J. P. KRATZER, advertises the addition of a variety of articles to his stock of goods.

W. F. CLARKE, gives notice in our advertising columns that he has purchased P. A. Gaulin's tailoring establishment.

TAKE THEIR SEATS.—Samuel Clyde and Jacob Wilhelm, the newly elected Associate Judges of this county, were sworn in and entered upon the duties of their positions on Monday, the 3d instant.

ARE THE TIMES HARD?—We hear a great many people complaining of times being hard, but, judging from the way goods are going out of Mossop's store, we should say times were good—at least for him. One half of the wagons in this neighborhood appear to be hauling goods to his store, and the other half hauling them away again. Mossop is the man to sell goods cheap. Long may he wave!

A SPECIAL COURT has been in session in our borough this week. The causes that are being tried are such as Judge Linn was interested in before his elevation to the Bench. His Honor, Judge Wood, of Lewis-ton, who is presiding, has made an excellent impression both as an officer and as a man, and he will doubtless carry away with him the kindest wishes of all with whom he has come in direct intercourse.

OLON ROBINSON'S NOVEL.—Solon Robinson, the veteran Agricultural Editor, has written a novel for The New York Weekly Tribune. The publication will be commenced on the 5th December. Now is the time to subscribe for the Weekly Tribune. Terms, $2 a year in advance; 5 copies $9; 10 copies $17. Drafts on New York, or Post office orders, are preferable to any other mode of remittance. Address THE TRIBUNE, New York.

RECEIVED.—The December number of THE AMERICAN FARMER, which closes the volume for 1866, with index complete. A new volume commences with the January number for 1867, and now is a good time for those who wish a good Agricultural and Horticultural journal to subscribe. We notice that special pains are taken to secure correspondence from all parts of our country, which makes it invaluable to the agriculturist. Price only $1.00 a year. Address, John Turner, Rochester, N. Y.

FATAL SCALDING.—On Saturday evening, Dec. 1st, a little boy, aged about 3 years, son of William and Elizabeth Hoffman, of Clearfield Borough, met with a fatal accident. It appears that the little unfortunate's mother had, for a moment, stepped out of the kitchen, when the child slipped, and in falling caught hold of the tea-kettle, precipitating its boiling contents over his body, and scalding him so severely that he died on Sunday evening. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the community.

CURIOUS LETTER ADDRESS.—A letter was received at the Clearfield Postoffice, a few days since, with the following address: Mr. Newton H. Sheaffer, Philadelphia Station, Clearfield Bridge P. O., Clearfield Co., Pa. Care of Wm. Irvin, Curwensville.

It is presumed that the Postmaster in this place would be able to deliver the letter punctually to the proper person, as the inscription contains the names of three post-offices.

SALT YOUR CHIMNEYS.—In building a chimney, put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the intercourses of brick are to be laid. The effect will be that there will never be any accumulation of soot in that chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of mortar which is exposed, absorbs moisture every damp day. The soot thus becoming damp falls down the fire place. Our readers should remember or preserve this little piece of valuable information. So says an exchange.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—Thursday, Nov. 29th, Thanksgiving day, we regret to state, was not generally observed by our citizens. The stores, and most of the tradesmen's shops were kept open all day, and business transacted as usual. This, to say the least of it, indicated a want of proper respect for our rulers, if it was not an acknowledgment of ingratitude to God for the blessings which He bestowed upon us as a people. We hope that, in the future, the same thing may not occur again. Divine services, appropriate to the occasion, were had in the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches.

Pennsylvania Items.
VENANGO COUNTY.—A small frame house near the depot in Oil City was destroyed by fire on the 2d Dec. An old man, aged 100 years, a laborer aged 30, and a boy aged 11 years, were burned to death.

BUCKS COUNTY.—On Saturday, Nov. 24th, Capt. J. Wylie was shot and killed on a canal boat near Frenchtown, by a man named Devin, who had been engaged in stealing nules along the canal for some time past. A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest of Devin.

CRAWFORD COUNTY.—John P. Williams, of Greenwood township, froze to death on Friday night, Nov. 23d, on the Mercer road, about three miles from Meadville. He had been to the latter place, and among his purchases was a bottle of whiskey. He left partially intoxicated. His body was found at the forks of two roads, within hailing distance of a house, but it is probable the vile whiskey had stupefied him so much as to render him unable to give an alarm.

