We will announce the names of the speakers as soon as we can ascertain with certainty who will be here.

Union Policy of Reconstruction.
Rescinded. By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled two-thirds of both Houses concurring. That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of the said Legislatures, shall be valid as a part of the Constitution, to-wit:
"Article 1. SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privilege or immunities of citizens of the United States. Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."
"Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed; but whenever the right to vote at any election for electors of President and Vice-President, or for United States Representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in that State."
"Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, elector of President and Vice-President or hold any office, civil or military under the U. S., or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House remove such disability."
"Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned; but neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void."

FROM MEXICO.—The N. Y. Herald's Vera Cruz correspondent, under date of the 13th, says: Some three hundred French troops sailed for France to-day. When Tampico was captured, all of General Mejia's division, sent to reinforce the garrison, were turned over to the Liberals in a body on the surrender. A general removal of Mexican officials is going on, and freedmen put in their places. The police department is also being reorganized. Mazatlan was still fiercely besieged by the Liberals on the 6th of July. The Liberals were very strong in the vicinity of Jalapa. Desultory and indecisive fighting continued throughout the country.

LOUISIANA UNION MEN ASK FOR PROTECTION.—A petition to Congress, signed by the Union men of Louisiana, respectfully representing that after four years of combating the armed forces of the rebels and traitors, they are not prepared or willing that these same rebels and traitors maltreat with contumely and contempt, and otherwise abuse them. The petitioners set forth at length their grievances and call for protection.

MARRIED.
At the residence of the bride's mother, in Knox township, Aug. 23d, 1866, by Rev. J. E. Kearns, Mr. SAMUEL ROBISON and Miss AGNESS SLOSS, both of Clearfield Co. Our thanks are hereby tendered to the happy couple, for the "dollar greenback" that accompanied the above notice. We wish them much joy, peace and comfort in their journey through life, and a blessed immortality hereafter.

On the 9th inst., by Rev. W. M. Burchfield, Mr. T. B. METZ and Miss LYDIA GROOM, both of Glen Hope.

On the 16th inst., by Rev. W. M. Burchfield, Mr. A. J. CUPPLES and Miss CLARA J. CALDWELL of Pike township.

On August 26th, 1866, by F. Hoppolpeter, Esq., Mr. Wm. REDECKER and Miss ROSALIA SMILEY, both of Brady tp.

D. R. M. WOODS, having decided to remove to a different location, would respectfully inform all persons having unsettled accounts with him, that he is desirous of making settlement at an early day. It will be found in his office in Clearfield until Sept. 8th, 1866.

The Philadelphia Resolutions.
The Richmond Examiner says: "Certain it is that some of the declarations made in those resolutions are what no generous man ought to have asked a Southern citizen to vote for; and what no Southern citizen could vote for, without grossly compromising the dignity of his State and outraging the sentiments of his people. It is one thing to submit—to abide a result—to covenant to do so with full purpose to keep the engagement honestly. It is another to justify and applaud the means which brought it about. How could the Convention, North or South, vote that 'the war has maintained the authority of the Constitution,' when the Convention was called together for the express purpose of endeavoring to restore the Constitution, now trampled under foot? How could Southern men thus sanction the constitutionality of the coercion of a State? How could our delegates 'unanimously and enthusiastically vote to repudiate the Confederate debt?' And especially how could they thus join in 'recognizing the services of the Federal armies, and the obligation of the robbed and penniless widows and orphans of our dear martyred, murdered heroes, to pay some debt as justly due by them to those who made them so?' Our people submit to the violence that has been put the noblest and best of our sons beneath the sod; but they will never so dishonor the graves of our heroes, as 'enthusiastically to applaud such utterances as we have referred to. The North might well adopt such declarations, and should not quarrel with them for it; but South, should be silent amid the denunciations of her cause, and the exultations over her defeat.'"

Yet the Examiner says it shall co-operate with those who formed the Philadelphia Convention. That way runs the only road that can possibly lead the rebel chiefs back to power.

"If you are opposed to taxation without representation—vote for Hester Clymer—Copperhead Organ."

This is a fair specimen of the arguments used to elect Clymer. What is meant by taxation without representation? Has any Republican offered to disfranchise a loyal man? Of course not. Clymer's friends do not make such a charge, but we do boldly and emphatically charge that Hester Clymer voted for the disfranchisement of Pennsylvania tax-payers, because they were guilty, in his opinion, of the horrible offense of shouldering muskets and marching beyond the limits of their state to peril their lives in defense of the National Union! This was Clymer's political view of taxation without representation. He voted to disfranchise the men who were battling to save their country, notwithstanding these men were all subject to taxation. Now, however, heard his friends are raving with madness, because the rebels, who for four years fought to destroy the Government, are not at once invested with the rights and franchises which they six years ago cast from them. These are some of the nice distinctions in Hester Clymer's patriotism and justice.—Telegraph.

Fighting Masked Batteries.
When Geary marched in triumph through the heart of the rebellion, one of his greatest impediments was presented in the masked batteries which he was compelled to demolish. In an open field, the rebels of the South were easily crushed. Concealed by masked batteries they managed to prolong the war. But even the masked battery was not proof against Yankee valor. In the political campaign just opened, the rebels of the North are disposed to try the plans of the rebels of the South. At York, the other day, a fire was opened on the boys in blue by Copperheads concealed behind masked batteries. But even while thus protected, it only required one charge from the boys in blue to put the skulkers to flight! Henceforth during the campaign, let the friends of Clymer be known as the masked battery skulkers!—Telegraph.
