Zaftsman's Journal.

CLEARFIELD, PA., AUGUST 15, 1866.

The Leaders of Parties in New Orleans. A correspondent of the New York Evening Post thus describes the prominent men of the city which has just been the scene of one of the most atrocious riots that ever occurred in the annals of the country.

Dr. A. P. Dostie, one of the victims of she mob of restored and pardoned Secessionists in New Orleans, was a man whose purity of character, undoubted integrity and un-faltering devotion to patriotism, secured for him the respect even of those Secessionists who forced him, in common with all other well-known Union men, to fly for his life in the early days of the Rebellion. Returning at the first moment, Dr. Dostie devoted himself to creating a Union party, and was known as a "fanatie" in his intense zeal for the Union, his earnest efforts to promote the welfare and secure the citizenship of the negroes. In all public demonstrations of respect for the flag, Dr. Dostie was foremost, and few will ever forget the scene at the Opera House when he compelled the performance of the National airs, and insisted on hearing "Yankee Doodle," "Hail Columbia" and the "Star Spangled Banner." This exploit, however much it was criticised as out of taste and uncalled for at the time by timid Northern men, who sought to win their way to a golden prosperity as quietly as possible, was regarded by the Doctor himself as a conquest and substantial victory. It undoubtedly emboldened many among the Union men to openly declare themselves, and gave them new strength in the consciousness of the support of others. For the Unionists of New Orleans, as elsewhere in the South, were found among the poor, the despised—the working classes. The rich Southerners, the respectable people, were only fighting against the Union flag and were killing the — Yankees—the only appellation ever given by a genuine Secessionist to a Union man. Dr. Dostie, while untiring in his zeal, was free from personal malice, and never was known to attempt to retaliate for any personal threats or injuries received in the days of Secession by any denunciation of individuals during the rule of the Union Soldiery. On the other hand, numerous instances of his kindness to those who had been ready to hang him in those early days, are related by Secessionists. Whatever may have been thought of his extreme speeches and action at times, all will concede to him entire devotion to what he conceived to be the true welfare of humanity and the country. He has died as he would have chosen, a martyr in that cause.

John Henderson, Jr., was a lawyer of respectable rank, and a consistent Unionist. He was the son of John Henderson, many years Senator from Mississippi.

Michael Hahn is well known as the first elected Governor of Louisiana, holding also the appointment from Mr. Lincoln of Provisional Governor. His inauguration was the occasion of great rejoicing. He is a pressure at Washington was exerted so strong in tayor of the late Rebels and against the Union men. Lientenant Cagainst Directions for necessary and is Wells, who succeeded Hahn, on the first assuming power, gave great dissatisfaction to the Unionists, especially because he did not convene the Legislature, who were pledged to legalize negro suffrage, and a strong effort was made to have President Johnson set him aside by appointing General Banks as Provisional Governor when the Legislature would have been convened, and, it was confidently believed negro suffrage adopted. Since that time Governor Wells has been accused of alternately favoring and neglecting the Union men and the late Rebels.

Who Mayor Monroe is any one will know on reading the correspondence between the Mayor of New Orleans and the Commodore of the fleet when the city fell; also see an account of his interview with General Butler, as told by Parton. It is a sufficient statement of the present state of affairs that he was Mayor as soon as the reconstructed Rebels were allowed to vote, and pardoned by President Johnson in order to assume office. Look at his proclamation in regard to the Convention, and learn where the responsibility of these premeditated murders really lies.

Judge Abell, whose charge to the grand jury was made on the ground of the arrest of the members of the Convention is Judge of one of the District Courts of the city of New Orleans. A wrong-headed, smallbrained man, but believed to be honest in his opinions. He was a member of the Convention, and made the mouthpiece of the Secessionists and Conservatives. Always, in all things, taking ground against the Union men, and arguing against every measure whereby it was sought to secure the stability of Union sentiment in the State. Opposed to emancipation, he made a scriptural argument in defense of the divine right of slavery. He is used by abler and unscrupulous men, and though a kind-hearted man, who would not willingly harm a fellow creature, has been used by the old Thug directors of anti-rebellion days, to restore the reign of anarchy and assassination in the city where once they reigned supreme. The police are in the hands of the old Thugs. and noted for their hatred of the negro and of Union men.

The Post, in speaking of the pretense that the negroes began the riot, says: As for the tale of a crowd of negroes armed and marching through the streets—every-body in wolfland know that it is the sheep who are constantly in the babit of ferociously attacking the peaceable and innocent welves. It is scarely worth while to send such idle tales by telegraph. The blacks are not likely to attack anybody—not even when they are themselves first attacked, it seems, for we do not hear of any rioters being killed. We advise the colored men of New Orleans and of the South generally to defend themselves when ruffians attack them, and take life for life and limb for limb.

That is the best way for them to secure respect for themselves in a community which elects Monroe its Mayor. They are numerous enough; let them strike back once, and strike hard. The cowardly wretches who deny justice to men because they are black will leave them alone when they find that their victims know show to protect them-

THE KIDNEYS.

The kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the anterior, the interior, and the exterior.

The anterior absorbs; the interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine, and convey it to the exterior; the exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tute. and called the ureter; the ureters are connected

The bladder is composed of various overings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the upper, the lower, the nervous, and the mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability others u-rinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children

To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected Gravel and Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware that, however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these

Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky secretions.

Gout, or Rheumatism.

The Gravel.

The Gravel ensues from neglect or the improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expel-led from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and Gravel

DROPSY

Is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the part affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydro-

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated Extract of Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouy affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing wat er: Scanty secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water: Stranguary, or stopping of water; Hæmaturia, or bloody urine; Gout and Rhematism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color or dark water It was always highly recommended by the late Dr Physick in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorben's into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous depositions and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflamation, are reduced, and is

Рипландерны, Ра., Feb. 25, 1857. H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

Dear Sir :- I have been a sufferer, for upwards of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparationS, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but really good and durable Pianos Organs, Suitars

Having seen your preparations ex-tensively advertised. I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy As you advertised that it was composed of suchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an exam-ination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist. I conculuded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and arter using it three weeks, was a-ble to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you end more satisfactory to me

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system. I do not mean to be without it when ever occasion may require its use in such affections
