along the line of procession. At many points the crowds of soleiers and citizens who surrounded the hero stopped the progress of the march. At Sixth and Chestnut streets, the General could scarcely keep his saddle, so closely was he besieged by hands which had carried rifles and muskets where he led in the fray to crush rebellion. Altogether, it was a grand spectacle. It exhibited the true feeling of the people for the soldier, and was Geary speaking one of those pieces, the utterance of which so annoys the Copperheads.

How the heart leaps up to meet a sunshiny face, a merry tongue, an even temper, and a heart which either naturally, or, what is petter, from conscientious principle, has learned to take all for the purpose of bringing about a reathings on the bright side, believing that the Giver of life being all perfect love, the best offering we can make to Him is to enjoy to detached from the main body. the full what He sends of good, and bear what He allows of evil; like a child, who, when once it believes in its father, believes in all his doings with it, whether it under-

A young couple had been married by a Quaker Justice, and after the ceremony, remarked to the husband : "Friend, thou art now at the end of thy troubles." A few weeks after, the young man came to the good man, boiling with rage, (his wite was a regular vixen.) "I thought you told me that I was at the end of my troubles.' "So I did, friend, but I did not say which implying a fear either of not being believed end.'

Some children playing near Augusta, Ga. on the 2d, found a lump of gold weighing eleven ounces in a ravine, and several smaller lumps were picked up in the vicinity. On the 3d three more lumps, weighing respectively thirteen, nine and eight ounces, were found in the same place by the owner of the land.

The Copperhead papers take great pleasure in styling the present Congress, com-posed of the ablest and most patriotic men in the country, and representing the loyal millions whose sacrifices and patrlotic de-votion saved the country, the "Rump Con-gress." The term "Rump" would apply much better to the Democratic organization itself. At the opening of the war the mass of the Democratic party was embraced with in the limits of the Southern States, and composed the principal part of the material which inaugurated and carried on the rebellion. That which was left remaining of of the party at the North was a mere "rump" of the original concern, and an insignificant one at that. The great desire now expressed by the Northern Democracy to have their late allies represented in Congress, is nion of the broken parts, as it is impossible for the "ramp" to get along further while

It is indecent-offensive to delicacy, and extremely unfit for human ears. 6. It is foolish. "Want of decency is want of sense." It is abusive-to the mind that conceives it.

Ambrose A. Butts, of Auburn. Ohio, re-cently lifted a dead weight of 2.7373 pounds, cently lifted a dead weight of 2.7372 pounds, which is the greatest lifting feat on record. He has been practising at intervals during the last six years. Dr. Winship, for sever-al years past considered the strongest man in the world, at last accounts had lifted only 2,600 pounds.
