Superintendent's Convention.

The convention of County Superintendents which met at Harrisburg, the first week in December, seems to have been a complete success.

Some of the older members of the Convention expressed themselves highly gratified at the improvement in Superintendents over those of former times—a fact, which has a tendency to increase a greater interest among the people generally, in the common school system.

England's Lethargy.

The English government appears at present to have fallen into a dangerous condition of catatony. All Europe appears to be arming for a war.

Proceedings of Congress.

The House Military Committee, had under the consideration the question of allowing the Government to issue duplicate discharges where they have been lost or destroyed without the fault of the soldiers.

Last week Mr. Stevens introduced a bill into the House, which created quite a sensation. It proposes to undo the President's work of Rebel reconstruction in North Carolina, and reorganize that State on a sound Union basis.

A bill was introduced into the House prohibiting the present civil governments in the lately revolting States, and erecting them into temporary and territorial governments.

A bill has passed the House, fixing the time of the meeting of the Fortieth Congress at noon on the 4th of March, 1867.

The Congress of the United States passed the District of Columbia Suffrage bill by a vote of 32 to 5 in the Senate, and 118 to 45 in the House.

The House Judiciary committee have been investigating the case of Hon. C. V. Culver, member from Penn'a. The committee will likely recommend the issuing of a warrant to be placed in the hands of the Sergeant-at-arms, to bring Culver before the House.

Memorials have been presented from loyal citizens of Louisiana, asking Congress to supersede the present political organizations in Louisiana, and secure them protection in their lives, liberty, and property.

The bill, to admit Nebraska as a State, passed the Senate by a vote of 21 to 11.

Affairs in Mexico.

Late advices state that the evacuation of the large Mexican towns by the French troops is now progressing rapidly—that the seaport town of Mazatlan was left by them on Nov. 11th, when some hard fighting took place, the French losing heavily in men and officers—that the Republican government now again holds possession of all the important ports on the Pacific coast, except Tepic—that San Luis Potosi was evacuated on the 22d November and Zacatecas on the 27th—and that in no case, thus far, have the Imperialists made an attempt to hold an important town after the departure of the French.

The "Rump" Congress. The Clearfield Republican, and the Copperhead papers generally, have been in the habit of styling Congress "The Rump."

Perhaps, the late elections acted as an "eye opener" to A. J., and hence he no longer designates Congress as "a body hanging on the verge of the Government, as 'summing to be a Congress,'" and it is to be hoped, when the blind "bats" of the Copperhead press shall have become somewhat accustomed to the bright light that was shed over the land by the recent verdict of the people, they too will discover that the "Rump" is really "the Congress of the United States."

Department reports show that the alleged ingratitude of republics is a sin not yet fairly chargeable to this Government. As an example—the War Department has expended $1,144,791 for the burial of 341,670 soldiers. The Cemeteries of the brave dead are scattered through seventeen Military Departments.

Sleighting is good in this region.

Pennsylvania Items.

LYCOMING COUNTY.—Peter Antes, of Nippenose township, was so severely kicked by a horse on Dec. 3d, that he died, from the effects of the injuries received, in three or four days thereafter.

SOMERSET COUNTY.—Mrs. Catharine Troutman, widow of Benj. Troutman, is the mother, grand-mother, and great-grandmother of one hundred and fifty children, and is not yet seventy years of age.

MIFFLIN COUNTY.—A little son of David Muthersbaugh of Lewistown, had a leg broken while attempting to climb a fence at the Academy, on Dec. 5th. His feet caught between the rails and he fell backwards, causing the injury.

VENANGO COUNTY.—The Steele farm was sold on Monday, Dec. 10th, for $11,000, to satisfy the Government for the one-dollar tax per barrel on crude petroleum. The sale was made to Government officers, who bid it off to secure the United States.

MONTOUR COUNTY.—Last week, a little child of A. C. Russell, of Danville, aged fourteen months, swallowed a shawl-pin, from the effects of which it died. A child of Geo. W. Miles, aged about 20 months, accidentally swallowed a solution of concentrated lye, and died from its effects in a short time. A man named Dorman, fell off the bridge across the creek at Danville, and fractured his skull. He died a few days after the accident, from the injuries received.

ARMSTRONG COUNTY.—The remains of John Morall, a German watchmaker, a resident of Butler, and formerly a resident of Kittanning, were found a few days ago at the town of Cunningham, opposite Brady's Bend, where they had been hastily buried. The remains were turned up by laborers engaged in excavating for the railroad track. Portions of the clothing, the coat buttons and shoe buckles were gathered. The wife of Morall was sent for, who at once identified the articles as belonging to her husband. That he was murdered there is no doubt as neither money nor watches were found with him.

CENTRE COUNTY.—On Wednesday night, Dec. 5th, the store of J. I. Morris, in Milesburg, was entered by burglars and robbed of about twelve hundred dollars worth of dry goods and clothing. Mr. Morris on the same night, while in bed at his dwelling, became awake and experienced a feeling of uneasiness which he could not account for, and the fact seemed to haunt his mind that something was wrong at the store. He hastily dressed himself and proceeded thither, and before reaching the building found the door of his store open and the light still burning within. This was about 3 o'clock. Mr. Morris offers one hundred dollars reward for the detection of the party or parties and the recovery of the goods, or fifty dollars for either.