BRADFORD COUNTY.—John Kingsland, a respectable farmer of Sheshequin township, in a paroxysm of passion, knocked down his wife on the 20th Nov., and then stamped her on the head with his feet. The aged mother of Mrs. K. had great difficulty getting him to desist. He left the house and went to a neighbor's, where his son was at work, pulled out a revolver, and fired at him twice, happily without effect. Kingsland was arrested and committed to the Towanda jail. Mrs. Kingsland died on the 27th from the effects of the injuries inflicted by her husband.

CENTRE COUNTY.—A catamount, measuring over six feet from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail, was killed on the mountain near Stormstown, lately. . . . Samuel Blackford, Simon Haupt, and Henry Kabella, of Milesburg, killed eleven deer in the Beech Creek barrens, back of Karkhaus, about two weeks since. . . . Tobias Bickle, an old citizen of Liberty township, had his leg broken below the knee a short time since. He is recovering slowly. . . . A paper mill is to be erected at Bellefonte, soon. . . . Fifty tenant houses are to be erected in Bellefonte, next summer, by a company of capitalists.

DAUPHIN COUNTY.—A boy named Theodore Sanders was taken in charge at the depot at Harrisburg, on Nov. 20th, by officer Baugh, who conducted him to the Mayor's office. The lad states that he is from North Georgetown, Columbia county, Ohio, where he was hired by a drover named John Eash, to assist him in bringing a drove of cattle east. Upon arriving at Kutztown, Berks county, Eash got drunk and discharged the boy, giving him but ten cents. Out of money, and far from friends, the boy is endeavoring to get home, and the Mayor has taken him in charge for the purpose of making arrangements to send him westward.

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.—The Pottsville Miner's Journal says: We regret to learn that another death has taken place from the effects of the late terrible boiler explosion at Mine Hill Gap, making nine in all. On the evening of the 15th Nov., John Good, the engineer, died at his residence in Branch township. He was by birth a German, and had been eleven years in the country. He was a sober, industrious and worthy man, and respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and seven children. A babe was born about three hours before the funeral, adding to the melancholy interest attaching to a family suddenly deprived of its chief protector by a shocking accident.

CLINTON COUNTY.—The barn of Patrick Maher, on Railroad street, Look Haven, was burned to the ground, on the night of the 17th Nov. Two hogs were also consumed by the fire, and a cow badly singed. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. . . . A number of persons have recently been arrested and bound over, for taking up and effacing the marks on logs with the intent of converting them to their own use. The penalty for this offence is a severe one. . . . A series of interesting meetings have been held in the Disciples' Church, in Look Haven. Several earnest and eloquent ministers were present and were listened to by large audiences. Many additions have been made to the membership of the church.

Modest Demand of a Pardoned Rebel.
A very amusing scene occurred on Nov. 27th, in the office of Gen. Spinner, the United States Treasurer, at Washington city. Gen. Edward Johnson, who commanded a division of soldiers in the Rebel army, visited the office of Gen. Spinner and presented a claim against the United States Government for some $400. It seems this amount was due him as a Major of a regiment in the United States service, which position he deserted and entered the Rebel army at the breaking out of the war. Before leaving the service he presented his voucher to a United States paymaster for payment, and a draft for the amount was sent him; but before it reached him he had fled and entered the service of the Confederacy. Having received a pardon from the President, he now lays claim to the old balance as due him. After General Spinner heard his case he saluted Ex-General Johnson on something in this style: "I don't see how you can make such a claim as this. You deserted your Government, and ever since have been stealing every thing you could lay your hands on and robbing her of property. You now make a claim for back pay. If I understand the law, desertion makes a forfeiture of all pay and allowances due at the time, or what may hereafter become due." To this Gen. Johnson replied that Mr. Spinner was mistaken, and that he had not deserted what he did desertion or robbery; that he did what he considered right, and demanded the payment of his claim. Gen. Spinner replied a second time that he considered that he (Johnson) had been stealing from the United States Government for four years, and did not deserve the amount claimed, and that he would not pay it. Mr. Johnson left silently, but evidently chagrined and crestfallen.

At a school in Connecticut a boarder owed his landlord $20, and a receipt for $20 or over requires a two cent stamp, the man gave the boy a receipt for $19.99 and gave him back one penny, thus saving one cent. If anybody can beat that in meanness, let's hear of it.
