Pittsburg Soldier's Oonvention.

Tuesday was the proudest day in the history of Pittsburg. The Soldiers' and Sailors Convention is altogether unmatched by any similar demonstration on this continent. Even on Saturday large delegations began to arrive. On Monday the concentrating arcans were enlarged. Tuesday the tide of delegations overflowed and deluged the city. So many names made historic by valorous deeds have not been drawn together since the final and formal review of the Union armies at Washington upon the close of the war. Thousands and tens of thousands of scarred and maimed veterans are here, bringing legends from all the famous battle fields on which patriots perished that the nation might live. Their purpose cannot be mistaken. It beams from their countenances; it flashes from their eyes; it is apparent in their tread; their voices give it utterance. Having saved the Union, they do not mean the just fruits of victory shall be wrenched from their hands by the treachery of the President or the cajolery of his new-found triends.

What a welcome these men have received ! Never before was there so profuse a flaunting of banners, and flags, and mottees, and devices. Our people were glad to receive the heroes, and gave expression to their delight with their whole hearts.

But-the procession. Tuesday night-what shall we say of it? It surpasses description. Almost every building was adorned and illuminated. A deluge of men and woman filled the streets, surging and swaying like the waves of the ocean. Over all rose and fell the majestic swells of martial music. mingling with the multitudinous voices of the people.

This grand display leads to one result, which is, that the people who own this government-by whose toils and sacrifices it was preserved-do not mean to surrender it at the dictation of the President. What they did once, they can do again. We be to those who shall cause them, in a last extremity, to try the issue of arms. Such an appeal is most improbable. This sublime demonstration, attesting the popular will, can not fail of being respected, both by men in power and out of power. - Pittsburg Gasette, Sept. 26th.

Small Business.

Col. W. W. H. Davis, editor of the Bucks county Democrat, referring to the recent appointment of Gen. Hartranft to a Colo neley in the regular army, urges the President to revoke it, on the ground that Gen. Hartranft opposes "my policy." Col. Davis is the man who received such a sound drubbing last fall, when he ran against Gen. Hartranft for Auditor General. His attempt to have Grant's appointment of Hartranft overruled by the President is a very small business.

TRANSIENT YOUNG MEN.-Girls, beware of transient young men; never suffer the addresses of a stranger; recollect that one steady farmer boy or mechanic is worth all the floating trash in the world. The allurements of a daudy Jack with a gold chain about his neck, a walking stick in his paw, some houest tailor's coat on his back, and a brainless skull, can never make up the loss of a father's house and a mother's counsel, and the society of brothers and sisters ; their affections last, while those of such a young man are lost in the wane of the honeymoon.

The Cleveland Copperhead Soldiers' Convention, was a wretched failure. General Gordon Granger was chosen permanent President. A letter was received from leading Confederate Soldiers, dated Memphis, Tenn., expressing their earnest sympathy with the Cleveland movement. Gen. Forrest, leader of the Fort Pillow massacre during the war, was vociferously cheered. The Convention was so thoroughly rebel, that Jeff. Davis, Gen. Lee, and all the leading traitors would have felt thoroughly at home in it.