CLINTON COUNTY.—A daring burglary was committed at the Middle Ward Hotel at Lock Haven, on the night of Dec. 8th. The burglar entered the house through the sitting room window, and proceeded to the third floor where he robbed a stranger of $24. Then he went to the room of Mr. King, proprietor of the house, and took his pants from the bed and carried them to the sitting room and rifled them of $32. Next he went to the room occupied by a Mr. Shaffer from Sinnemahoning, who demanded of who was there, when the thief jerked Mr. S's pants from under the pillow and ran down stairs and into the street, where the pants were picked up, minus a pocket-book containing about $200, and a check for $200. No clue exists as to who the thief was. On the 12th, the river, at Lock Haven, was gorged with ice, from bank to bank.

Philadelphia Union League.

Of local organizations, brought into existence by the war, none at any time occupied the honorable prominence gained by this patriotic body. Its important labors and influence, in concentrating and directing public sentiment through the publication of loyal documents, by its liberal expenditures for the organization of war regiments, by the encouragement which it gave to the public men who have enjoyed the princely hospitality of its splendid house, by the prestige of the many distinguished names on its roll, the League has written a chapter in the history of the rebellion which deserves to have been written by the city which boasts possession of the Independence Hall of 1776. The League held its annual meeting on the 16th Dec., and the Secretary, the gifted American poet, George H. Boker, read the annual report, showing how much the League had done toward carrying the State at the last election. The losses by the recent fire have been repaired. Two hundred and eighty-nine members have been chosen during the year, making the aggregate list 1,970. The income of the League amounted to $85,000; expenses, $67,000. The report concludes as follows: The general prosperity of the League was never more flattering than at present.

By the last census, the population of Pennsylvania was 2,905,215. By the usual ratio of voters to the entire population we estimate the entire number. At the late election for Governor 507,370 votes were cast. Allowing one vote for every six and a half of the people, this would give 3,883,000 as our present population, an increase, say in eight years, of 976,000. By the same method New York appears to have gained 792,000, in the same period. This would give to these two States a population of eight and a half million—an increase of one million and three quarters.

THE TEST OATH.—The Copperhead papers are publishing a statement to the effect that the United States Supreme Court had decided five to four, that the test, or iron-clad oath is unconstitutional. A late Washington dispatch denies this. The story grew out of a permission asked for by two Texas Attorneys to re-argue the Constitutionality of the test oath, which was refused. No decision has been made adverse to the oath itself.

LIGHT IN THE EAST.—Such a general upheaval of effete institutions, such a leveling of prerogatives, as have been witnessed during the past five years were never dreamed of by the fiercest revolutionist or most credulous enthusiast. Representative power is everywhere rapidly superseding aristocratic privileges. Even the far East hears the voice of reform. Egypt wakes from the sleep of centuries, and a new representative government has already commenced its labors within her borders—a constitution having been granted to the people of the present Viceroy. A great novelty in the East is the idea of a representative government, but the exercise of the franchise will soon educate the people up to it. By the Constitution the interior affairs of the country and the projects of the Government will be discussed by a representative assembly. The members of that body, to the number of seventy-five, will be nominated by the Scheiks of the various villages who are themselves elected by the population. Every Egyptian, without distinction of religion, can be a deputy. The civil and military functionaries in active service are included. The number of members in the provinces will be in proportion to that of the population; Cairo will have three, Alexandria two, and Damietta one. The election will take place by ballot, and the vote declared by the prefecture in presence of the electors. The terms of the legislative mission will be three years.

Some of the prominent rebels, who have been "abroad" for some time, would be glad to return to the country that they have tried so hard to ruin. Under the Government and flag that they have so bitterly hated and cursed, they would delight to live. Some of them hover round the United States fitting from Halifax to Cuba, and from Canada to England, forth and back, afraid to alight on the soil that they have dishonored and drenched with their blood. To wander homeless and without a country is a doom that they imprecated on themselves in the madness of their disappointed ambition. In punishment, deserved and self-inflicted, to that extent, they have no sympathy in the loyal heart. The country is well rid of them.

GOOD JOKE!—The Pittsburgh Republic places at the head of its editorial column the name of Andrew Johnson, of Tenn., as its candidate for the Presidency in 1868, and devotes a column of editorial to the assignment of reasons for so doing. The Editor, of course, has an office now, but A. J. ought to give him a better one instantly.

The Lower House of the North Carolina Legislature has rejected the Constitutional Amendment by a vote of 93 to 10; and the Senate by 44 yeas to 19. By a similar overwhelming vote, Alabama has dismissed the Amendment.

$100 REWARD.—Thursday evening, Dec. 13th, a man giving his name as James Chestnut, hired a mare from the undersigned, to ride 5 miles, to Eli Bloom's, in this county, to return to morning. He started at 7 o'clock, which he failed to do. The said Chestnut is about five feet ten inches high, dark complexion, and wears heavy black whiskers, and had on a long black overcoat, black pants, and wore a cap. The mare is a dark chestnut sorrel, with white face, and one fore foot white, and 7 years old. The above reward will be paid for the return of the mare and thief; or $50 for the return of the thief. GEO. W. GEARHART.

TO DIRECTORS.—There has, perhaps, been no time since the establishment of the Common School system, when a meeting of Directors of the county was more needed than at present. It has, therefore, been considered practicable to hold a Directors' Convention, on Tuesday evening of January Court, at the office of T. J. McCullough, Esq., for the purpose of interchanging views and opinions upon educational topics. The school system has reached a crisis in this county, which occasions the meeting so effectually meet. It is hoped that all Directors attending Court, and as many others as can make it convenient, will be present. Dec. 19th, '66. G. W. SNYDER, Co. Sup't.
